PREFACE TO THE REVISED EDITION

The first American edition of this Grammar was published March 26, 1901. It was received with favor, and since that date numerous reimpressions have been made to meet the demands of the public.

The present revision has been undertaken for the purpose of introducing such changes as time and experience have suggested as likely to be useful, without however disturbing the original character of the book, or changing the paragraph numbers. The use of the phonetic symbols adopted by the Association Phonétique Internationale has been retained throughout the book, wherever needed to aid in the teaching of pronunciation. The pronunciation of all French words in the French-English portion of the Vocabulary is given by phonetic transcription based upon the Dictionnaire Phonétique of Michaelis and Passy.

The most considerable changes have been made in the Exercises I-XXXIX of Part I, which have been rewritten by Professor A. Coleman of the Romance Department of the University of Chicago, who, with great unselfishness and in a spirit of admiration for the Grammar, has coöperated with the authors and publishers in their effort to make the book more useful to teachers and students. The grammatical part of each lesson remains substantially as it was in the original edition. In the Exercises an attempt has been made, in accordance with advanced methods of teaching, to provide an abundant and varied apparatus for oral practice and for training in accuracy of pronunciation, in writing from dictation, and in composition: also a section of useful Classroom Expressions has been introduced for the convenience of both teachers and students. In fact, it is everywhere emphasized throughout the book that learning to speak the language is of prime importance. The Vocabulary of Part I has been revised; words which are not of common use have been excluded, and liberal provision has been made for drill on the uses and meanings of the words given.

Attention is called to the following important new features of Part I:

- 1. In the Lesson vocabularies and in the text of the Exercises great emphasis is laid on Verb Forms, particularly on the learning of the forms and the use of a number of common irregular verbs.
- 2. The difficult topic of Tense Usage is especially dealt with, particularly the functions of the present, the imperfect, and the past indefinite forms in past narration.
- 3. A great variety of drill work and abundant opportunity for Oral Practice, based on continuous reading passages, have been provided.
- 4. Much stress is laid on the acquisition of a Working Vocabulary: (a) by abundant repetition and review of the vocabulary in the Exercises; (b) by pointing out differences in usage between words nearly allied in meaning; (c) by the introduction of many common idioms; (d) by formal Review Exercises.

Amongst the new features to which special attention is directed are also the photographic reproductions of important buildings, parks, paintings, sculpture, etc., as well as the Map of France, the appearance of which here is due to the courtesy of the Literary Digest.

The first thirty-nine lessons of Part I contain enough grammatical material for four semesters with younger pupils beginning in the Secondary School and for two semesters with beginning classes of High School seniors or of College freshmen. As a rule the A sections are composed of passages for reading, which can also be used for dictation and oral practice, and the B sections of various types of grammar drill. These are followed by composition and translation exercises, as well as by special exercises in pronunciation and dictation.

In regard to the Exercises in Pronunciation in which phonetic transcription is employed, teachers must use their discretion. They may be omitted by those who regard them as unnecessary.

There is little doubt that it is sound pedagogy to spend enough time on the essentials of French grammar contained in these LesPREFACE sons of Part I to go through them, or most of them, twice with great care; for it is only by such repetition, with abundant illustrative exercises, that beginners can acquire that trained sense for the correct form of expression and the proper grammatical construction which is essential to a real knowledge of a foreign tongue.

In Part I, Exercises XL –LI have been retained. They have been found useful as furnishing easy reading material in French as well as drill in elementary grammar, particularly in the regular and irregular verb forms. They may, like Exercises I–XXXIX, also be used in teaching by the direct method.

Part II contains a comprehensive statement of the grammatical phenomena of the French language adapted for later study and general reference. The Exercises Ia–LXXVa in this Part have been retained with such changes and additions as seemed necessary or likely to be useful. The Exercises are of two kinds. Exercises Ia–La consist of detached English sentences for translation into French, based directly upon definite sections of the Grammar referred to in the headings and providing a thorough drill on all important points of grammar. Exercises LIa–LXXVa are pieces of continuous English prose of an easy character, to be translated into French, and are fully provided with references to the sections of the Grammar where the particular grammatical points are dealt with. The French Reader has been dropped from the present edition. A complete Index has been provided at the end of the book.

By virtue of a decree of the French Minister of Public Instruction, dated February 26, 1901, certain deviations from commonly accepted rules of grammar were permitted as optional at all official examinations. In the Appendix, on the last page, will be found a reference list explaining the bearing of these deviations upon the various sections of the grammar affected thereby. As a matter of fact, it does not appear that careful users of the language, outside examination halls in France, have availed themselves to any extent of these permissions, and hence for English-speaking students they may be regarded as practically non-existent.

It will readily be seen that the aim has been to furnish students with a manual on French grammar so comprehensive in its theoretical treatment and so varied and abundant in the exercises vi PREFACE offered, that it will be useful to all, whether in the elementary or advanced stages of the study of modern or classical French.

Special acknowledgements for suggestions regarding various parts of the book are due to Professor J. Home Cameron of the University of Toronto and to Professor G. D. Morris of Indiana University. The manuscript of the new Exercises to Part I was read by Messrs. Antony Constans and James Kessler of the University of Chicago, by Miss Edna C. Dunlap of Parker High School, Chicago, and by Professor E. C. Hills of Indiana University. To Professor Hills are due particularly thanks for excellent suggestions in regard to the order of the material. The authors are indebted also to Professor H. C. Lancaster of Johns Hopkins University and to Professor D. H. Carnahan of the University of Illinois for reading the proofs of Part I: to the Publishers for their liberal policy which made available all this invaluable assistance; and to Dr. Alexander Green of the Editorial Office, whose zealous efforts have contributed toward rendering the volume more accurate in contents and more attractive in appearance.

A FRENCH GRAMMAR

PHONETIC INTRODUCTION

- 1. General Distinctions. The pronunciation will be explained, as far as possible, by comparison with English sounds, but it must never be forgotten that the sounds of two languages rarely correspond. Important general distinctions between English and French are the following:
- 1. English has strong stress (§ 7) and comparatively weak action of the organs in articulation.
- 2. French has weak stress, while the action of the organs in articulation is very energetic.
- 3. Hence, French sounds, both vowels and consonants, are almost all 'narrow,' i.e., uttered with tenseness of the organs concerned in their articulation. (To understand 'narrow' and 'wide,' compare the narrow sound of i in 'machine' with its wide sound in 'sit.')
- 4. Tongue and lip positions for French vowels are more definite, and more promptly taken, than in English. Lip-rounding (as in 'who,' 'no,' 'law') and lip-retraction (as in 'let,' 'hat') are much more definite and energetic in forming French vowels.
- 5. The tongue, both for vowels and consonants, is, in general, either further advanced or further retracted than in forming English sounds requiring tongue action.
- 6. English long vowels (like a in 'lady') shade off into other vowels (especially in the South of England), while all French vowels are free from this off-glide, and are uniform throughout their utterance.
- 7. The nasal vowels of French are foreign to standard English. They are formed by allowing the soft palate to hang freely, as in ordinary breathing, thus causing the air to escape through both nose and mouth at once. If, for example, the a of 'father' be uttered with the soft palate hanging freely, the resulting sound will be approximately that of the nasal [6] in tante [tā:t]. The position of the soft palate in forming this sound may be readily observed with a mirror. It must be carefully noted that there is absolutely no sound of n, m, or ng, in French nasal vowels, and hence that great care must be taken neither to raise the tongue nor close the lips until the sound is complete.

- 2. Sounds. The French language has thirty-seven sounds, exclusive of minor distinctions. French spelling, like that of English, is irregular and inconsistent. Hence, to avoid confusion in indicating the pronunciation, we shall employ a phonetic alphabet (that of the Association Phonetique Internationale), in which each sound is represented by its own symbol, and each symbol has but one sound.
- 3. Table of Symbols. In the following table, the examples are in ordinary orthography, the heavy type indicates the sounds which correspond to the symbols, and the phonetic transcription is given within brackets:

4. The Alphabet. The letters of the alphabet, with their French names, are as follows:

а	a [a]	j	ji [3i]	s	esse [ɛs]
b	bé [be]	k	ka [ka]	t	té [te]
C	cé [se]	1	elle [εl]	u	u [y]

g	gé [3e]	p	pé [pe]	У	i grec [i grek]
h	ache [as]	q	ku [ky]	Z	zède [zɛd]
i	i [i]	- T	erre [Er]

Note. — These names are often all treated as masculines (un a, un h, etc.), but some treat f, h, l, m, n, r, s, as feminines (une h, une r, etc.).

- 5. Other Orthographic Signs. In addition to the letters of the alphabet, the following signs are used:
- 1. The acute accent 'Fr. accent aigu [aksūtegy], e.g., l'été, l'Écosse. Note. The word 'accent' does not denote stress; see § 7.
- 2. The grave accent `Fr. accent grave [aks@gra:v], e.g., voilà, père, où.
- 3. The circumflex accent ^ Fr. accent circonflexe [aksūsirk5fleks], e.g., âne, tête, île, hôte, flûte.
- 4. The cedilla , Fr. cédille [sedi:j], used under c to give it the sound of [s], before a, o, u (§ 17, 13), e.g., façade, leçon, commençait.
- 5. The diæresis "Fr. tréma [trema], shows that the vowel bearing it is divided in pronunciation from the preceding vowel, e.g., Noël, naïf.
- 6. The apostrophe 'Fr. apostrophe [apostrof], shows omission of final vowel before initial vowel sound, e.g., l'amie (= la amie), l'ami (= le ami), l'homme (= le homme), s'il (= si il), § 19.
 - 7. The hyphen Fr. trait d'union [tredynj5], used as in English.

6. Syllabication.

1. A single consonant sound between vowel sounds, including the four nasalized vowels, always belongs to the following syllable.

Ex.: Ma-rie, in-di-vi-si-bi-li-té, bon-té, con-scien-cieu-s(e)-ment.

2. When the second of two consonant sounds is 1 or r, both usually belong to the following syllable, except lr, rl and a few more.

Ex.: ta-bleau, é-cri-vain, ap-pli-quer.

3. Other combinations of consonants representing two or more sounds are divided.

Ex.: par-ler, per-dre, es-ca-lier, sep-tem-bre.

N.B. — Great care should be taken to avoid the consonantal ending of syllables, so frequent in English. Compare French ci-té, ta-bleau, with English 'cit-y,' 'tab-leau.'

Parallel rules hold in script and print where division occurs.

7. Stress.

'Stress' is the force with which a syllable is uttered as compared with other syllables in the same group. In French, the syllables are uttered with almost equal force, a very slight stress falling on the last syllable of a word of two or more syllables, or, on the last but one, if the last vowel of the word is [ə].

Ex.: Che-val, par-ler, par-lai, per-dre, cré-di-bi-li-té (compare the strong stress of English 'cred-i-bil-it-y').

Note. — In connected discourse the rule above stated varies considerably, but a full treatment of the subject would exceed the limits of an elementary work. The safest practice for the beginner is to pronounce all syllables with almost equal force. All vowels except [3], see § 19, whether stressed or unstressed, are carefully sounded and not slurred over as in English.

8. Vowel Quantity. The most important general rules are:

1. Final vowel sounds (including nasals) are usually short, e.g., fini [fini], vie [vi], loue [lu], parlé [parle], rideau [rido], mais [mɛ], donner [done], enfant [āfā], parlerons [parl(3)r5].

2. Stressed vowels are long before the sounds [v], [z], [ʒ], [j], [r final], e.g., rive [ri:v], ruse [ry:z], rouge [ru:5], feuille [fæ:j], faire [fe:r].

3. Of stressed vowels standing before other consonant sounds, nasals are long, e.g., prince [prɛ̃:s]; [o], [ø], long, e.g., faute [fo:t], meule [mơ:t]; [a], long (almost always), e.g., passe [pɑ:s]; [ɛ], long or short, e.g., reine [rɛ:n], renne [rɛn]; other vowels regularly short, e.g., cap [kap], poche [pɔʃ], coupe [kup], pipe [pip], seul [sœl], lune [lyn].

Note. — It is possible to distinguish also between 'long' and 'half long' vowels, but it has been thought best to omit, in an elementary work, the rules relating to this distinction, and to indicate only 'long' vowels in the transcriptions.

VOWELS

9. Tongue Position. The relative position of the tongue for the various vowels may be seen from the following diagram. Rounded vowels are enclosed in parentheses:

N.B. — In the following descriptions of sounds, the word 'like' means, of course, only 'resembling,' or 'approximately like' (§ 1). The examples given after the word 'also' show the less common orthographical equivalents.

10. i, y

1. i — Like i in 'machine'; the corners of the mouth are slightly drawn back (§ 1, 4); avoid the sound of i in 'sit'; avoid 'off-glide' (§ 1, 6); narrow (§ 1, 3).

Ex.: ni [ni], vive [vi:v]; also, île [i:l], lyre [li:r].

2. y—Has no counterpart in English. The tongue position is practically the same as for [i] above; very tense lip-rounding (§ 1, 4); narrow (§ 1, 3). The sound may be best acquired either by prolonging [i], and at the same time effecting the rounding, or by holding the lips rounded and taking the tongue position of [i].

Ex.: pu [py], muse [my:z]; also fût [fy], il eut [il y], nous eûmes [nuzym], j'ai eu [ze y].

11. e, ø, ə

1. e — Like the first part of the sound of a in 'day,' but with the lips more retracted (§ 1, 4); avoid 'off-glide' (§ 1, 6); narrow (§ 1, 3).

Ex.: été [ete]; also, parler [parle], donnai [done].

2. ø— Has no counterpart in English. The tongue position is practically the same as for [e], with rounding of the lips for o (§ 1, 4); narrow (§ 1, 3); best acquired by combining, as explained for [y] above, the lip-rounding with the [e] position.

Ex.: creux [krø], creuse [krø:z]; also, bœufs [bø], yeux [jø].

3. a — Like English e in 'the man,' or a in 'Louisa,' but slightly rounded; best acquired by relaxing the tension of the organs required for the production of the [ø] sound.

Ex.: le [lə], premier [prəmje]; also, monsieur [məsjø], faisant [fəzā].

12. ε , $\tilde{\varepsilon}$, ε , $\tilde{\varepsilon}$

1. ε — Like the sound of e in 'let,' with the mouth more definitely open and the lips more retracted (§ 1, 4); narrow (§ 1, 3).

Ex.: près [prɛ], père [pɛ:r]; also, fête [fɛ:t], terre [tɛ:r], secret [səkrɛ], parlais [parlɛ], paix [pɛ], reine [rɛ:n].

Note. — The e of a stressed syllable followed by a syllable containing e mute has almost always this sound (orthographically denoted by è, ê, or e + double consonant), e.g., je mène [mɛn], tête [tɛ:t], chère [ʃɛ:r], j'appelle [apɛl], ancienne [āsjɛn]. This principle accounts for the apparent irregularities of certain verbs and adjectives.

2. $\tilde{\epsilon}$ — The $[\epsilon]$ sound nasalized (§ 1, 7), but slightly more open.

Ex.: fin [fɛ], prince [prɛ̄:s]; also, faim [fɛ̄], sainte [sɛ̄:t], Reims [rɛ̄:s], plein [plɛ̄], simple [sɛ̄:pl], symbole [sɛ̄bol], syntaxe [sɛ̄taks], viendrai [vjē̄dre], soin [swɛ̄].

3. α — Has no counterpart in English. It has practically the tongue position of $[\epsilon]$, combined with definite rounding of the lips for $[\delta]$; narrow (§ 1, 3); best acquired by combining, with the $[\epsilon]$ position, the rounding described.

Ex.: neuf [nœf], neuve [nœ:v]; also, cœur [kæ:r], œil [œ:j], orgueil [ərgœ:j].

4. $\tilde{\mathbf{e}}$ — The [α] sound nasalized (§ 1, 7), but slightly more open. Ex.: un [$\tilde{\alpha}$], humble [$\tilde{\alpha}$:bl]; also, à jeun [$a_5\tilde{\alpha}$], parfum [parf $\tilde{\alpha}$].

13. a, a, ã olum 14

1. a — This sound is similar to but requires wider mouth opening than a of 'pat,' and lowering of the tongue, though with the point still ouching the lower teeth; narrow (§ 1, 3). It is generally short, sembling English 'madam.'

Ex.: patte [pat], part [pa:r]; also, là [la], femme [fam], moi [mwa], boîte [bwa:t]; and, by exception, parlâmes [parlam], parlâtes [parlat], parlât [parla].

2. a — Like a in 'father'; the mouth well open, the tongue lying flat, and so far retracted that it no longer touches the lower teeth; lips absolutely neutral, i.e., neither rounded nor retracted; avoid especially rounding, as of a in 'fall.'

Ex.: pas [pα], passe [pα:s]; also, pâte [pα:t], roi [rwa], poêle [pwa:l].

3. ā — The [a] sound nasalized (§ 1, 7). (Written an, am, en, em.)

Ex.: tant [tā], tante [tā:t]; also, lampe [lā:p], enfant [ā:fā], entre [ā:tr], membre [mā:br].

14. o, 5, o

1. 5 — Like the vowel in 'law,' but with definite bell-like rounding (§ 1, 4), avoid 'off-glide' to u (§ 1, 6); narrow (§ 1, 3).

Ex.: note [not], tort [to:r]; also Paul [pol], album [albom].

2. 5 — The [5] sound nasalized (§ 1, 7), but slightly more close.

Ex.: rond [rɔ̃], ronde [rɔ̃:d]; also tomber [tɔ̃be], comte [kɔ̃:t].

3. o — Like o in 'omen,' but with more protrusion and much tenser rounding of the lips (§ 1, 4); avoid 'off-glide' to u (§ 1, 6); narrow (§ 1, 3).

Ex.: sot [so], chose [so:z], fosse [fo:s]; also, côté [kote], côte [ko:t], faute [fo:t], beauté [bo:te].

15. u

1. u — Like oo in 'pool' but with more protrusion and much tenser rounding of the lips (§ 1, 4); avoid 'off-glide' to w (§ 1, 6); narrow (§ 1, 3).

Ex.: tout [tu], tour [tu:r]; also, goût [gu], août [u].

Consonants

16. j, q, w

When the sounds [i], [y], [u], § 10 and § 15, come before a vowel of stronger stress, they are pronounced with the tongue slightly closer to the palate, and hence assume a consonantal value, indicated by [j], [u], [w], respectively. They are sometimes called semi-vowels.

1. j - Like very brief and narrow y in 'yes.'

Ex.: viande [vjō:d]; also, yeux [jø], aïeul [ajœl], fille [fi:j], travailler [travaje], travail [travaj], the last three being examples of l mouillée.

2. q — Has no counterpart in English, but is similar to a w pronounced with the tongue pressed close to the lower teeth; may also be acquired by at first substituting [y] for it, and afterward increasing the speed of the utterance and the elevation of the tongue until it can be pronounced in the same syllable with the vowel which always follows.

Ex.: lui [lqi], huit [qit]; also, nuage [nqa:5], écuelle [ekqɛl].

3. w — Like very brief and narrow w in 'we,' 'west.' It is best, however, to proceed from the sound of [u] in the manner described for [q] above.

Ex.: oui [wi]; also, poids [pwa], tramway [tramwe].

- 17. The remaining consonantal sounds can be sufficiently described by noting the differences between their mode of formation and that of the nearest English sounds (see § 1).
 - 1. b Like b in 'barb.'

Ex.: beau [bo], robe [rob], abbé [abe].

2. d—Like d in 'did,' but with the tongue so far advanced that its point, or upper surface, forms a closure with the inner surface of the upper teeth and gums; or the point of the tongue may be thrust against the lower teeth, the upper surface forming a closure with the upper teeth and gums. It must be remembered that in forming English d (also l, n, r, s, t, z) the tongue touches at some little distance above the teeth (§ 1, 5).

Ex.: dame [dam], fade [fad], addition [adisj5].

3. f - Like f in 'fat.'

Ex.: fort [fo:r], neuf [nœf], difficile [difisil].

4. g — Like g in 'go.'

Ex.: gant [ga], dogue [dog], guerre [ge:r]; also, second [sog5].

5. h — In orthography the letter h is known as 'h mute' (Fr. h muet or h muette), or 'h aspirate' (Fr. h aspiré or h aspirée), according as it does, or does not, cause elision (§ 19). The learner may regard it, in either case, as absolutely silent.

Ex.: h mute in l'homme [lɔm], l'histoire [listwa:r], l'héroïne [lerɔin]; h aspirate in le héros [lə ero], le hêtre [lə ε:tr], la haine [la ε:n], la hâte [la α:t], je hais [ʒə ε].

In hiatus, however, a sound resembling, but much weaker than h in 'hat,' is permissible, and is actually used by many Frenchmen.

Ex.: aha! [aha], le héros [le hero], fléau [fleho].

6. k — Like k in 'take'; avoid the slight aspiration which generally follows the English sound.

Ex.: car [kar], roc [rɔk], accorder [akərde]; also, chrétien [kretjē], cinq [sē:k], bouquet [bukɛ], acquérir [akeri:r], kilo [kilo], maxime [maksim].

7. 1 — Like 1 in 'law,' but with the tongue advanced as for [d] above.

Ex.: long [15], seul [sœl], aller [ale], mille [mil], village [vila:5]. For soft \boldsymbol{l} see § 16, 1.

8. m - Like m in 'man,' 'dumb.'

Ex.: mot [mo], dame [dam], homme [om].

9. n — Like n in 'not,' 'man,' but with the tongue advanced as for [d] above.

Ex.: ni [ni], âne [a:n], donner [done].

10. n — Somewhat like ny in 'ban-yan,' except that [n] is a single, not a double, sound, and is formed by pressing the middle of the tongue against the hard palate, the tip being usually thrust against the lower teeth.

Ex.: agneau [ano], digne [din].

11. p — Like p in 'pan,' 'top'; avoid the slight aspiration which generally follows the English sound.

Ex.: pas [pa], tape [tap], appliquer [aplike].

12. r—Has no English counterpart. It is formed by trilling the tip of the tongue against the upper gums, or even against the upper teeth. This r is called in French r linguale. The tongue must, of course, be well advanced towards the teeth, and not retracted and turned upward, as in our r sound (§ 1, 5). The sound may be advantageously practised at first in combination with d, e.g., 'dry,' 'drip,' 'drop,' 'drum' (as in Scotch or Irish dialect), and afterwards in combinations in which it is less easily pronounced.

Ex.: drap [dra], par [par], torrent [təra], rond [r5].

Note. — Another r sound (called in French r uvulaire), used especially in Paris and in the large cities and towns, is formed by withdrawing and elevating the root of the tongue so as to cause a trilling of the uvula. This r is usually more difficult for English-speaking people to acquire.

13. s — Like s in 'sea,' 'cease,' but with the tongue advanced as for [d] above.

Ex.: si [si], pense [pū:s], casser [kɑ:se]; also scène [sɛ:n], place [plas], façade [fasad], leçon [ləs5], reçu [rəsy], commençait [kəmūsɛ], commençons [kəmūs5], reçumes [rəsym], portion [pərsj5], soixante [swasū:t].

14. \S — Like sh in 'shoe,' but with the tongue more advanced (\S 1, 5).

Ex.: chou [su], lâche [la:s], also, schisme [sism].

15. t — Like t in 'tall,' but with the tongue advanced as for [d] above; avoid the slight aspiration which generally follows the English sound.

Ex.: tas [ta], patte [pat].

16. v — Like v in 'vine,' 'cave.'

Ex.: vin [$v\bar{\epsilon}$], cave [ka:v]; also, wagon [vag5], neuf heures [neve:r].

17. z — Like z in 'zone,' or s in 'rose,' but with the tongue advanced as for [d] above.

Ex.: zone [zo:n], rose [ro:z]; also, deux heures [døzæ:r], exact [egzakt].

18. 3—Like z in 'azure' or s in 'pleasure,' but with the tongue more advanced (§ 1, 5).

Ex.: je [30], rouge [ru:5]; also mangeant [mã3ã], Jean [3ã].

- 19. A doubled consonant has usually the same sound as a single consonant, e.g., aller [ale], ville [vil], tranquille [trākil], donner [dəne], terre [te:r]. Exceptions are, however:
- (1) The liquid 1, Fr. l mouillée [muje], i.e., double 1 after i [j] (§ 16, 1), e.g., fille [fi:j], billet [bijɛ], bataille [bata:j], veiller [veje], feuille [foe:j].
- N.B. Note also that liquid 1 may be spelled -ail, etc., e.g., travail [trava:j], soleil [sole:j], etc.
- (2) The verb forms acquerrai [akerre], courrai [kurre], mourrai [murre].
- (3) The doubled consonant in such words as illégal, intellectuel, intelligence, littérature, connexe, immoral, etc., is pronounced double, i.e., given double its usual length, by many people. But foreigners beginning French may neglect this manner, regarded by many as an affectation.
- 18. Liaison. Final consonants are usually silent, but in oral speech, within a group of words closely connected logically, a final consonant (whether usually sounded or not) is regularly sounded, and forms a syllable with the initial vowel sound of the next word. This is called in French liaison [ljez5] = linking, joining.

Ex.: C'est_un petit_homme [se-tœ-pə-ti-təm].

- 1. A few of the consonants change their sound in liaison, thus, final s or x=z, d=t, g=k, f=v, e.g., nos_amis [no-za-mi], quand_on parle [kā-t5-parl]; the t of et is silent; for examples see Exercise in Phonetic Transcription.
- 2. The n of a nasal is carried on, and the nasal vowel loses its nasality in part, or even wholly, e.g., un bon_ami [$\tilde{\infty}$ -b5-na-mi, or $\tilde{\infty}$ -bə-na-mi].
- 19. Elision. The letters a, e, i, are entirely silent in certain cases:
- 1. The a and e are silent and replaced by apostrophe in le, la, je, me, te, se, de, ne, que (and some of its compounds) before initial vowel or h mute (not, however, je, ce, le, la after a verb); so also i of si before il(s).

Ex.: L'arbre (= le arbre), l'encre (= la encre), j'ai (= je ai), qu'a-t-il (= que a-t-il), jusqu'à (= jusque à), s'il (= si il).

2. In prose the letter e is silent at the end of all words (except when e is itself the only vowel in the word), silent in the verbal endings -es, -ent, silent within words after a vowel sound, and in the combination ge or je [3]. In verbs which have stem g [5], g becomes ge [5] before a or o of an ending, to preserve the [3] sound.

Ex.: rue [ry], donnée [done], rare [ra:r], place [plas], ai-je [s:5], table [tabl], sabre [sa:br], prendre [prā:dr], tu parles [ty parl], ils parlent [il parl], gaieté [gete], mangeons [mã55], Jean [5ā].

Note. — In ordinary discourse, this sound is usually slighted or wholly omitted in most cases in which consonantal combinations produced by its weakening or clision can be readily pronounced, but beginners will do well to sound it fully, except in the cases above specified. The treatment of the [a] in verse is beyond the scope of this work.

- 20. Punctuation. The same punctuation marks are used in French as in English, but not with identical values.
 - 1. Their French names are:
- point trait d'union crochets virgule tiret, or tiret de accolade point et virgule séparation : deux points points suspensifs ? point d'interrogation guillemets croix de renvoi point d'exclamation () parenthèse
- 2. They are not used exactly as in English, especially the colon and the dash, the latter being very useful in showing a change of speaker in dialogue.

Ex.: « Qui est là? dis-je. — Personne. — Quoi! personne! — Personne, dit-il. »

21. Capitals. Some of the differences between French and English in the use of capital letters (Fr. lettres majuscules, capitales) may be seen from the following examples:

Un livre canadien écrit en français par un Canadien. Teronto, le lundi 3 janvier. Je lui ai dit ce que je pensais.

PART I

LESSON I

22. Definite Article. 1. The definite article has the following forms in the singular:

le [la], before a masculine noun beginning with a consonant, The = { la [la], before a feminine noun beginning with a consonant. 1' [1], before any noun beginning with a vowel or h mute.

Le père, la mère. L'enfant (m. or f.), l'homme.

The father, the mother. The child, the man.

2. The definite article must be repeated before each noun to which it refers:

L'oncle et la tante.

The uncle and (the) aunt.

23. Gender. 1. All French nouns are either masculine or feminine:

Le papier (m.), la plume (f.). The paper, the pen.

- 2. Names of male beings are masculine, and names of female beings feminine, as in English:
- 24. Case. French nouns have no case endings. The direct object (accusative) is expressed by verb + noun; the indirect object (dative) by the proposition à + noun; the possessive (genitive) by de + noun, and these prepositions must be repeated before each noun to which they refer:

La mère aime l'enfant. l'ai la plume de Robert. The mother loves the child.

I have Robert's pen (the pen of Robert).

Je donne l'argent à Marie et à I give the money to Mary and (to) John. Iean.

17

25. Agreements. French has the following agreements, and they are usually expressed by change of form: (1) Verb and subject, in number and person; (2) adjective and noun, in gender and number; (3) pronoun and antecedent, in gender and number.

Pronounce bleu [blø], feu [fo], peu [pø]. How does position for this sound differ from that for words like le [lə], de [də] (see § 11, 3), professeur [professeur] (see § 12, 3)? - B. (1) Use four possessive adjectives with each of the following nouns: crayon, plume, enfant, frère, sœur, oncle.
- (2) In what two ways may each of the following possessives be translated: sa mère, son enfant, sa tante, son frère?
- (3) What is, therefore, the difference between the agreement of the possessive adjective in French and in English as indicated by combinations like: 1. Marie a son crayon. 2. Robert a sa plume. 3. Louise a son papier. 4. Jean est-il devant sa table?

- (1) Pronounce suis [sqi], being careful to project the lips tensely and hold the tongue tip well forward as for [y] and [i] (see § 16, 2). It is well to pronounce in succession [y-i], [y-i], and then try to combine them in one sound. This sound is not like that of oui [wi] (see § 16, 3), in which the lips and tongue are less tensely advanced. Practise with nuit [nqi], huit [qit], lui [lqi]. Contrast the sound of Louis [lwi] with that of lui [lqi].
- (2) Pronounce: sœur [sœ:r] (see § 12, 3), classe [klɑ:s] (see § 13, 2), maintenant [mētnā] (see § 12, 2). Note the difference in the sound value of the letter a in la, voilà, papier, mademoiselle, argent, allez, place, and in classe, pas.
- (3) What new way of spelling the sound [o] is there in this vocabulary? What sound has the spelling -ain in maintenant? -ien in bien? -ier final in papier, cahier? What new way of spelling the sound [e] have we in this vocabulary? We have had now three ways of spelling this sound: find an example of each.

LESSON IV

30. Some Pronoun Objects. Him or it = le (m.), and her or it = la (f.) both becoming l' before a vowel or h mute (§ 19, 1). They come next before the verb, or before voici and voilà:

Où est la plume? Je l'ai. Où est le livre? Le voici. Où est Marie? La voilà. Where is the pen? I have it. Where is the book? Here it is. Where is Mary? There she is.

Note. — Voici and Voilà are derived from vois = see + ici = here and vois = see + la = there (literally, see here, see there), and, owing to their verbal force, govern words directly like transitive verbs.

EXERCISE IN PRONUNCIATION

(1) Pronounce after the teacher: @peir, @freir, @nom, @nőikl, sőpeir, sőfreir, sőnőikl; samező, sőnekol; ləpeir, lameir, lezűfű; latűit, ləfreir, lezőikl; ləmaté, ləswair, lezapremidi; zetydi melső, zəlezetydi; zekri, zəlezekri; zədonvoliivr arəbeir, zəledən arəbeir.

Observe the elision of the [ə] in the pronunciation of mes leçons [melsɔ̃]. The sound [ə], which is called often "mute e," disappears when the preceding syllable ends in a vowel sound followed by a single consonant sound, as in: les leçons [lelsɔ̃], ses lecons [selsɔ̃].

(2) In how many different ways are un, son, les pronounced? What decides this? What name do we give to the joining of words as in mezafa, 3əlezekri, sənəkl? Do we say @nekol or vnekol?

(3) Write phonetically and pronounce: le doigt, les doigts; l'ami, les amis; mon amie, mes amies. Do these nouns change in sound in the plural, or only in spelling?

(4) Pronounce: œdwa, œnəm; dømē, døzāfā; trwaplas, trwazekəl; katrəkrejā, katrami; sēlsā, sēkami; sifreir, siizāfā; semezā, setəm; qikaje, qitapremidi; næmərso, nævami; diswair, diizāfā.

In how many ways is each numeral pronounced? On what does the change depend?

(5) Write phonetically and read aloud: un doigt, deux doigts, etc., up to 10: un enfant, deux enfants, etc., to 10.

- (6) Write phonetically the answers to: 1. Combien de doigts avez-vous? 2. Combien de tantes avez-vous? 3. Combien de professeurs de français avez-vous? 4. Combien de crayons avez-vous à l'école? 5. LESSON VI

2 Negative

33. Present Indicative of avoir, to have

100				= 2108	20110
I have, etc.		etc.	I have not, etc.
j'	ai	[3e]		je n'ai pas	[zənepa]
tu	as	[tya]		tu n'as pas	[tynapa]
il	а	[ila]		il n'a pas	[ilnapa]
ous	avons	[nuzavõ]		nous n'avons pas	[nunavɔ̃pa]
ous	avez	[vuzave]		vous n'avez pas	[vunavepa]
ils	ont	[ilz5]		ils n'ont pas	[iln5pa]

34. Pronouns in Address. You is regularly vous; the form tu = thou or you is used in familiar address:

Avez-vous ma plume, monsieur? Have you my pen, sir?
As-tu ta plume, mon enfant? Have you your pen, my child?

N.B. — Translate you by vous in the exercises, unless the use of tu is required by the context.

35. Contractions. De + le and de + les are always contracted into du and des; the remaining forms are not contracted, thus, de la, de l' in full:

La plume du [dy] frère. Les plumes des [de] sœurs. But: La plume de l'élève.

The brother's pen. The sisters' pens. The pupil's pen.

36. The Partitive Noun and Pronoun. 1. Some or any, whether expressed or implied before a noun in English, is regularly expressed in French by de + the definite article:

Avez-vous de la craie?

A-t-elle du pain? J'ai de l'encre. A-t-il des frères? Have you (some) chalk (lit., 'of the chalk')? Has she (any) bread? I have (some) ink. Has he (any) brothers?

2. In a general negation the partitive is expressed by de alone:

Il n'a pas de pain. Il n'a pas d'amis. He has no bread. He has no friends.

3. Some or any as a pronoun = en, which must be expressed in French, even when omitted in English (cf. § 80):

A-t-il de l'encre? — Il en a.

Has he (any) ink?—He has (some).

A-t-il une plume? — Il en a une. Has he a pen? — He has one.

N.B. — En, like the other partitive expressions, is often equal to English of it, of them, especially when the object of the verb is a numeral not followed by its noun.

A-t-il une plume? — Il en a une.
Combien de lettres écrivez-vous?—
J'en écris quatre aujourd'hui.

Has he a pen? — He has one.

How many letters do you write? — I am writing four (of them) to-day.

4. The position of the pronoun en in the sentence is different from the usage of English: en always comes directly before the verb, except in one instance (cf. § 113):

Avez-vous des crayons? Oui, monsieur, j'en ai. Have you (any) pencils? Yes, sir, I have some.

LESSON X

- 45. Plural Forms. Note the following exceptions to the rule (§ 31) that the plural of nouns and adjectives is formed by adding -s to the singular:
- 1. Nouns in -s, -x, -z, and adjectives in -s, -x, remain unchanged in the plural, e.g., bras, bras, arm(s); voix, voix, voice(s); nez, nez, nose(s); bas, bas, low; vieux, vieux, old.
- 2. Nouns and adjectives in -au, nouns in -eu, and a few nouns in -ou, add -x instead of -s, e.g., couteau, couteaux, knife, knires; beau, beaux, fine; jeu, jeux, game(s); bijou, bijoux, jewel(s); caillou, cailloux, pebble(s), and a few rarer nouns in -ou.
- 3. Nouns, and the commoner adjectives, in -al change -al to -au and add -x (as above), e.g., général, généraux, general(s); rival, rivaux, rival(s), except bal, bals, ball(s), and a few rarer nouns.
 - 4. Œil, yeux, eye(s); ciel, cieux, sky, skies, heaven(s).
- 46. Contractions. The forms $\hat{a} + le$ and $\hat{a} + le$ are always contracted into au and aux respectively; the remaining forms are not contracted, thus, \hat{a} la, \hat{a} l' in full:

Je parle au [o] frère.

Aux [o] sœurs, aux [oz] hommes.

To the sisters, to the men

But: Je parle à la sœur, à l'homme.

47. Use of il y a [ilja]. 1. There is and there are are not only translated by voilà, but also by il y a:

Voilà des plumes sur la table. There are some pens on the table. There are some pens on the table.

2. Observe, however, that voilà answers the question 'where is?' 'where are?' and makes a specific statement about an object to which attention is directed by pointing or the like, while il y a does not answer the question 'where is?' 'where are?' but makes a general statement. Voilà is stressed, il y a is unstressed, just as in English there is (are) is usually stressed or unstressed according as it points out or merely makes a general statement.

3. Il y a governs nouns just as other transitive verbs do:

Je donne des plumes à Marie. Il y a des plumes sur la table. I give (some) pens to Mary. There are (some) pens on the table.

LESSON XV

62.	Pas	st Participles
donner	finir	vendre	avoir	être
given	finished	sold	had	been
donné [done]	fini [fini]	vendu [vādy]	eu [y]	été [ete]

63. Compound Tenses. They are formed from the past participle along with an auxiliary (usually avoir, sometimes être, see § 155), as in the following section.

64. The Past Indefinite

I have given, or	I have finished, or	I have sold, or
I gave, etc.	I finished, etc.	I sold, etc.
j'ai donné [zedone]	j'ai fini [ʒefini]	j'ai vendu [zevādy]
tu as donné [tyadone]	tu as fini [tyafini]	tu as vendu [tyavādy]
etc.	etc.	etc.

I have had, or I had, etc.

j'ai eu [zey]

tu as eu [tyazy]

il a eu [ilay]

etc.

I have been, or I was, etc.

j'ai été [zeete]

tu as été [tyazete]

il a été [ilaete]

etc.

65. Word Order. The auxiliary is the verb in a compound tense, and all rules of word order apply to it:

Nous ne l'avons pas fini. We have not finished it. N'a-t-elle pas été ici? Has she not been here?

66. Use of Past Indefinite. It denotes not only what has happened or has been happening, as in English, but also what happened (= English past tense):

J'ai fini mon ouvrage. Elle a chanté toute la matinée. Il a été longtemps ici. J'ai quitté Paris l'hiver passé. I have finished my work. She has been singing all morning. He was here for a long time. I left Paris last winter.

N.B. — The past indefinite is the ordinary past tense of French. For the past tense of narrative in the literary style, see § 148.

67. Idiomatic Present Indicative. Besides its use in general, as in English, the present indicative is used idiomatically, in certain phrases, to denote what has been and still continues to be:

Depuis quand êtes-vous ici? Je suis ici depuis trois jours. How long have you been here? I have been here for three days (or for three days past, or for the last three days).

- (2) Is the word eu pronounced as you would expect? Note that this spelling combination is pronounced thus only in forms of avoir. What two other sounds does it stand for? Is there any way of knowing which sound value it should have in a given word? Compare Lesson XIV, Exercise in Pronunciation, (5), b.

LESSON XVI

68. Comparatives. Place plus = more, moins = less, or aussi = as, before the adjective, and que = than or as after it, to form the comparative:

Il est plus grand que Jean.

He is taller than John.

Il est moins grand que Jean.

He is less tall than (not so tall

as) John.

Il est aussi grand que Jean.

He is as tall as John.

69. Superlatives. 1. Place the definite article or a possessive adjective before plus or moins to form the superlative:

E. Dictée: Lesson XV, A.

LESSON XVII

74. Agreement of Past Participle. 1. In a compound tense with avoir the past participle agrees in gender and number with a direct object which precedes it:

J'ai fini mes leçons. Je les ai finies. Quels livres a-t-il achetés? I have finished my lessons. I have finished them. What books has he bought?

N.B.—Remember that the participle does not agree with en, e.g., Avez-vous des plumes? Oui, j'en ai acheté hier. Have you any pens? Yes, I bought some yesterday.

2. When used as an adjective, the past participle agrees like an adjective:

La plume achetée hier.

The pen bought yesterday.

75. Some Relatives. 1. The relative pronouns of most common use are qui as subject, and que as direct object of a verb:

La dame qui chante. Les livres qui sont ici. Les pommes que j'ai achetées. The lady who sings. The books which are here. The apples that I have bought.

2. The relative pronoun, often omitted in English, is never omitted in French:

Le pain que j'ai acheté hier.

The bread I bought yesterday

- C. (1) Vary A (orally or in writing) using subject pronouns of other persons and numbers.

LESSON XVIII

76. Tenses with être. 1. The verb être + the past participle form the compound tenses of all reflexive verbs (§ 82) and of some intransitive verbs, of which the following are the most important:

aller [ale] go, be (of health) arriver [arive] arrive, get (to) descendre [desā:dr] go down, stop (at a hotel) devenir [dəvni:r] become entrer (dans) [ātre] enter, go in monter [mɔ̃te] go up, get (in), climb naître [ne:tr] be born rentrer [rātre] come back again partir [partir] go away, leave rester [reste] stay, remain sortir (de) [sortir] go out tomber [tābe] fall venir [venir] come

Note. — It will be observed that all of these intransitive verbs, except rester, denote a change of place or state.

2. The past participle of a verb (not reflexive) conjugated with être agrees with the subject, thus:

I have arrived, etc.

je suis arrivé(e) [arive] nous sommes arrivé(e)s [arive] tu es arrivé(e) [arive] vous êtes arrivé(e)s [arive] il (elle) est arrivé(e) [arive] ils (elles) sont arrivé(e)s [arive]

A. (1) 1. Nos parents de la campagne sont chez nous depuis huit jours. 2. Nous sommes très contents de les voir. 3. Ils sont arrivés lundi par le train de midi. 4. Nous ne sommes pas allés les chercher à la gare. 5. Ils ont pris un taxi à la gare et ils sont venus directement à la maison. 6. Ils ne sont pas descendus à un hôtel. 7. Nous les menons partout pour les amuser. 8. Nous avons pris le tramway et nous avons visité les différentes parties de la ville. 9. Nous les avons menés aux grands magasins de la ville, aux musées, et au concert pour entendre de la musique. 10. Nous les avons menés deux fois au théâtre pour voir jouer * des pièces. 11. Nous avons été hier soir au théâtre. 12. Nous sommes entrés dans la salle à huit heures et nous avons trouvé nos places. 13. On ^{*} Observe the word order here. Compare for position and translation with the infinitive after voir (see XIV, A, 8) and entendre (XV, B, 3).

- a joué le Bourgeois gentilhomme [burzwazatijəm] de Molière qui nous a beaucoup amusés. 14. C'est une excellente comédie et nous en avons beaucoup ri. 15. Nous sommes sortis du théâtre après minuit. 16. La nuit était (was) très noire et un de nos cousins est tombé.
- (2) 1. Nous sommes restés quelque [kɛlkə] temps au salon pour causer avant d'aller nous coucher. 2. Aujourd'hui nous sommes tous [tus] très fatigués, mais notre tante et deux de nos cousines sont parties de bonne heure. 3. Elles vont visiter le palais et le parc de Versailles [versa:j]. 4. Demain toute la famille va voir le grand marché de Paris, les Halles [le al] (see § 17, 5), et ce soir nous allons les mener dîner dans un des grands restaurants. 5. Ils vont rester encore quelques jours chez nous. 6. Ils vont partir dans huit jours.
- (2) a. Observe the difference in meaning and use between aller, s'en aller, partir, sortir, quitter. We say in French: je vais chez moi après la classe, but we do not say: la classe est finie, je vais; instead, we say, je pars, je m'en vais. That is, with aller alone some expression of place is usually added. Examples: nous allons dans le jardin; nous y allons; il va en France; il y va. Aller alone does not mean "leave, go away."

^{*} Use the proper form of s'en aller.

For that we use partir or s'en aller. Study the different meanings: je vais à New-York demain; à quelle heure partez-vous? Je pars de Chicago (je quitte Chicago) demain à 9 heures; il est allé à la campagne hier; il est parti (s'en est allé) hier matin; il a quitté le train à la petite gare. Is quitter transitive? What auxiliary does it take? Observe too that the English "come" is often expressed in French by arriver: je suis arrivé par le train de huit heures.

- b. Write a group of sentences about a trip to the country in which you use correctly aller, partir, quitter.
- C. (1) Sortir means "to go out": je sors de la salle à manger après le dîner; il sort de sa chambre; nous sommes sortis de la cuisine. Où est la cuisinière? Elle est sortie. Est-ce que Monsieur Hugo est chez lui (at home)? Non, mademoiselle, monsieur est sorti.
- (2) Observe that the present tense of servir, partir, sortir, dormir is not inflected like that of finir, mûrir. Compare Lesson XIII, B, (2). Write and read aloud the present tense of these six verbs. Note that servir alone means "to serve," and that used with the personal object pronoun (reflexive) and the preposition de (se servir de) it means "to use" "make use of." Observe also that the past participle of venir is different from that of other verbs in -ir. Mon frère est venu nous voir hier; elles sont venues de bonne heure.
- D. (1) Rewrite A, substituting une de mes cousines for nos parents and je for nous, where the sense allows it. Pay especial attention to the use of auxiliaries and to participle agreement.
- (2) What seems to be the difference of meaning between temps and fois in A (1) 10 and (2), 1?

EXERCISE IN PRONUNCIATION

- (1) What ways do you know of spelling the sound [ϵ]? Pronounce: vous êtes, mon frère, muette, la craie.
- (2) Note the pronunciation of tous in nous sommes tous [tus] très fatigués. In this case tous is a pronoun. Contrast the pronunciation of Tous mes amis sont partis, and Ils sont

- (10) Écrivez au pluriel: monsieur, animal, œil, ciel. Au féminin: blane, vert, tout, sec, court, muet, long, gros, vieux, nouveau, gentil.
- (11) Conjuguez au présent: regarder, chercher, faire, aller, voir, mûrir, ouvrir, partir, dormir, servir, entendre, comprendre, prendre, écrire.
- (12) Écrivez à la première personne (first person) du pluriel du passé indéfini: chercher, quitter, faire, être, aller, voir, sortir, attendre, prendre, ouvrir, écrire, descendre, monter, s'en aller, se coucher, s'appeler.
- (13) Écrivez en français: 1. Belgium is an industrial country.
 2. France is an agricultural country.
 3. There are many fields in France.
 4. There are also many forests and there are some that are very old.
 5. Their trees are tall and beautiful.
 6. One hears many birds sing in the green leaves.
 7. The French fields are beautiful this year.
 8. The wheat has ripened during the summer and they are going to cut it.

LESSON XIX

77. Pronoun Objects. 1. The personal pronoun has, for the indirect object of the third person, the following forms:

lui [lui], (to, for) him, (to, for) her. leur [læ:r], (to, for) them.

2. Lui and leur precede the verb (§ 30), but follow le, la, les:

Nous lui parlons. Te la lui donne. Te les leur donne.

We speak to him (to her). I give her it (it to her). I give them (to) them.

- 78. Observe the following peculiarities of pronunciation and spelling:
- 1. commencer, to begin, nous commencons. The c[s] of the stem is written c [s] before o of the ending (cf. § 5, 4).
- 2. manger, to eat, nous mangeons. The g [5] of the stem is written ge [3] before o of the ending (§ 19, 2).
- 3. mener [mone], to lead, take (someone somewhere), je mène [men]. tu mènes [men], il mène [men], nous menons [numn5], vous menez [vumne], ils menent [men].

In this case the change affects both the spelling and the pronunciation. The vowel [3], called mute e or feminine e, becomes [8] when the syllable stress falls on it, as in four forms of the present of mener. This sound [\varepsilon] is here spelled \varepsilon. The shift of stress occurs in those forms in which the [a] of the stem would be followed by a single consonant + e mute (cf. § 12, 1, n.).

Enfin nous avons acheté des bonbons pour ma tante et mes cousines et nous sommes rentrés chez nous.
- B. (1) Run rapidly through A, changing the number or the person (or both) of each subject.
- (2) Beginning with Nous sommes entrés (A, 4) change all the verbs to the present form. Such a passage would be quite normal in French. Would it be so in English?

^{*} The l^{\prime} of l^{\prime} on has no significance. It merely makes the sound more agreeable when coming between où and on.

- (3) Give two translations for courir. What is the past participle? What auxiliary does it take? Contrast with aller, partir, sortir, s'en aller, etc. Say: he ran, he did not run, you have run about a lot to-day, haven't you?
- (4) Substitute a personal pronoun for the indirect object:

 1. Nous parlons au marchand. 2. Nous avons payé cette cravate au marchand. 3. Je l'ai payée au marchand douze francs. 4. Il a parlé de la pièce à sa tante. 5. theater. Let's take (like first plural present indicative but no subject pronoun) our cousins to the park. 6. I took my place. D. Dictée: Lesson XVII, A.

EXERCISE IN PRONUNCIATION

Note the pronunciation and spelling of the various forms of the present of acheter, to buy and appeler, to call:

acheter [aste]		appeler [aple
1. achète [aset]	1.	appelle [apɛl]
2. achètes [asɛt]	2.	appelles [apɛl]
3. achète [asɛt]	3.	appelle [apɛl]
4. achetons [astõ]	4.	appelons [apl5]
5. achetez [aste]		appelez [aple]
6. achètent [asɛt]	6.	appellent [apsl]

Where does the syllable stress fall in forms 1, 2, 3, 6? Where in 4 and 5? What difference does this make in the sound of the [ə] of the stem of the infinitive? Note that this [ə] disappears entirely in the pronunciation of the infinitive of acheter, appeler, devenir, and in the forms nous menons, vous menez, appelons, appelez, achetons, achetez, but that it is sounded in the infinitive of a word of only two syllables like mener [məne], venir [vənir]. Compare Lesson V, Exercise in Pronunciation, (1). Observe that we say similarly [ʃəval], but [ləʃval, æʃval]. Are these changes of spelling in mener, appeler, etc., due to any phonetic principle? Contrast them with the changes in words like manger, commencer.

LESSON XX

79. Personal Pronoun Objects. The remaining forms serve both as direct and indirect object of verbs (for elision, see § 19):

me [mə], me, to (for) me.

te [tə], thee, to (for) thee, you se [sə], himself, herself, itself, oneself, to (for) himself, etc.

nous [nu], us, to (for) us.
vous [vu], you, to (for) you.
se [so], themselves, to (for) themselves.

80. Pronominal Adverbs. They are used with verbs, and are equivalent to a preposition + a pronoun, standing usually for things:

y = à (dans, sur, etc.) + a prenoun, means to (at, on, in, into, etc.) it or them; there, en = de + a pronoun, means of (from, etc.) it or them, some of it, some of them, some, any, thence; from there.

Je vais à la campagne. J'y vais demain. Venez-vous de Paris? Oui, j'en arrive. I am going to the country. I shall go there to-morrow. Do you come from Paris? Yes, I am coming from there.

81. Position. Personal pronoun objects and pronominal adverbs, coming before the verb, are arranged thus:

Il me donne les plumes. Il me les donne.

Il les leur donne.

Il nous en donne. Il y en a. He gives me the pens. He gives them to me. He gives them to them. He gives us some of it. There is (are) some.

82. Reflexive Verb. The compound tenses of reflexive verbs, e.g., se flatter, to flatter oneself, are formed with être:

PRESENT INDICATIVE

I flatter myself, etc.

je me flatte [zəmflat]
tu te flattes [tytflat]
il (elle) se flatte [ilsəflat] nous nous flattons [nunuflat5] vous vous flattez [vuvuflate] ils (elles) se flattent [ilsəflat]

PAST INDEFINITE

I (have) flattered myself, etc.

je me suis
tu t' es
il (elle) s' est nous nous sommes
vous vous êtes ils (elles) se sont

flatté(e) flate]
flatté(e)s

83. Agreement. The past participle agrees with the preceding direct object, as in the case of verbs compounded with avoir:

Elles se sont flattées. But: Ils se sont lavé les mains. They have flattered themselves. They have washed their hands.

84. Observe the possessive force of the article, or of the article with an indirect object, when there is no ambiguity as to the possessor, especially when referring to parts of the body, clothing, etc.

Je vous donne la main.

I give you my hand. The maid is washing their hands.

LESSON XXI

85. Imperfect Indicative of donner, finir, vendre

I was givin	g, etc.	I was finish	hing, etc.	I was selli	ing, etc.
donn ais	dəne]	finiss ais	[finise]	vend ais	[vãde]

86. Imperfect Indicative of avoir, être

I had, used to have, etc.	I was, used to be, etc.
av ais [ave] av ions [avj5]	ét ais [ets] ét ions [etj5]
av ais [ave] av iez [avje]	ét ais [ete] ét iez [etje]
av ait [ave] av aient [ave]	ét ait [ete] ét aient [ete]

To form the Pluperfect tense, add a past participle; see § 63.

87. Use of the Imperfect. The name 'Past Descriptive' is often given to this tense-form. In general, it serves to indicate the situation, the setting, the state of affairs at a time in the past, without regard to the beginning or the end of the action, or to the length of its duration. In past narrative, the past indefinite is used to record the successive events one after the other: the imperfect form is used to give the background and the descriptive elements of the situation.

Since the English language has no such special tense form. except the progressive past (was walking, etc.), it is highly important to understand clearly the meaning of the sentence before deciding whether to translate a given English past into the French imperfect or into the past indefinite. Often both translations are possible, but with different meanings.

Study the following passage:

Pierre.

Oui, monsieur, j'étais (ai été) malade.

Je suis resté au lit toute la journée. l'avais (ai eu) la fièvre.

Ma gorge m'a fait (me faisait) très mal.

Le médecin est venu deux fois à la maison, et m'a si bien soigné que mon rhume a disparu.

J'ai été (étais) malade comme cela l'hiver passé aussi.

Notre médecin était en France avec nos soldats, et j'ai été toute une semaine au lit.

Vous étiez (avez été) absent hier, You were absent yesterday, Pierre.

Yes, sir, I was ill.

I stayed in bed all day.

I had fever.

My throat hurt me very badly.

The doctor came to the house twice and took such good care of me that my cold disappeared.

I was ill like that last winter too.

Our physician was in France with our soldiers, and I was in bed for a whole week.

In only one case above (Notre médecin était en France . . .) would the past indefinite be quite out of place, but wherever it is used it stresses the narrative element of the story, the fact that the incident was completed at a time in the past, whereas the imperfect form directs attention to the incident as it occurred, or to the state of affairs as it existed.

In certain cases, where the descriptive element is all important, the imperfect form is regularly used and corresponds to an English progressive past, or to a past modified by 'used to.'

1. It denotes what used to or continued to take place in the past.

Nous parlions souvent de vous.

We often spoke (used to speak) of you.

Tous les ans j'allais à la campagne en été. I used to go to the country in summer every year.

2. It is used for an action that was happening when something else happened or was happening.

Quand le médecin est arrivé, j'étais au lit.

When the doctor came I was in bed.

Pendant que je parlais, mon ami fumait un gros cigare.

While I was talking, my friend was smoking (smoked) a large cigar.

Note. — In the first example under 1 above we could just as correctly say: Nous avons souvent parlé de vous. The meaning, however, would be somewhat different. The notion of an habitual action would have disappeared.

88. Imperfect of faire (irreg.)

I was doing, etc.

je fais ais [3əfəze] tu fais ais [tyfəze] il fais ait [ilfəze] nous fais ions [nufəzjɔ̃] vous fais iez [vufəzje]

ils fais aient [ilfəzɛ]

89. For imperfect of commencer, manger, cf. §§ 78, 156:

je commençais [ʒəkəmɑ̃:sɛ] tu commençais [tykəmɑ̃:sɛ] il commençait [ilkəmɑ̃:sɛ], etc. je mangeais [mā:38] tu mangeais [mā:38] il mangeait [mā:38], etc.

J'ai eu si peur dans mon sommeil que j'ai crié très fort et je me suis réveillé. 6. Mais il faisait toujours très noir quand je me suis réveillé et je ne me suis pas levé tout de suite. 7. J'ai dormi encore un peu avant de me lever. 8. À six heures il a fait jour et je me suis levé. 9. J'ai fait ma toilette. 10. J'ai pris mon bain dans de l'eau froide et je me suis habillé. 11. Heureusement il y avait de l'herbe et je suis tombé sur l'herbe, mais le bras m'a fait mal pendant deux ou trois jours.
- B. (1) In nous sommes restés deux heures and nous avons été souvent à la campagne (A, 2), is the emphasis on the continuousness, the repetition of the action, the situation, or on the event itself? Contrast the verb forms used in le cheval a eu peur (got frightened) and in j'avais très peur (was very much frightened). What seems to be the difference in the effect of the two?

Note that verbs like rester, adverbs like souvent, longtemps, and expressions of time like deux heures, deux ans, do not necessarily call for an imperfect tense, which, although it denotes 'what continued to happen,' is used only when the writer wishes to stress that element. Compare § 66, examples 2 and 3.

(2) Use the proper form of the verbs in parenthesis. Choose the past indefinite or the imperfect according to the sense of the

- sentence: 1. (être) Quand je petit je ¹ de bonne heure. 2. (dormir) Je bien. 3. (se lever) Je de bonne heure aussi et je ² avec mes parents. 4. (avoir) Je toujours bon appétit. 5. (rêver) Une nuit je que mon cheval ³ avec moi à travers la forêt. 6. (frapper) Une branche me dans la figure et je ⁴ très peur. 7. (crier) Je si fort que je .⁵ 8. (dormir) Mais je encore deux heures avant de .⁶ 9. (rêver) Je beaucoup. 10. (rêver) Je plusieurs fois que je ² de mon cheval.
 - (3) Vary the person and number of the subject in A.
- (4) The imperfect of dormir is je dormais, etc. Conjugate it throughout. Contrast it with je finissais. Conjugate in the imperfect on this model: sortir, partir, servir.
- C. Troduisez: 1. I used to go to bed early and I slept well.

 2. But once when I was ill I slept very badly and I dreamed a great deal.

 5. When he saw that I was very much frightened, he stayed in my room [for] some minutes.

 6. I slept some hours still before waking.

 11. My sister left for school, but I looked at (j'ai parcouru) the morning paper before leaving.

Note. — In 6 put encore (still) before 'some hours.' Be careful about the position of déjà in 10 (see A, (1), 13). Note the absence of any article in à table and de bon appétit. Note the different French forms in 1 and 2 for 'I slept'; why? In 12 put tard before à l'école.

D. Dictée: Lesson XIX, A.

^{! (}se coucher). 2 (dêjeuner). 3 (courir).

^{4 (}avoir). 5 (se réveiller). 6 (se lever). 7 (tomber).

donner ont [dən(ə)rə̃]	finir ont	[finirɔ̃]	vendr ont [vādrɔ̃]

Note. — In the future of verbs of the donner type, we print the symbol a in parenthesis to indicate that it is pronounced very lightly. In fact it usually disappears in rapid speech.

This symbol is printed in the same way in the future of être and faire in §§ 91, 92 to indicate that it is pronounced very lightly, and that it disappears if the preceding syllable ends in a vowel sound. Compare with this la fenêtre [lafne:tr], see leçons [selsɔ], deux chevaux [døyvo], je me lève [ɔəmle:v], je serai [ɔəsre], nous ferons [nufrɔ̃]. See Lesson V, Exercise in Pronunciation, (1); XIX, Exercise in Pronunciation.

93. For the future of lever and acheter, cf. § 78, 3:

je lèverai [levre], etc. j'achèterai [asetre], etc.

94. Use of Future. It is used in general as in English, but observe its use in a subordinate sentence, when futurity is implied (but for 'if' clause see § 116, 3):

Je lui parlerai quand il arrivera. I shall speak to him when he comes.

EXERCISE XXII

LESSON XXIII

95. Disjunctive Personal Pronouns. The personal pronouns already given are used as subject or object with the verb, and are hence called 'conjunctive.' The following forms, not being immediately connected with a verb, are called 'disjunctive':

moi [mwa], I, menous [nu], we, ustoi [twa], thou, thee, youvous [vu], yoului [lui], he, himeux [\emptyset], they (m.), them (m.)elle [ε I], she, herelles [ε I], they (f.), them (f.)

96. The following are some of their uses:

1. Absolutely, a verb being implied, but not expressed:

Qui est là? — Moi (eux, elles). Who is there? — I (they).

2. After a preposition:

Pour elles; avec moi; sans eux. For them; with me; without them.

3. As logical subject after ce + être:

C'est moi, c'est toi.

C'est lui, c'est elle.

C'est nous, c'est vous.

Ce sont eux, ce sont elles.

It is I, it is thou (you).

It is he, it is she.

It is we, it is you.

It is they (m.), it is they (f.).

97. When the real subject follows the verb être, ce is used to represent or point to this logical subject, whereas the English would seem to demand a personal pronoun (see § 44, 2, a):

C'est Marie et sa mère.

C'est nous, ce sont eux.

C'est un homme célèbre.

Ce sont mes meilleures amies.

C'est aujourd'hui lundi.

C'est à nous qu'il parle.

It is Mary and her mother.

It is we, it is they.

He is a celebrated man.

They are my best friends.

It is Monday to-day (To-day is).

It is to us that he is speaking.

NOTE. — When the logical subject is a noun, ce is used in case the noun is modified by an article or a possessive adjective; il (elle) is used when the noun has no modifier, as when it denotes nationality or profession:

C'est un soldat But II est soldat
C'est un Américain II est Américain

- 1. Without any preposition, (a) after such verbs as devoir, must, ought to, falloir, must, be necessary to, pouvoir, can, be able to, savoir, can, know how to, vouloir, will, wish; (b) after verbs of motion such as aller, go, venir, come; (c) after verbs of perceiving such as écouter, listen (to), entendre, hear, voir, see, regarder, look at; and after faire, make, cause to, laisser, let.

Désire-t-il aller en ville? Il faut travailler. Je vais chercher des plumes. Je vois venir des soldats. Te fais sonner la cloche. Does he wish to go downtown? He (we, you, they, etc.) must work. I am going to get some pens. I see some soldiers coming. I make the bell ring.

2. Preceded by de, (a) after impersonal être followed by an adjective; (b) after many verbs, such as cesser, stop, demander, ask, dire, tell, essayer, try, prier, beg, regretter, regret, be sorry, tâcher, try; (c) after nouns to form adjective phrases; and after most adjectives.

Il est facile de parler.
Il a cessé de chanter.
Le crime de voler.
Vous êtes libre de partir.
Je vous prie de rester quelques minutes.

It is easy to talk.

He has ceased singing.

The crime of stealing.

You are free to go.

I beg of you to stay a few minutes.

3. Preceded by à, (a) after such verbs as aimer, like, s'amuser, have a good time, apprendre, learn, avoir, have to, chercher, seek, commencer, begin, continuer, continue, enseigner, teach, inviter, invite, se mettre, begin, réussir, succeed; and (b) after some adjectives denoting fitness, tendency, purpose, etc.

J'aime à patiner.
Je m'amuse à patiner.
Commencez à lire.
Nous avons à copier nos phrases.
Il se met à travailler.
Ceci est bon à manger.

N.B. — Aimer may also (colloquially) be followed by the pure infinitive;
e.g., j'aime (à) marcher lentement, I like to walk slowly.

4. Observe that the same adjective may take à or de, according to the construction in which it is used. When the infinitive depends upon the adjective and is not the logical subject of the sentence, the adjective and the infinitive are connected by means of à; when the infinitive is the real subject of the sentence, it is preceded by de.

Il est facile à contenter. Il est facile de le contenter. La chose est facile à faire. Il est difficile de patiner. He is easy to satisfy. It is easy to satisfy him. The thing is easy to do. Skating is difficult.

5. A verb governed by a preposition must be in the infinitive, except after en (cf. § 101); the infinitive is usually translated into English by means of a present participle:

Je l'ai fait sans penser. Il est parti sans rien dire. I did it without thinking. He left without saying anything.

100. Present Participle of donner, finir, vendre, etc.

Givina donn ant [dona]

Finishing finiss ant [finisa]

Sellina vend ant [vada]

Havina ay ant [sia]

Beina ét ant [eta]

101. Agreement. Used as an adjective, the present participle agrees like an adjective: otherwise it is invariable:

Une scène charmante.

Les enfants sont obéissants Elle tombait souvent en marchant.

Ce professeur aime à s'amuser en lisant les pièces de Molière.

En lisant on apprend à lire. Tout en pleurant, elle continua. A charming scene.

The children are obedient.

She often fell while walking.

This teacher likes to entertain himself by reading Molière's plays.

By reading one learns to read.

Still weeping, she went on.

N.B. — The present participle, when preceded by en, strengthened sometimes by tout, is often called the gerund. The preposition en is expressed in English by on, in, while, by or is left untranslated.

je peux or puis [3apø, pui] tu peux [typg] [ilpø] il peut nous pouvons [nupuvõ] vous pouvez [vupuve] ils peuvent [ilpœ:v]

103. The impersonal il faut (imperfect il fallait, past indef. il a fallu, future il faudra) is often used with the pure infinitive to indicate a general obligation on the part of the speaker or the person spoken to or about:

Il faut faire son devoir.

Il faut partir.

Il ne fallait pas s'arrêter.

Il a fallu beaucoup travailler

Il ne faudra pas voler.

One must do one's duty.

I (we, you, he, they) must leave.

You (we, he, they, she) ought not to have stopped.

We (they, you, etc.) had to work hard.

We (one, people, etc.) must not steal.

Observe the position of the negative words in the French examples.

LESSON XXVI

104. Present Subjunctive of donner, finir, vendre

donn e [don]	finiss e [finis]	vend e [vaid]
donn es [don]	finiss es [finis]	vend es [vā:d]
donn e [don]	finiss e [finis]	vend e [va:d]
donn ions [dənjə]	finiss ions [finisj5]	vend ions [vadja]
donn iez [donje]	finiss iez [finisje]	vend iez [vadje]
donn ent [don]	finiss ent [finis]	vend ent [va:d]

N.B. — The paradigm meanings I may give, etc., are only approximate, as will be seen from the examples below.

Present Subjunctive of avoir, être 105.

I (may) have, etc.	I (may) be, etc.
aie [ε] ayons [εjɔ̃]	sois [swa] soyons [swaj5]
aies [ε] ayez [εje]	sois [swa] soyez [swaje]
ait [ε] aient [ε]	soit [swa] soient [swa]

- 106. Use of the Subjunctive. Some of the commoner uses of the subjunctive are:
- 1. In a subordinate noun clause introduced by que, that, after expressions of willing or desiring:

Je désire que vous restiez. I desire you to remain (= that you may or should remain).

2. Similarly, after expressions of joy or sorrow:

Te suis content qu'il soit ici.

I am glad he is here.

3. So also after expressions of necessity, like il faut:

Il faut que vous restiez.

You must remain.

Il est nécessaire que vous restiez. It is necessary for you to remain.

N.B. — We learned in §§ 99, 103 that falloir is often followed by the pure infinitive. In B and C of the Exercise below the pupil will find examples that should help him to decide between the cases when the infinitive or subjunctive may be used indifferently, or when the subjunctive is required. It should be observed that the subjunctive construction is preferable in such cases as example 1, when we have a definite person in mind.

- 4. It is used in adverbial clauses after certain conjunctions, e.g., afin que, in order that, pour que, in order that, avant que, before, bien que, although, quoique, although, etc. Bien qu'il soit pauvre il est heureux. Although he is poor, he is happy.
- 5. Que is never omitted, as that often is in English: Je suis content qu'il soit ici.

 I am glad (that) he is here.
- 107. Tense Sequence. Present or Future in the principal clause is regularly followed by Present Subjunctive:

 $\begin{array}{ll} \text{Pres. Il faut} \\ \text{Fut.} & \text{Il faudra} \end{array} \} \text{que vous parliez.} \qquad \left\{ \begin{array}{ll} \text{You must speak.} \\ \text{You will have to speak.} \end{array} \right.$

 je veux [39vø]
 nous voulons [nuvul5]

 tu veux [tyvø]
 vous voulez [vuvule]

 ils veulent [ilvæl]

109. Present Subjunctive of faire (irreg.)

I (may) do, etc.

 fasse [fas]
 fassions [fasj5]

 fasses [fas] fassiez [fasje]

 fasse [fas]
 fassent [fas]

Je regrette (ne pas pouvoir) (patiner). 3. Il a cessé (neiger) maintenant; nous pouvons (sortir). 4. Désirez-vous (faire) la connaissance de Monsieur Daudet [dode]? 5. — Beaucoup. Je vous prie (me présenter) à Monsieur Daudet. 6. — Alors, permettez-moi (vous présenter) mon ami, Monsieur Dupin. 7. - Je suis charmé (faire) votre connaissance, monsieur. 8. - Il est nécessaire que vous me permettiez de vous le dire,

What is the essential difference in regard to the subject of the dependent verb that makes the subjunctive necessary in the sentences of the second column?

Hence, what general statement can you formulate in the case of verbs that come under both § 99 and § 106; that is, when is the infinitive used and when the subjunctive?

- C. (1) Make two groups of sentences with désirer, vouloir, regretter, être content, il faudra, in which you illustrate both constructions possible after these verbs. Observe that in cases like § 99, 1, example 2, § 103, and § 106, 3, example 1, the infinitive and subjunctive constructions after il faut (faudra) are exactly equivalent. This is often the case when the subject in English is a personal pronoun; but il faut que cet élève fasse son travail.
- (2) Supply the proper form of the verb in parenthesis, inserting any missing preposition: 1. (être) Bien qu'il —— riche, il est heureux. 2. (avoir) Quoiqu'elle —— beaucoup d'argent, elle a de l'esprit. 3. (faire) Bien qu'il —— beau aujourd'hui, ces enfants ne peuvent pas sortir. 4. (arriver) Nous n'avons pas nos places et il ne faut pas que nous —— trop tard. 11. (être) Quoique nos places ne ——

pas trop bonnes, j'entendrai bien. 12. (avoir) Mon cousin entendra bien aussi quoiqu'il ne —— pas de trop bonnes oreilles. 13. (quitter) Il faudra que nous —— la salle avant la fin du concert. 14. (avoir) Il est nécessaire que nous —— nos billets avant d'entrer dans la salle. 15. (être) Il faut que nous —— à nos places avant qu'on —— ¹ (chanter).

- (3) Traduisez: 1. We are delighted that you are having a good time in America. 2. Although you have been here only a few months, you speak English very well. 3. I must congratulate you on your pronunciation. 4. I wish to send my son to France, in order that he may learn (§ 202) to speak French. 5. He likes it very much, but he is just beginning (is beginning only) to learn to speak it. 6. - E. (1) a. Observe the similarities between the stem of the present participles of verbs like donner, finir, vendre (§ 100) and that of the present and imperfect indicative and the present subjunctive:

Pres.	PART.	regardant	mûrissant	attendant
Pres.	INDIC.	regarde	mûris	attends
IMP.	INDIC.	regardais	mûrissais	attendais
PRES.	SUBJ.	regarde	mûrisse	attende

b. Complete orally or at the board the conjugation of these forms.

1 (commencer).

(2) This similarity exists in all the so-called regular verbs, and is important for all others. For example:

PRES. PART. ayant étant faisant [fəzɑ̃] dormant PRES. INDIC. ai suis fais [fe] dors IMPERF. INDIC. avais étais faisais [fəzɛ] dormais PRES. SUBJ. aie sois fasse [fas] dorme Complete orally or at the board the conjugation of these forms. Observe that the forms of the verb être are derived from more than one stem. Compare am, was, been.

LESSON XXVII

Give, etc.	Finish, etc.	Sell, etc.
donn e [don]	finis [fini]	vends [va]

	ay ez	[sje]		soy ez	[swaje]
qu'ils	aient	[kilzɛ]	qu'ils	soient	[kilswa]

112. Imperative Negative

ne donne pas qu'il ne donne pas ne donnons pas, etc.

113. Position of Objects. 1. Personal pronoun objects follow the positive imperative (but not the subjunctive as imperative), and are joined to it and to one another by hyphens:

Donnez-lui la plume.
Donnez-la-lui.
Donnons-leur-en.
But: Ou'il me la donne.

Give him the pen.
Give it to him.
Let us give them some.
Let him give it to me.

2. If the imperative is negative, the general rule of position (§ 81) holds good:

Ne la lui donnez pas.

Do not give it to him.

3. Moi and toi are used after an imperative instead of me and te (unless before y and en, in which case apostrophe replaces hyphen):

Donnez-moi des pommes. Donnez-m'en. Give me some apples. Give me some (of them).

4. When a verb has two objects, they are usually arranged thus after it:

19	dix-neuf	[diznœf]	1001	mille un	[milæ]
20	vingt	[vɛ̃]	2000	deux mille	[dømil]

Nouns of Number: 1,000,000 = un million [@ milj5]; 2,000,000 = deux millions [dø milj5]; 1,000,000,000 = un milliard [@ milja;r].

Observe: 1. The hyphen unites the parts of compound numerals under 100, except where et occurs. 2. Et stands regularly in 21, 31, 41, 51, 61, 71, omitted in 81, and elsewhere.

Notes on Pronunciation: 1. The final consonant of 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 17, 18, 19, is silent before initial consonant or h aspirate of a word multiplied by them, not elsewhere: Cinq livres [sē li:vr], but le cinq mai [lə sē:k mɛ]. 2. No elision or liaison occurs before huit, onze: le huit [lo qit]; les huit livres [le qi li:vr]; le onze [lə 5:z]; les onze francs [le 5:z frā]. 3. The t is sounded in vingt in 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, is sounded with the d in 22, is silent from 81 to 99, is silent in cent un, deux cent un, etc.

139. Million and milliard require de before the object enumerated; cent = a (or one) hundred; mille = a (or one) thousand:

Il a payé un million de francs. Ceci vaut cent francs. He has paid a million (of) francs. This is worth a hundred francs.

140. Quatre-vingt and the multiples of cent take -s only when immediately preceding a noun, or when they themselves are used as nouns of number:

Quatre-vingts francs.

Eighty francs.

Trois cents francs.
Les cing cents.

Three hundred francs.

Les cinq cents.

The five hundreds.

But: Trois cent un francs; quatre-vingt-un francs, etc.

Obs.: They are not nouns of number in dates, or when used as ordinals.

141. Multiplicatives. Once = une fois, twice = deux fois, three times = trois fois, etc.:

Dix fois dix font cent.

Ten times ten make a hundred.

142. Ordinal Numerals. They are formed from 'third' upwards by adding -ième to the corresponding cardinal, final e being dropped; cinq adds u, and neuf changes f to v before -ième:

1st	premier	[premje]	7th septième	[setjem]
220	second deuxième	[səgɔ̃]	8th huitième	[qitjem]
Zna (deuxième	[døzjem]	9th neuvième	[nœvjem]
3rd	troisième	[trwazjem]	10th dixième	[dizjem]
4th	quatrième	[katriem]	11th onzième	[ɔ̃zjɛm]
5th	cinquième	[sɛ̃kjɛm]	21st vingt et unième	[vɛ̃teynjɛm]
6th	sixième	[sizjem]	22nd vingt-deuxième	[vɛ̃tdøzjɛm]

143. Fractions. The numerator is expressed by a cardinal, the denominator by an ordinal, as in English. Half =moitié, f. (as noun), and demi (as adjective); $\frac{1}{4} =$ un quart, $\frac{1}{3} =$ un tiers [tje:r]. Before a noun, demi is invariable and joined by a hyphen, but agrees elsewhere. Use la moitié (not demi) where the half of is, or may be, used in English:

Un huitième; les trois dixièmes. La moitié de l'année.

Une heure et demie. Une demi-heure.

Les trois quarts de cette somme.

One-eighth; the three tenths.

(The) half (of) the year.

An hour and a half.

Half an hour.

Three-fourths of that sum.

Note. — If the teacher can secure some French coins and bank notes or facsimiles of them, it will be helpful at this point. The teacher may also exhibit a number of articles with the prices marked in francs and centimes. This will stimulate interest in converting the sums into dollars and cents.

Much drill is needed for teaching the numerals thoroughly, more than can be provided in Exercises in the text. In addition to seizing every occasion to make the students count, have them tell the page of each lesson, answer questions involving dates, and tell the prices in French money of real and imaginary articles and meals. The teacher will find it profitable to cut up several pages of a calendar that has the numerals printed in large type and to paste the numbers in order on sheets of paper. These may be manipulated before the class like flashcards so as to show any desired combination, and are very useful in rapid daily practice.

LESSON XXXIX

150. Imperfect Subjunctive of donner, finir, vendre

(That) I ga	ve, might etc.	(That) I j	finished, ish, etc.	(That) I soil	, , donn asse	[donas]		[finis]	vend isse	[vādis]
donn asses	[donas]	fin isses	[finis]	vend isses	[vadis]
donn ât	[dona]	fin ît	[fini]	vend ît	[vãdi]
donn assions	[dənasjɔ̃]	fin issions	[finisj3]	vend issions	[vadisja]
donn assiez	[donasje]	fin issiez	[finisje]	vend issiez	[vadisje]
donn assent	[donas]	fin issent	[finis]	vend issent	[vādis]

151. Imperfect Subjunctive of avoir, être

(That) I ha	d, might have, etc.	(That) I was,	were, might be, etc.

eusses [ys]	eussiez [ysje]	fusses [fys]	fussiez [fysje]
eût [y]	eussent [ys]	fût [fy]	fussent [fys]

152. Tense Sequence. In complex sentences any other tense than the present or future (§ 107) in the governing clause regularly requires the imperfect subjunctive in the governed clause; so also for compound subjunctive tenses, the auxiliary in the principal clause being considered as the verb:

Impr. Je désirais		I was desiring him to remain.
P. Def. Je désirai	`	I desired him to remain.
P. Inder. J'ai désiré	qu'il restât.	I (have) desired him to remain.
Condl. Je désirerais		I should desire him to remain.
Plupf. J'avais désiré		I had desired him to remain.

Note. — The imperfect subjunctive is of very limited use in the language of everyday life, being rarely employed except in the literary or elevated style. There is a tendency in tense sequence to avoid the imperfect and the pluperfect subjunctive in favor of the present and the perfect subjunctive; e.g. j'allais rentrer dans l'église en attendant qu'il vienne (instead of vînt) me chercher.

Son grand-père ne voulut pas qu'on l'élevât comme on élève d'ordinaire les enfants de sang royal. 4. - B. (1) a. With what tense of the indicative is the imperfect subjunctive evidently to be grouped in formation? With what tense of the indicative do we group the present subjunctive in formation?
- b. Observe that the endings of all imperfect subjunctives are spelled alike: -sse, -sses, -t, -ssions, -ssiez, -ssent; and that the stem vowel preceding the -t of the 3d pers. sing. is always spelled with a circumflex accent.
 - c. Study the forms of mourir (§174) and of vivre (§ 211).

Are there any irregularities in groups 2 and 4 (§ 159) of mourir? Does the vowel sound represented by eu [@] occur in those forms of mourir that have the stress on the stem or on the ending?

- (2) Study devoir and vouloir (§§ 214, 225) as in the preceding lessons. Group all the forms according to § 159.
- (3) a. Note the various meanings of devoir and vouloir. Devoir* may be translated in several ways:

Combien est-ce que je vous dois? Il me doit 3 fr. 50.

How much do I owe you?

He owes me three francs fifty centimes.

Vous devez expliquer clairement cette phrase.

You are to explain this sentence clearly.

b. It is less emphatic than il faut.

Vous devez avoir froid.

You must be cold. (It is likely that...)

Il devait raconter cette histoire. Le facteur devait passer à 3 h. 10. Il dut (a dû) changer de veston.

He was to tell that story. The postman was to go by at 3:10. He had to change his coat.

* The chief difficulty with devoir is due to the fact that it is a fully conjugated verb in French, and that the corresponding English verbs (ought, should, must) have only a few forms. The result is that in English we have to make up for the missing forms by the use of auxiliaries. The same is true of pouvoir and, to a certain extent, of vouloir.

Le professeur devrait indiquer la leçon d'avance.

Il aurait dû expliquer cette difficulté.

Elle a dû changer d'avis.

Vous auriez dû vous méfier.

Le facteur a dû passer sans apporter de lettres.

(4) Meanings of vouloir:

Je ne veux pas.

L'oiseau veut entrer.

Voulez-vous manger ces miettes de pain?

Le rouge-gorge n'a pas voulu rester plus longtemps.

Je lui ai demandé de raconter son histoire, mais il n'a pas voulu.

Je voudrais (aimerais) discuter la question avec eux.

J'aurais voulu agir autrement.

Il voulait que le prince se méfiât des femmes.

The teacher ought to (but does not) assign the lesson in advance.

He should have (ought to have) explained this difficulty.

She must have (probably has) changed her mind.

You ought to have been on your guard.

The postman must have gone by without bringing any letters.

I will not.

The bird wants to come in.

Will you (Do you want to) eat these bread crumbs?

The robin would not stay longer.

I asked him to tell his story, but he wouldn't.

I should like to discuss the question with them.

I should have liked to act differently.

He wanted the prince to beware of women.

Note that English 'will,' 'should,' 'would,' have a variety of meanings, which are therefore expressed in French in various ways, according to the particular case.

C. Traduisez: (1) 1. You must know the date of the capture of the Bastille. 2. The Bastille must have been a prison.

3. The French national festival must have had an historical origin. 4. The taking of the Bastille was to be the beginning of the French revolution. 5. Henry IV was obliged (past def.) to become [a] Catholic in order (pour) to be king. 6. You should have given the letters to the postman. 7. You ought to know that he is to come at 8:35.

I should like the robin and his mate to come back (pres. subj.) every winter. 4. We should like to hear his merry songs again. 5. Augustus observed that certain ears of wheat were bent down towards the earth. He observed also that others held themselves upright. He said to his father: "Look at those ears of wheat. What a pity they are so bent down! I prefer those which hold themselves upright." His father wished to teach him a lesson. He took two of the ears of wheat and rolled them between his fingers. The one was empty and was worth nothing. The other was full of good wheat. Then he said: "Look, my boy, this ear which raised its head so proudly was almost empty. The sailor's blunt reply: "You have done well, sire," caused a burst of laughter among those who were with the king. But Louis knew that it was the reply of a man who would soon give proofs of his worth. Jean Bart did not talk like a courtier, but he did what courtiers could not do. At that time Jean Bart was already forty-one years old and it was late for him (pour qu'il) to change the habits of his youth.

A. J'ai vu¹ une petite fourmi qui allait² çà et là cherchant fortune. Elle a rencontré sur son chemin un brin d'herbe qu'elle voudrait³ bien emporter; mais comment faire⁴? Il est si gros, et elle est si faible. Alors elle est montée sur un caillou, du haut duquel elle regarde la campagne, comme du haut d'une tour. Elle regarde, elle regarde; enfin elle a aperçu⁵ deux de ses compagnes qui passent par là, et elle court⁶ à elles. Elle se frotte le nez contre leur nez pour leur dire 7: « Venez 8 vite avec moi; il y a par là quelque chose de bon! » Les trois fourmis se précipitent vers le brin d'herbe et le saisissent. Ce que l'une ne pouvait 9 faire 4, les trois le font 4 aisément, et elles emportent en triomphe le brin devenu 10 léger pour elles.

D. A little ant was going hither and thither one day. She found a blade of grass on the road. "This blade of grass is very big," thought the ant. "I am too weak to carry it off alone. I know what I shall do. I shall climb upon a pebble. From the top of the pebble I shall look around. The pebble will be for me like a tall tower." She did so. She looked about her a long time. At last she saw two of her companions. They were passing along (par) the same road. She called them, and they ran to her. She said to them: "Come here, for I have found something good." She said this by rubbing her nose against theirs. Ants, as you know, cannot speak like men. After that the three ants rushed towards the blade of grass. They seized it quickly. It had been very heavy for one ant. But the three together carried it off easily.

XLVIII. Le Sifflet de Benjamin Franklin

A. Benjamin Franklin raconte l'anecdote suivante ¹: « Quand j'étais un enfant de cinq ou six ans, mes amis, un jour de fête, remplirent ma petite poche de sous. Je partis ² tout de suite pour une boutique où l'on vendait ³ des jouets. Chemin faisant ⁴, je vis ⁵ dans les mains d'un autre petit garçon un sifflet, dont le son me charma. Je lui donnai en échange tout mon argent. Revenu ⁶ chez moi, fort content de mon achat, sifflant par toute la maison, je fatiguai les oreilles de toute la famille.

² § 166. ⁴ § 195. ⁶ § 178.

Mes frères et mes sœurs apprenant¹ que j'avais tout donné pour un mauvais instrument, me dirent² que je l'avais payé³ dix fois plus cher qu'il ne valait⁴. Alors ils énumérèrent⁵ toutes les jolies choses que j'aurais pu⁶ acheter⁵ avec mon argent si j'avais été plus prudent. Ils me tournèrent tellement en ridicule que j'en pleurai. Cependant, cet accident fut de quelque utilité pour moi. Lorsque plus tard j'étais tenté d'acheter⁵ quelque chose qui ne m'était pas nécessaire, je disais² en moi-même: Ne donnons pas trop pour le sifflet, et j'épargnais mon argent. »

E. When Benjamin Franklin was five years old, his brother, on a holiday, filled his pockets with coppers. Starting off at once for a shop where toys were sold, he met on the way another little boy who had a whistle. The sound of the instrument charmed him, and he gave all his money to have it. He was much pleased with his purchase, but he whistled so much all over the house that he tired the whole family. brothers and sisters asked him where he had bought his whistle and how much he had paid for it. He told them he had given all his money to the little boy. Then they told him he had paid too much for it. They said too that if he had been more prudent, he could have bought ten times as many pretty things, and he cried on account of it. But the affair was of some use to him later on. Whenever he was tempted to buy things which he did not need, he would always say to himself: "I will not give too much for the whistle."

XLIX. Henri IV et le Paysan

A. Henri IV, dans une chasse, s'étant écarté, suivant ¹ sa coutume, de ses gardes et de sa cour, rencontra un paysan assis ² sous un arbre. « Que fais-tu ³ là? lui dit ⁴ le prince. — J'étais venu ⁵ ici dès le point du jour, pour voir ⁶ passer le roi, répondit ⁷ le paysan; sans ce désir, je serais à labourer mon champ, qui n'est pas fort éloigné. — Si tu veux ⁸ monter sur la croupe de mon cheval, lui répliqua Henri, je te conduirai ⁹ où est le roi, et tu le verras ⁶ à ton aise. »

Le paysan, enchanté, profite de la rencontre, monte à côté du roi, et demande, chemin faisant ³, comment il pourra ¹⁰ reconnaître ¹¹ le roi. « Tu n'auras qu'à regarder celui qui sera couvert ¹² pendant que tous les autres auront la tête nue. »

Enfin le moment arrive où le roi rejoint ¹³ une partie de sa cour et se trouve parmi ses courtisans; tous se découvrent ¹², the king, and that if he had not come, he would be busy plowing his field. The king said to him: "Get up behind me, and I shall take you where you can see the king." The peasant was delighted, and got up beside the king. As they went along, he asked how he should recognize the king, and the king told him to look at the one who should have his hat on, while the others should be bareheaded. L. Thomas et les Cerises

A. Un paysan traversait la campagne avec son fils Thomas. « Regarde! lui dit-il ¹ en chemin, voilà par terre un fer à cheval perdu ², ramasse-le! » « Bah! répondit ² Thomas, il ne vaut ³ pas la peine de se baisser pour si peu de chose! » Le père ne dit ¹ rien, ramassa le fer et le mit ⁴ dans sa poche. Arrivé au village voisin, il le vendit ² pour quelques centimes au maréchal ferrant, et acheta ⁵ des cerises avec cet argent.

Cela fait ⁶, ils se remirent ⁴ en route. Le soleil était brûlant. Thomas mourait ⁷ de soif, et avait de la peine à poursuivre ⁸ son chemin. Le père, qui marchait le premier, laissa, comme par hasard, tomber une cerise. Thomas la ramassa avec empressement, et la mangea ⁹. Quelques pas plus loin, une seconde cerise s'échappa des mains du père, et Thomas la saisit avec le même empressement. Le père fit ⁶ de même avec toutes les cerises. Lorsque l'enfant eut porté à la bouche la dernière cerise, le père se retourna et lui dit ¹: « Vois ¹⁰, mon ami, tu n'as pas voulu ¹¹ te baisser une fois pour ramasser le fer à cheval, et tu as été obligé ¹² de te baisser plus de vingt fois pour ramasser les cerises. » father stooped and picked it up. They sold it to the blacksmith of the neighboring village, and bought some cherries, which the father put into his pocket. They pursued their way, the father walking ahead. The sun was hot and Thomas was very thirsty, and, as if by chance, a cherry fell from his father's pocket. The son seizing it, ate it, and also a second one, which slipped from his father's pocket. Soon the last cherry was carried to his mouth, and his father, turning round, told him that if he had been willing to stoop once for the horseshoe, he would not have been obliged to stoop twenty times for the cherries.

- D. One day Frederick the Great rang, and nobody answered him. Opening the door of the antechamber, he finds his page asleep. A letter, which was sticking out of the page's pocket, aroused the king's curiosity. The young man used to send his mother a part of his wages, and in this letter she was thanking him for it. The king read the letter, and, taking a roll of ducats, slipped it, with the letter, into the young man's pocket. Then ringing very loud, he waked the page, who hastened into his presence. He asked the young man if he had been asleep. The young man was ashamed, and tried to excuse himself. Putting his hand into his pocket he finds the ducats. He trembles, and cannot utter a word. The king asked him what was the matter with him, and he replied that somebody wished to ruin him, for he did not know where the ducats came from. The king replies that good luck comes to us often while we sleep. He tells the page that he will take care of his mother.

ORTHOGRAPHICAL PECULIARITIES

156.

Verbs in -cer and -ger

1. Verbs in -cer, e.g., avancer [avase], to advance, require the [s] sound of c throughout their conjugation, and hence c becomes c before a or o of an ending (§ 5, 4), but not elsewhere:

Pres. Part.	Pres. Indic.	Impf. Indic.	Past Def.	Impf. Subj.
avançant	avance	avançais	avançai	avançasse
	avances	avançais	avanças	avançasses
	avance	avançait	avança	avançât
	avançons	avancions	avançâmes	avançassions
	avancez	avanciez	avançâtes	avançassiez
	avancent	avançaient	avancèrent	avançassent

^{2.} Verbs in -ger, e.g., manger [mãze], to eat, require the [5] sound of g throughout their conjugation, and hence g becomes ge before a or o (§ 19, 2), but not elsewhere:

Pres. Part.	Pres. Indic.	Impf. Indic.	Past Def.	Impf. Subj.
mangeant	mange	mangeais	mangeai	mangeasse
	manges	mangeais	mangeas	mangeasses
	mange	mangeait	mangea	mangeât
	mangeons	mangions	mangeâmes	mangeassions
	mangez	mangiez	mangeâtes	mangeassiez
	mangent	mangeaient	mangèrent	mangeassent

157. Verbs in -yer

Verbs in -oyer and -uyer change y to i whenever it comes before [ə] in conjugation, but not elsewhere; verbs in -ayer and -eyer may either retain y throughout, or change it to i before [ə]:

Pres. Indic.	Pres. Subj.	Fut.	. Condl.
nettoie, etc.	nettoie, etc.	nettoierai, etc.	nettoierais, etc.
paye, paie, etc.	paye, paie, etc.	payerai, paierai, etc.	payerais, paierais, etc.

158. Verbs with Stem-vowel e or é

Verbs with stem-vowel e require the [ɛ] sound of e (§ 12, 1) whenever, in conjugation, the next syllable contains [ə], i.e., when the stress falls on the stem-vowel; so also verbs with the stem-vowel é, shown orthographically as follows:—

1. By changing e or é to è (§ 12, 1), e.g., mener, to lead, céder, to vield:

Pres. Indic.	Pres. Subj.	Fut.	Condl.
mène	m è ne	m è nerai	mènerais
mènes	mènes	mèneras	mènerais
mène	m è ne	m è nera	mènerait
menons	menions	mènerons	mènerions
menez	meniez	m è nerez	m è neriez mènent	mènent	mèneront	mèneraient

But céder with the stem-vowel é:

cède, etc. cède
, etc. céderai [sɛd(ə)re], etc. céderais [sɛd(ə)re], etc.

Obs.: In mené-je? [mənɛ:ʒ], e of the ending is not mute, and hence the stem-vowel e is unchanged.

Like mener: Verbs with stem-vowel e (for exceptions in -eler and -eter, see below).

Like céder: Verbs with stem-vowel é + consonant, e.g., régner, reign, etc.

Note. — Verbs like créer, create, with stem-vowel followed by a vowel-are regular: Je crée, etc.

2. Most verbs in -eler, -eter, however, indicate the [ϵ] sound by doubling 1 or t, e.g., appeler, to call, jeter, to throw:

Fres. 17mic.	1 768. Duoj.	L' Wo.	Conuc.
appelle	appelle	appellerai	appellerais
appelles	appelles	appelleras	appellerais
appelle	appelle	appellera	appellerait
appelons	appelions	appellerons	appellerions
appelez	appeliez	appellerez	appelleriez
appellent	appellent	appelleront	appelleraient
So also, jeter:
iette, etc.	jette, etc.	jetterai, etc.	jetterais, etc.

A few verbs in -eler, -eter take the grave accent precisely like mener, e.g., acheter, to buy:

achète, etc.

achète, etc.

D 0.12

achèterai, etc.

achèterais, etc.

Condi

Exceptions like acheter:

agneler, lamb	épousseter, dust	modeler, model

bourreler, goad, torture	geler, freeze	rapiéceter, patch

FORMATION OF TENSES

- 159. Principal Parts. By the following rules, the various tenses of all regular verbs and of most irregular verbs may be known from five forms of the verb, called principal parts or primary tenses:—
- 1. The Infinitive gives the Future by adding -ai, -as, -a, -ons, -ez, -ont, and the Conditional by adding -ais, -ais, -ait, -ions, -iez, -aient

- dropping the final infinitive -e of the third conjugation for both tenses.
- 2. The Present Participle gives the Imperfect Indicative by changing -ant into -ais, -ais, -ait, -ions, -iez, -aient, and the Present Subjunctive by changing -ant into -e, -es, -e, -ions, -iez, -ent.
- 3. The Past Participle gives the Compound Tenses, with the auxiliary avoir (§ 227) or être (§ 228), and the Passive, with the auxiliary être (§ 239).
- 4. The Present Indicative gives the Imperative by dropping the pronoun subject of the second singular and first and second plural, the -s of the first conjugation second singular being also dropped, except before y and en (cf. § 370, 3, obs. 3, 4).
- 5. The Past Definite gives the Imperfect Subjunctive by changing the final letter of the first singular (-i or -s) into -sse, -sses, -t, -ssions, -ssiez, -ssent, and putting a circumflex accent over the last vowel of the third singular.

Obs.: The tenses, except the future and conditional, are not really derived from the principal parts, as is sometimes said in grammars: the method is merely an aid to memory.

USE OF AUXILIARY VERBS

- 227. Avoir + the past participle forms the compound tenses of all transitive and of most intransitive verbs (cf. § 155).
- 228. Être + the past participle forms the compound tenses of all reflexive verbs (§ 242), and of the following intransitives denoting motion or change of condition (cf. § 155):

aller, go arriver, arrive décéder, die descendre, descend échoir, fall due éclore, hatch out entrer, enter, go (come) in monter, go up mourir, die nattre, be born partir, set out remonter, go up again rentrer, go in again rester, remain retourner, go back sortir, go out tomber, fall venir, come

So also, the following compounds of venir:

devenir, become redevenir, become again intervenir, intervene parvenir, attain provenir, proceed revenir, come back

survenir, supervene

229. 1. Avoir or être + the past participle forms the compound tenses of a number of intransitive verbs, the general distinction being that avoir, when so used, denotes action, while être denotes state or condition resulting from action:

Il a passé par Lyon. C'est passé de mode. Elle a grandi bien vite. Elle est grandie. He went by way of Lyons. It is out of fashion. She grew up very fast. She is grown up.

2. Reference list of verbs with avoir or être:

aborder, land accourir, run to apparaître, appear baisser, fall, decline cesser, cease changer, change croître, grow déborder, overflow déchoir, decay décroître, decrease dégénérer, degenerate demeurer, remain disparaître, disappear échapper, escape échouer, be stranded, fail embellir, grow handsomer

empirer, grow worse expirer, expire grandir, grow up passer, pass
réchapper, cscape again repasser, pass again sonner, strike, toll vieillir, grow old

a. Any verb in the list, used transitively, must, of course, take avoir (§ 227):

Il m'a passé la plume.

Avez-vous rentré votre blé?

Ils ont descendu le tableau.

He handed me the pen. Have you taken in your wheat? They have taken down the picture.

b. The meaning also determines the auxiliary in a few other cases:

Avoir

Être

convenir, suit, become disconvenir, not to suit, be discordant repartir, reply convenir, agree disconvenir, deny

Nous sommes convenus du prix. Le prix ne m'a pas convenu. repartir, go away again

We are (have) agreed on the price. The price did not suit me.

USE OF VERB PHRASES

230. Auxiliary Function. Several verbs, when followed by an infinitive, have a sort of auxiliary function, and serve to form verb phrases of various values, modal, temporal, etc.:

1. Vouloir = will, wish to, want to, desire to, etc.:

Je ne veux pas rester.
Il voudrait (bien) le savoir.
Elle n'a pas voulu m'écouter.
Il aurait voulu le faire.
Veuillez le faire.

I will not remain.
He would like to know it.
She would not listen to me.
He would have liked to do so.
Be so good as to do so.

a. Distinguish from 'will' of simple futurity:

Elle vous écoutera.

She will listen to you.

2. Devoir = ought, should, must, be to, have to, be obliged to, intend to, etc., varies in force in different tenses:

Present: je dois rester.

I am to (have to, intend to, must) remain.

Imperfect: je devais parler. Future: je devrai revenir.

I was to (had to, etc.) speak. I shall have to (be obliged to) come back.

I ought to (should) write.

Conditional: je devrais écrire.

I have had to (been obliged to) stop, must have stopped.

Past Indefinite: j'ai dû m'arrêter.

Past Definite: je dus revenir. Conditional Anterior: j'aurais dû savoir.

I had to come back.

I ought to have (should have) known.

· 3. Pouvoir = can, be able to, be permitted to, may, etc.:

Il ne pouvait pas porter le sac. Puis-je aller à la ville? Ils auraient pu le faire. Je pourrais le faire, si je voulais. Pouvaient-ils en trouver? Pourrais-je vous demander? He could not carry the sack.
May I go to town?
They could (might) have done it.
I could do it if I would.
Could they find any?
Might I ask you?

4. Savoir = know how to, can, etc.:

Elle sait chanter et danser. Il ne sait pas lire. She can sing and dance.

He can't read.

a. Distinguish savoir in this sense from pouvoir:

Elle est enrouée et ne peut pas chanter ce soir.

She is hoarse and cannot sing this evening.

b. The conditional with ne has peculiar idiomatic force:

Je ne saurais le croire.

I cannot believe it.

5. Oser = dare:

Te n'ose pas le lui dire.

I dare not tell him so.

Note. — The above five verbs are sometimes called 'Modal Auxiliaries.

6. Faire = make, cause to, cause to be, have, order, order to be, etc.:

J'ai fait étudier les enfants. Il les fera écouter. I have made the children study.

Il s'est fait faire un habit.

He will make them listen.

He had a coat made for himself.

a. A governed substantive follows the infinitive, but a governed conjunctive personal pronoun (not reflexive) goes with faire:

Faites venir le domestique.

Have the servant come.

Faites-le venir. Have him come.

b. If the infinitive with faire have a direct object, the personal object of faire must be indirect (cf. § 293, 2, a):

Je fis écrire mon fils.

The first extraction \hat{a} mon fils. I made my Faites-le-lui écrire.

Je le leur fis voir.

I had my son write.

I made my son write an exercise.

Make him write it. I showed them it.

c. Possible ambiguity is sometimes avoided by par:

Il fit porter le sac par le guide. He had the sack carried by the guide.

d. Note the (seeming) passive force of a transitive infinitive after faire:

Te ferai écrire une lettre. I shall have a letter written.

7. Laisser = let, is in construction somewhat like faire:

Laissez écrire les enfants. Laissez-leur (or -les) écrire un

Let the children write Let them write an evereise devoir.

8. The present and imperfect of aller + an infinitive give a kind of immediate future, as also in English:

Il va l'acheter.

He is going to (is about to) buy it.

Nous allions nous arrêter.

We were about to stop.

Il allait se nover.

He was on the point of drowning.

9. Similarly the present and imperfect of venir de + an infinitive give a kind of immediate past:

Te viens de le voir. Il vensit de l'entendre. I have just seen him. He had just heard it.

AGREEMENT OF VERB AND SUBJECT

231. General Rule. The verb agrees with its subject in number and person:

Les hommes sont mortels. Tout le monde est ici.

Men are mortal. Everybody is here.

Toi et moi (nous) ne faisons qu'un. You and I are but one.

232. Simple Subject. Special rules for the agreement of a verb with one subject are:

1. A collective subject singular, when not followed by de, or when followed by de + the singular, has regularly a singular verb:

Le peuple français est brave. Le sénat l'a décidé.

The French people are brave.

La plupart du monde le croit.

The senate has (or have) decided it.

Most people believe it.

2. A collective subject singular + de + a plural takes a plural verb, unless the sense of the collective be dominant: Une nuée de sauvages l'attaquèrent.

Une nuée de traits l'obscurcit. Une partie des soldats restent. Une partie des bourgeois protesta. Cette sorte de poires est chère.

A host of savages attacked him.

A cloud of arrows hid him. A part of the soldiers remain. A part of the citizens protested. This sort of pears is dear.

a. When so used, adverbs of quantity, e.g., beaucoup, peu, etc., the nouns nombre, quantité, without article, and la plupart, are regularly plural in sense; so also, force:

Beaucoup de gens pensent ainsi. Peu de gens le savent. Oue d'ennemis m'attaquent! Nombre d'Athéniens avaient fui. La plupart des soldats périrent. Force sots le tenteront.

Many people think so. Few people know it. How many enemies attack me! Many Athenians had fled. Most of the soldiers perished. Many a fool will try it.

b. Beaucoup, peu, combien, used absolutely, are singular or plural according to the sense of the de clause implied; la plupart when so used is generally plural:

Beaucoup (sc. de gens) le croient. Peu (sc. de ceci) me suffira. La plupart votèrent contre.

Many (sc. people) believe it. Little (sc. of this) will suffice me. The majority voted nay.

c. Plus d'un is singular, unless reciprocal or repeated, and moins de deux is plural:

Plus d'un témoin a déposé. Moins de deux ne valent rien. Plus d'un fripon se dupent l'un l'autre.

Plus d'un officier, plus d'un général furent tués.

More than one witness has sworn Less than two is no use.

More rogues than one cheat each other.

More than one officer, more than one general was killed.

3. Ce requires a plural verb only when the predicate is a plural noun, a plural pronoun of the third person, or when ce refers to a preceding plural:

Sont-ce vos amis? — Ce sont eux. Is it your friends? It is they. Ce doivent être les siens. Ce sont nos semblables. Ses désirs, ce sont sa loi.

Those must be his. They are our fellow-creatures. His desires are his law.

But: C'est moi; c'est toi; c'est lui; c'est nous; c'est vous.

a. The third singular is often used for the third plural in this construction, more especially in familiar language or to avoid harsh locutions.

Est-ce les Anglais que je crains? C'est eux qui l'ont fait. C'est des bêtises. Ne fût-ce que quelques lignes.

Is it the English that I fear? It is they who did it. That is stupidity. If it were only a few lines.

b. The verb with ce is singular when the predicate is a numeral + a noun of collective force:

C'est dix heures qui sonnent.

It is ten o'clock that is striking.

c. Si ce n'est is always singular:

Oui, si ce n'est nos parents? Who, if it is not our parents?

4. Il (impers.) always has a singular verb, whatever be the logical subject:

Il est arrivé bien des choses. Il en reste trois livres.

There have happened many things. There remain three pounds of it.

a. Importer is construed personally or impersonally: Ou'importe (importent) les dépens? What matters the cost?

233. Composite Subject. A verb common to two or more subjects is regularly plural; when the subjects differ in person, the verb agrees with the first person, if one subject is of the first person, otherwise with the second:

Tei et moi nous ne faisons qu'un. Sa sœur et lui sont là.

You and I are but one. His sister and he are there.

a. With subjects of different person, pleonastic nous, vous is generally used:

Vous et lui vous l'avez vu.

You and he have seen it.

b. With ou = or, $ni \dots ni = neither \dots nor$, the verb is singular if the sense is clearly alternative, i.e., the one subject excluding the other, otherwise generally plural; l'un ou l'autre is always singular:

Sa vie ou sa mort en dépend.

Ni lui ni votre frère n'aura ce poste.

Ni l'un ni l'autre ne sont bons. L'une ou l'autre viendra. L'un ou l'autre jour me convient. Either day suits me.

His life or death depends on it. Neither he nor your brother will have that post.

Neither is good. The one or the other will come.

c. If the subjects (generally without et) are synonymous, or nearly so, or form a climax, the verb may be singular:

Sa dignité, sa noblesse frappa tout le monde.

L'heure, le lieu, le bras se choisit aujourd'hui.

Une excuse, un mot le désarme.

His dignity, his nobility struck everybody.

The hour, the place, the arm are chosen to-day.

An excuse, a word disarms him.

d. When the subjects are recapitulated by a word in the singular. e.g., tout, rien, etc., the verb is singular agreeing with it:

Remords, crainte, périls, rien ne m'a retenue.

Remorse, fear, dangers, nothing deterred me.

e. With an intervening clause, e.g., ainsi que, plus que, etc., the subject is usually only apparently composite:

l'homme.

La vertu, plus que le savoir, élève Virtue, more than knowledge, elevates man.

f. Even with et the sense is occasionally singular, or distributive, or alternative, and a singular verb is required:

Le bien et le mal est en ta main. Good and ill are in thy hand. L'été est revenu et le soleil. Tombe Argos et ses murs.

Summer has returned and the sun. Let Argos and its walls fall.

234. Relative Subject. The verb agrees with the relative pronoun subject, which is itself of the number and person of the antecedent (see also Relative Pronoun, § 396):

C'est nous qui l'avons fait. Dieux (vous) qui m'exaucez!

It is we who have done it. (Ye) Gods who hear me!

POSITION OF SUBJECT

- 235. General Rule. The subject usually precedes the verb. Exceptions to this rule are noted in the following sections.
- 236. Interrogative Word Order. Direct interrogation is expressed as follows:
- 1. A personal pronoun subject (also ce or on) follows the verb, and is joined to it by a hyphen:

Parlez-vous français?

Do you speak French? Is it be?

Est-ce lui?

a. The letter -t- is inserted after a third singular with final vowel before a pronoun with initial vowel:

Parla-t-elle? Parle-t-on?

Did she speak? Do they speak?

b. A final e of the first singular takes acute accent, but with the sound of [E]:

Donné-je? [done:3]

Do I give?

2. A noun subject precedes the verb, and is repeated after it by a pleonastic pronoun; so also, possessive, demonstrative, and indefinite pronouns:

Cet homme parle-t-il anglais?

Cela est-il vrai?

Les miens ne sont-ils pas bons?

Does that man speak English?

Is that true?

Are mine not good?

3. Questions are also asked by interrogative words (adjectives, pronouns, adverbs):

Quel poète a écrit cela? À quelle heure partira son ami? Oui est là? Ou'v a-t-il?

Lequel des deux est parti? Combien coûte cela? Combien cela coûte-t-il?

What poet wrote that?

At what time will his friend go? Who is there? What is the matter?

Which of the two has gone?

How much does that cost?

- a. The word order of either of the last two examples is commonly permissible for noun subject under this rule.
- b. The word order of the last example is obligatory when the verb has a direct object (not reflexive), or a prepositional complement, or when ambiguity might arise; this arrangement is preferable with pourquoi? or when a compound tense is used:

Où le roi tient-il sa cour? De quoi le roi parle-t-il? Ouel prix le roi paya-t-il? Tean qui aime-t-il?

Pourquoi mon ami part-il?

Quand ce roi a-t-il été décapité?

Where does the king hold his court? Of what is the king speaking? What price did the king pay? Whom does John love? Why does my friend go? When was this king beheaded?

4. By prefixing est-ce que? a statement becomes a question without change in its word order:

Est-ce que vous partez? Quand est-ce que vous partez? When are you going away?

Are you going away?

a. The use of est-ce que? is permissible with all forms of the verb, but is obligatory with a monosyllabic first singular (except ai-je? suis-je? dis-je? dois-je? fais-je? puis-je? sais-je? vais-je? vois-je?), and is preferable to avoid forms like donné-je?:

Est-ce que je sers, moi? Est-ce que je parle de lui? Do I serve?

Do I speak of him?

5. Interrogation is also expressed by mere inflection of the voice, without change in word order:

Vous partez déjà?

You are going already?

- 237. Rhetorical Inversions. Owing to rhetorical considerations, the noun subject not uncommonly follows the verb, or the sentence assumes interrogative form, though not interrogative, as follows:
- 1. In interjected remarks explanatory of direct quotation, as in English:

Fais comme tu voudras, dit-il. Que veux-tu? demanda la mère.

Do as you please, said he.
What do you wish? asked the mother.

2. In optative clauses when que is omitted, and also after the rare omission of si, if:

Vive le roi! Périsse le tyran!

(Long) live the king! Perish the tyrant!

Voulait-il de l'argent, son père lui en donnait toujours.

If he wished money, his father always gave him some.

Ne fût-ce que pour cela.

If it were only for that.

3. Very commonly after certain adverbs and adverbial locutions:

Du moins devrait-il attendre. À peine le jour fut-il arrivé.

He should at least wait.

Hardly had the day arrived.

Such are:

à peine, hardly * aussi, hence aussi bien, moreover au moins, at least du moins, at least

* peut-être, perhaps encore, besides toujours, however tout au plus, at most toutefois, however en vain, in vain rarement, rarely probablement, probably du moins, at least d'autant plus, the more etc.

* Peut-être que does not cause inversion: Peut-être qu'il le fera, Perhaps he will do so.

4. Sometimes in exclamatory sentences:

Avons-nous crié!

Didn't we shout!

5. When a predicate adjective heads the phrase:

Telle fut la fin de Carthage. Such was the end of Carthage. Quelque riche que soit cet homme. However rich that man is.

Note. — All the above inversions, except the last given, may take place whatever be the nature of the subject, but the following rules do not usually hold good for a personal pronoun subject.

6. Very commonly in a relative clause, especially when a second relative clause qualifies its subject:

Il fera ce que peut faire un He will do what a man can who homme qui se respecte.

Dites-moi ce qu'a fait votre ami. Dis-moi où est ton ami.

Tell me what your friend did. Tell me where your friend is.

NOTE. — The relative is unstressed (proclitic), and naturally stands next the verb which governs it.

7. Commonly after c'est que, and in the second member of a comparative sentence:

C'est en vous qu'espèrent tous. J'en ai plus que n'en a mon ami.

It is in you that all hope.

I have more of it than my friend has.

8. Commonly when an adverb, other than those mentioned in (3) above, e.g., ainsi, bientôt, ici, là, etc., or an adverbial phrase heads the sentence:

Ainsi va le monde.

So goes the world.

Bientôt viendra le printemps.

Spring will soon come.

À la tête de l'armée fut porté l'étendard sacré.

At the head of the army was carried the sacred standard.

9. Quite exceptionally, when the verb comes first:

Viendra un autre.

(Along) will come another.

Note. - No inversion of noun subject usually occurs if the verb has a direct object or a prepositional complement.

238. Indirect Interrogation. It has no special rules of word order apart from those of the clause in which it occurs:

Dis-moi ce qu'il a dit.

Tell me what he said.

THE PASSIVE VOICE

239. Formation. The passive voice of a transitive verb is formed from the auxiliary être + the past participle, which agrees with the subject of the verb in gender and number:

Pres. Infin. Être loué(e) or loué(e)s, to be praised Perf. Infin. Avoir été loué(e) or loué(e)s, to have been praised

PRES. PART. Étant loué(e) or loué(e)s, being praised

PERF. PART. Avant été loué(e) or loué(e)s, having been praised

PRESENT INDICATIVE

I am (I am being) praised, etc.

je suis tu es il (elle) est nous sommes vous êtes lis (elles) sont Past Indefinite Indicative I have been (I was) praised, etc.

j'ai été tu as été il (elle) a été nous avons été vous avez été ils (elles) ont été etc., etc.

Obs.: 1. The past participle été is always invariable. 2. The past participle after vous agrees with the sense: Madame, vous serez méprisée de tous, Madam, you will be despised by all.

240. The Agent. The person by whom the action is done is usually denoted by par, when a specific intention or definite volition is implied, and by de when the action is habitual, usual, or indefinite, a condition rather than a definite action:

Elle fut saisie par le voleur.

Le général fut suivi de près par l'ennemi.

La reine était suivie de ses dames.

Ils sont aimés de tous.

She was seized by the thief.

The general was closely followed by the enemy.

The queen was followed by her

They are loved by everybody.

241. Remarks. 1. Only transitive verbs regularly have the passive voice, but the intransitive obéir, désobéir, pardonner (§ 296, 2) may also be made passive:

Vous êtes pardonnés tous. Elle est toujours obéie. You are all pardoned. She is always obeyed.

2. The passive is less used than in English, especially if the agent be not specified, or if the corresponding French verb is intransitive, or if an indirect object be present. Substitutes are:

a. A verb with the indefinite pronoun on:

On m'a trompé.
On me soupçonne.
On a répondu à ma question.
On lui a rendu l'argent.

I have been deceived.
I am suspected.

My question has been answered.

The money has been given back to him

b. A reflexive construction:

Ce livre se publie à Paris. La guerre se prolongea. Voilà ce qui se dit. This book is published in Paris.
The war was prolonged.
This (or that) is what is being said.

3. A transitive infinitive in French sometimes equals a passive in English, after verbs of 'perceiving,' (voir, etc.), after faire, laisser, and when à + an infinitive is used adjectivally (cf. § 284).

Le ferez-vous vendre? On entend dire cela. Une faute à éviter. Will you have it sold? You hear that said. A mistake to be avoided.

THE REFLEXIVE VERB

242. Compound Tenses. The auxiliary être + the past participle forms the compound tenses of all reflexive verbs, as follows:

PRES. INFIN. Se flatter, to flatter oneself

Perf. Infin. S'être flatté(e) or flatté(e)s, to have flattered oneself

PRES. PART. Se flattant, flattering oneself

Perf. Part. S'étant flatté(e) or flatté(e)s, having flattered oneself

Indicative

PRESENT

I flatter myself, etc.
je me flatte tu te flattes
il(elle) se flatte
nous nous flattons vous vous flattez
ils (elles) se flattent

Past Indefinite

I (have) flattered myself, etc.

je me suis
tu t'es | flatté(e)
il (elle) s'est |
nous nous sommes |
vous vous êtes | flatté(e)s

etc., etc.

ils (elles) se sont

Imperative

Flatter thyself, etc.
flatte-toi
(qu'il se flatte) flattons-nous flattez-vous
(qu'ils se flattent)

Do not flatter thyself, etc.

ne te flatte pas
(qu'il ne se flatte pas) ne nous flattons pas
ne vous flattez pas
(qu'ils ne se flattent pas)

Notes. — 1. Se flatter, se flattant, etc., are the infinitive and participial forms found in dictionaries, but se must be replaced by me, te, etc., according to the sense.

Except in the use of être as auxiliary, reflexive verbs have no peculiarities of conjugation on account of being reflexive.

243. Reflexive or Reciprocal. A reflexive verb often has reciprocal force, especially in the plural. Ambiguity is generally avoided by some modifying expression:

Elles se flattent.

Elles se flattent l'une l'autre. On se dupe mutuellement. They flatter themselves.
They flatter each other.
They flatter one another.
They cheat each other.

244. Agreement of Past Participle. 1. In compound tenses, the past participle of a reflexive agrees in gender and number with the direct object, as in the case of verbs compounded with avoir:

Elle s'est écriée.

Elle s'est dit à elle-même.

Ils se sont écrit.

Elles se sont acheté des robes.

She cried out.
She said to herself.
They wrote to each other.
They bought themselves dresses.

2. Besides the reflexive object, a direct object may precede the verb, and with this object the participle agrees:

Les plumes qu'ils se sont achetées. The pens they bought themselves. Notes.—1. The auxiliary être is considered as replacing avoir, and the above agreements are explained by the general principle (§ 291).

 The agreement with vous is according to the sense: Vous vous êtes trompée, madame, You were mistaken, madam.

245. Omission of Reflexive Object. 1. It is always omitted with the past participle used as attributive adjective:

Le temps écoulé.

The time past.

2. The infinitives of certain verbs, such as s'asseoir, se souvenir, se taire, regularly omit se when preceded by faire; but modern French has many exceptions.

Faites asseoir vos amis. Make your friends sit down. Je vous en ferai souvenir. I shall remind you of it. But also: Il la fit se souvenir de ... He reminded her of ...

- a. A similar omission of se sometimes occurs after laisser, entendre, voir. etc.
- 246. Remarks. The reflexive construction is much commoner in French than in English:
- 1. It often translates the English passive, especially when the agent is not specified:

La bourse s'est retrouvée. Cela se raconte partout.

The purse has been recovered. That is being told everywhere.

2. Or it is expressed by an English non-reflexive verb. generally intransitive:

S'arrêter: s'écrier: se porter. Stop: exclaim: be (of health). S'asseoir; se hâter; se tromper. Sit down; hasten; be mistaken.

3. Or the French reflexive + a preposition has the value of an English transitive:

S'approcher de; se douter de. S'attendre à; se fier à. Se passer de; se souvenir de.

Approach; suspect. Expect: trust. Do without; recollect.

247. S'en Aller. The conjugation of s'en aller, to go away, presents special difficulty:

PRESENT INDICATIVE I go away, etc. ie m'en vais tu t'en vas il s'en va nous nous en allons vous vous en allez ils s'en vont

PAST INDEFINITE INDICATIVE I have gone (I went) away, etc. je m'en suis tu t'en es } allé(e) il (elle) s'en est nous nous en sommes vous vous en êtes allé(e)s ils (elles) s'en sont

IMPERATIVE

Go away, etc.

va-t'en

(qu'il s'en aille)

allons-nous-en allez-vous-en

(qu'ils s'en aillent)

Further examples:

Est-ce que je m'en vais? Vous en allez-vous? S'en sont-elles allées?

IMPERATIVE NEGATIVE

Do not go away, etc.

ne t'en va pas (qu'il ne s'en aille pas) ne nous en allons pas

ne vous en allez pas (qu'ils ne s'en aillent pas)

Ils ne s'en sont pas allés. Ne nous en sommes-nous pas allé(e)s?

IMPERSONAL VERBS

248. Conjugation. An impersonal verb, or a verb used as such, is one conjugated, in the third singular only, with the subject il = it, there, used indefinitely and absolutely, e.g., tonner, to thunder:

Indicative

Pres. Il tonne, it thunders

Imper. Il tonnait, it thundered

Plupp. Il avait tonné, it has thundered

Plupp. Il avait tonné, it has thundered Past Def. Il tonna, it thundered Past Ant. Il eut tonné, it had thundered etc., etc., like the third singular of donner

Note. — Apart from being limited to the third singular, their conjugation does not differ from that of ordinary verbs. Some are regular, others irregular.

249. Use of Impersonals. 1. Verbs denoting natural phenomena and time are impersonal, as in English:

Il tonne; il a plu; il pleuvra.

Il a gelé hier; il dégèle.

Il est une heure; il est tard.

It thunders; it rained; it will rain. It froze vesterday; it is thawing.

It is one o'clock; it is late.

Such verbs are:

pleuvoir, rain neiger, snow

grêler, hail éclairer. lighten

geler, freeze dégeler, thaw

2. Faire = make, is also much used impersonally to describe weather, temperature, etc.:

Quel temps fait-il?
Il fait beau (temps) ce matin.
Il a fait bien froid hier.
Il faisait du vent aussi.
Est-ce qu'il fera obscur ce soir?
Il fait des éclairs.

What kind of weather is it? It is fine (weather) this morning. It was very cold yesterday. It was windy too. Will it be dark this evening? It is lightning.

Obs.: Distinguish these from constructions with a personal subject; Le temps est beau, The weather is fine; L'eau est froide, The water is cold.

250. Impersonal avoir and être. 1. The verb avoir, preceded by y, used impersonally = there is, there are, there was, there were, etc.:

Il y a. Il y a eu. Y a-t-il? Il n'y a pas. Il n'y a pas eu. Y a-t-il eu? N'y a-t-il pas eu?

There is. There has been. Is there?
There is not. There has not been.
Has there been? Has there not been?

Y aura-t-il? Il peut y avoir.

Will there be? There may be.

- 2. Il est is sometimes used for il y a in this sense:

 Il est des hommes qui le croient. There are men who think so.
- 3. Il y a = there is, there are, is distinguished from voilà = there is, there are. Voilà answers the question 'where is?' 'where are?' and makes a specific statement about an object to which attention is directed by pointing or the like, while il y a does not answer the question 'where is?' 'where are?' and makes a general statement.

Il y a des plumes sur la table. Voilà les plumes sur la table. There are pens on the table.

There are the pens on the table.

4. Y avoir also forms idiomatic expressions of time, reckoned backwards, and of distance:

Ils sont arrivés il y a trois jours. Il y avait trois jours que j'étais là. Combien y a-t-il d'ici à la ville? Il y a dix milles d'ici à la ville. They came three days ago.

I had been there three days.

How far is it to the city?

It is ten miles from here to the city.

- 251. Falloir = be necessary, expresses the various meanings of must, be obliged to, have to, need, as follows:
 - 1. Must + infinitive = falloir + que and subjunctive:

Il faut que je parte.

Il faudra que vous restiez.

I must go.

You will have to (be obliged to) stay.

2. Or the subject of must, etc., if a personal pronoun, may become indirect object of falloir + an infinitive:

Il me faudrait rester.

I should be obliged to remain.

Il leur faut faire cela.

They must do that.

Il lui a fallu parler.

He was forced (obliged) to speak.

3. The infinitive construction without indirect object is used in general or indefinite statement:

Il faut faire son devoir.

One must do one's duty.

Il ne faut pas voler. We must not steal.

4. Falloir + an indirect object and a substantive signifies lack, need:

Il faut une ardoise à Jean. Il leur faudra cent francs. John needs a slate.

They will need a hundred francs.

5. S'en falloir = lack:

Il s'en faut de beaucoup que l'un vaille l'autre.

The one is not nearly so good as the other.

252. Other Impersonals. 1. Besides faire and avoir, already noted, many other verbs take a special meaning as impersonals:

De quoi s'agit-il?

Il est souvent arrivé que, etc.

Il vaudra mieux ne rien dire.

Il y va de ses jours.

Il se peut que je me trompe.

What is the matter?

It has often happened that, etc. It will be better to say nothing.

His life is at stake.

It may be that I am mistaken.

Obs.: Compare the literal meanings: agir, act, arriver, arrive, valoir, be worth, aller, go, pouvoir, be able.

2. Many verbs may stand in the third singular with impersonal il representing a logical subject, singular or plural, following the verb:

Il viendra un meilleur temps.

Il en reste trois livres.

Il est arrivé des messagers.

There will come a happier time.

There remain three pounds of it.

Messengers have arrived.

253. Omission of il. It is understood in certain phrases, such as:

Reste à savoir.

It remains to be seen.

No matter (it matters not).

N'importe.
Mieux vaut tard que jamais.

Better late than never.

THE INDICATIVE MOOD

254. Use of Indicative. The indicative is the mood of direct or indirect assertion, and of direct or indirect interrogation. It stands both in principal and in subordinate clauses, both affirmative and negative:

Dieu créa le monde.

God created the world.

Moïse dit que Dieu créa le monde.

Moses says that God created the world.

Où allez-vous?

Where are you going?

Dites-moi où vous allez. Je le ferais, si je pouvais. Tell me where you are going.

I should do so if I could.

Notes. — 1. It should be noted especially that the indicative is regularly the mood of indirect discourse and of 'if' clauses.

2. When the verb of a subordinate clause is subjunctive, the mood is determined by the context, and not simply by the fact that the clause is subordinate.

TENSES OF THE INDICATIVE

255. Periphrastic Forms. Such forms, so common in English, are not used in French:

Je parle. Il a écrit. Il disait. I speak (am speaking, do speak). He has written (has been writing). He was saying (used to say, etc.).

256. Elliptical Forms. Ellipsis of part of a verb form is common in English; in French the form is either fully given or entirely avoided:

J'irai. — Moi, je n'irai pas. Il a promis de venir, mais il n'est pas venu. I shall go. — I shall not (go).
He promised to come, but he did not (come).

Il est venu. - Vraiment! Vous viendrez, n'est-ce pas? Il était sorti, n'est-ce pas?

He has come. — Has he! (Indeed!) You will come, will you not? He had gone out, had he not?

257. Present Indicative. The present tense is used:

1. To denote what is happening, including the habitual and the universally true:

Te crois qu'il pleut. Il se lève toujours de bon matin. L'homme propose et Dieu dispose.

I think it is raining. He always rises early. Man proposes and God disposes.

2. To denote what has happened and still continues, after il y a ... que, voici (voilà) ... que, depuis, depuis quand? depuis ... que:

Depuis quand attendez-vous? Il y a (or voici, voilà) trois jours que j'attends, or j'attends depuis trois jours.

How long have you been waiting? I have waited (I have been waiting) for three days.

3. Instead of a past tense in animated narrative:

César se présente, etc.

La nuit approche, l'instant arrive, Night draws on, the moment comes. Cæsar appears, etc.

- a. This use is much commoner than in English, especially side by side with past tenses. It is called the 'Historical Present.'
- b. C'est ... que +a past tense = was ... that: C'est là que je l'ai vu. It was there that I saw him.
 - 4. Instead of a future in familiar style:

Nous partons demain matin. We go to-morrow morning.

5. As a virtual future after si = if:

Te serai content, si vous venez. I shall be glad if you (will) come.

- 258. Imperfect Indicative. The action or state denoted by the imperfect is in general viewed as being in progress. i.e., as contemporaneous, customary, continued, etc., and it is employed as follows:
- 1. To denote what was happening, when something else happened or was happening:

Il était nuit, quand je sortis. It was night when I went out. Il parlait, pendant que je chantais. He was talking while I sang.

2. To denote what used to happen:

Il se levait de bon matin. Je parlais souvent de cela. He used to rise early. I often spoke (used to speak, would speak) of that.

Les Romains brûlaient leurs morts. The Romans were accustomed to burn their dead.

3. To denote what continued to happen:

meurait dans cette rue.

Son père était négociant et de- His father was a merchant and lived in this street.

4. To denote what had happened and still continued, after il y a...que, voici (voilà)...que, depuis, depuis quand? depuis ... que (cf. § 257, 2):

Je le disais depuis longtemps. J had long been saying so. Voilà un an que je le disais.

I had been saying so for a year.

5. In indirect discourse, after a past tense, instead of the present:

Je croyais qu'il revenait. Je demandai où il était. But: Où est-il? demandai-je. I thought he was coming back. I asked where he was.

"Where is he?" I asked.

6. Regularly in an 'if' clause when the 'result' clause is conditional:

S'il venait, je serais content.

If he came, I should be glad.

7. Occasionally, instead of the conditional anterior in conditional sentences:

Si je ne l'avais pas arrêté, il tombait (= serait tombé) du train.

Had I not stopped him he would have fallen from the train.

8. Sometimes instead of the past definite (§ 260):

Un moment après, le père Alphée se dressait, marchait à grands pas, voilà, s'écriait-il, etc.

A moment afterwards, Father Alpheus rose, walked about with great strides, "There," cried he. etc.

259. Past Indefinite. The past indefinite is used:

1. To denote what has happened or has been happening, equivalent to an English tense with 'have,' reference to the present being implied:

J'ai fini mon ouvrage.
L'avez-vous vu dernièrement?
Je l'ai souvent rencontré.
l'ai chanté toute la matinée.

I have finished my work. Have you seen him lately? I have often met him. I have been singing all morning.

2. In familiar style, spoken or written, to denote a past event, without implied reference to the present, or a succession of such past events as mark the progress of a narrative, answering the question 'What happened?' or 'What happened next?' For narrative in the literary style, see § 260:

Je l'ai vu il y a dix ans.

Je l'ai vu il y a dix ans.

De quoi est-il mort?

J'ai quitté Rome le dix. Puis je suis allé voir des amis à Lyon, j'ai passé quelques jours à Paris, et je suis revenu à Londres hier.

They arrived this evening.

I saw him ten years ago.

What did he die of?

I left Rome on the tenth. Then
I visited some friends at Lyons,
I spent some days in Paris, and I came back to London vesterday.

3. Occasionally instead of a future anterior:

Attendez, j'ai bientôt fini. Wait, I shall have finished soon.

260. Past Definite. The past definite denotes a past event, or a succession of such past events as mark the progress of the narrative, answering the question 'What happened?' or 'What happened next?' Its use is largely confined to literary or "book" French, and formal public address. It is not much used in conversation or in easy correspondence:

Dieu créa le monde. La guerre dura sept ans.

On força le palais, les scélérats n'osèrent pas résister longtemps et ne songèrent qu'à fuir. Astarbé voulut se sauver dans la foule, mais un soldat la reconnut; elle fut prise. God created the world. The war lasted seven years.

They broke into the palace, the villains did not dare to resist long, and only thought of fleeing. Astarbé tried to escape in the crowd, but a soldier recognized her; she was captured.

a. Some verbs have a special force in the past definite:

Être: je fus. To be: I became.

Avoir: j'eus. To have: I received.

Savoir: je sus. To know: I found out (learned).

Connaître: je connus. To know: I realized.

In this force fus and sus are common, the other two less so.

261. Examples of Narrative. 1. The following examples illustrate the principal uses of the past definite, imperfect, past indefinite, and historical present, in the literary narrative style:

Les Turcs, qui cependant entouraient cette maison tout embrasée, voyaient avec une admiration mêlée d'épouvante que les Suédois n'en sortaient point; mais leur étonnement fut encore plus grand lorsqu'ils virent ouvrir les portes, et le roi et les siens fondre sur eux en désespérés. Charles et ses principaux officiers étaient armés d'épées et de pistolets: chacun tira deux coups à la fois à l'instant que la porte s'ouvrit; et dans le même clin d'œil, jetant leurs pistolets et s'armant de leurs épées, ils firent reculer les Turcs plus de cinquante pas; mais le moment d'après cette petite troupe fut entourée: le roi, qui était en bottes selon sa coutume, s'embarrassa dans ses éperons, et tomba; vingt et un janissaires se jettent aussitôt sur lui: il jette en l'air son épée pour s'épargner la douleur de la rendre; les Turcs l'emmènent au quartier du bacha. — Voltaire.

Stanislas se déroba un jour à dix heures du soir de l'armée suédoise qu'il commandait en Poméranie, et partit avec le baron Sparre, qui a été depuis ambassadeur en Angleterre et en France, et avec un autre colonel: il prend le nom d'un Français, nommé Haran, alors major au service de Suède, et qui est mort depuis commandant de Dantzick.

- Voltaire.

2. So nearly identical may be the force of the past definite and the past indefinite, as narrative tenses, that they are often used interchangeably, as in the following extract, taken from a newspaper:

Londres, 5 août. — Hier soir, à onze heures et demie, un incendie a éclaté dans l'atelier de composition de la National Press Agency. Plusieurs pompes à vapeur arrivèrent immédiatement sur le lieu du sinistre, et l'incendie s'étendit avec une telle rapidité, que toute la maison a été complètement détruite. — Le Matin.

262. Pluperfect and Past Anterior. 1. Both denote what 'had happened,' like the English pluperfect:

Lorsque je l'avais (eus) fini.

When I had finished it.

2. The pluperfect is of much commoner occurrence than the past anterior, and is used after $\mathbf{si} = if$, in conditional clauses, or when custom, continuance, etc., is implied (but cf. §§ 258, 275, b):

Si je l'avais vu, je l'aurais dit. Had I seen it, I should have said so. J'avais toujours fini avant midi. I always had finished before noon.

3. The past anterior denotes what had happened immediately before another past event. It is rarely used except after conjunctions of time, such as lorsque, quand, après que, aussitôt que, ne...pas plus tôt...que, etc.:

Après qu'il eut dîné, il partit.

After he had dined, he set out.

263. Future. The future is used:

1. To denote what will happen:

Ils viendront demain. They will come to-morrow.

Je les verrai bientôt. I shall see them soon.

Je ne sais pas s'il viendra. I know not whether he will come.

a. Distinguish English 'will' of futurity from 'will' of volition, and from 'will' of habitual action:

Il ne restera pas. He will not stay.

Il ne veut pas rester. He will not stay.

Ce chasseur reste souvent dans les bois pendant des mois entiers.

That hunter will often remain whole months in the woods.

b. Observe the following commonly occurring forms:

Ne voulez-vous pas rester? Will you not stay?
Voulez-vous que je reste? Shall I stay?
Je ne resterai pas. I shall not stay.

2. Regularly in a subordinate clause of implied futurity:

Payez-le quand il viendra.

Pay him when he comes.

Paites comme vous voudrez.

Do as you please.

Tant que je vivrai. As long as I live.

3. To denote probability, conjecture, or possibility, etc.:

La nef appartient au XII^e siècle, mais le chœur sera du XV^e. The nave belongs to the 12th century, but the choir is probably of the 15th.

4. Sometimes with imperative force:

Tu ne tueras point.

Thou shalt not kill.

Vous voudrez bien m'écouter.

Be good enough to hear me.

a. This use is common in official style (edicts, etc.).

264. Future Anterior. The future anterior is used:

1. To denote what will have happened:

Il aura bientôt fini.

He will soon have done.

2. To denote implied futurity (cf. § 263, 2), probability, conjecture, or possibility, etc. (cf. § 263, 3):

Quand vous serez rentré je sortirai.

When you have come home, I shall go out.

Je me serai trompé.

I must have made a mistake.

265. Conditional. 1. The main use of the conditional is to denote result dependent on condition, i.e., what would happen in case something else were to happen:

Je serais content, s'il venait.

I should be glad if he came.

a. The condition on which the result would depend is often merely implied, but not formally stated:

Hésiter serait une faiblesse.

To hesitate would be weakness.

b. Distinguish English 'should' of duty, etc., 'would' of volition, and 'would' of past habit, from conditional 'should' and 'would':

Te devrais partir.

I should (ought to) set out.

Il ne voulait pas écouter.

He would not listen.

J'allais souvent le voir.

I would often go to see him.

2. It corresponds to an English past in a subordinate clause of implied futurity (cf. § 263, 2):

Te prendrais ce qui resterait.

I should take what remained.

3. In indirect discourse, it denotes what was once future and is now regarded as past, i.e., the original future of the assertion or question becomes a conditional when in a clause subordinate to a verb in a past tense:

Je croyais qu'il pleuvrait. A-t-il dit s'il le ferait? But: Je le ferai, dit-il. I thought it would rain. Did he say whether he would do so? "I shall do so," said he.

4. It is used in statement or request expressed with deference or reserve:

Je le croirais au moins. Auriez-vous la bonté d'y aller? Cela ne serait jamais vrai. Je ne saurais vous le dire. Je voudrais qu'il fût (soit) ici. I should think so, at least.
Would you have the kindness to go?
That never could (can) be true
I cannot tell you.
I wish he were here.

5. It sometimes denotes probability, conjecture, or possibility, etc., in exclamations and questions (cf. § 263, 3):

Serait-il vrai qu'il l'ait dit? Serait-il possible? Can it be true that he said so? Can (could) it be possible?

6. It sometimes denotes concession after quand, quand même, or with que:

Quand (même) il me tuerait, etc. Vous me le jureriez que je ne vous croirais pas. Even if he should kill me, etc.

Even if you swore it to me, I should not believe you.

7. It is used to give the substance of hearsay information: À ce qu'on dit, le roi serait malade. By what they say, the king is ill.

266. Conditional Anterior. Its uses are precisely parallel with those of the conditional (§ 265); it denotes what would have happened, etc., etc.;

Je serais parti, s'il était venu. Selon les journaux, la guerre se serait déclarée hier soir. I should have gone had he come. According to the newspapers, war was declared last evening.

267. Imperative Mood. It is used in general as in English:

Lisez-le. Ne le lisez pas. Allons-nous-en à présent. Veuillez m'écouter.

Read it. Do not read it. Let us go away now. Be good enough to hear me. a. The first plural sometimes serves instead of the lacking first singular:

Soyons digne de ma naissance. Pensons un moment. Let me be worthy of my birth. Let me think a moment.

b. The imperatives va, allons, allez, voyons, often have special idiomatic force:

Allons donc! Allons, du courage! J'en suis content, allez! Voyons, que pensez-vous?

Nonsense! Come, courage! I am glad of it, I can assure you! Come now, what do you think?

c. An imperative perfect is rare:

Ayez fini votre tâche ce soir.

Have your task done to-night.

THE SUBJUNCTIVE MOOD

- 268. General Function. The subjunctive denotes, in general, what is viewed as being desirable or undesirable, uncertain, contingent, or the like, and usually stands in a subordinate clause.
- 269. Subjunctive in Noun Clause. The subjunctive is used in a clause introduced by que and serving as logical subject or as object of a verb:
- 1. After expressions of desiring (including willing, wishing, preferring) and avoiding:

Je désire (veux) qu'il parte. Voulez-vous que je reste? Je souhaite qu'il ait du succès. Il préfère que vous restiez. Évitez qu'il (ne) vous voie. I desire (wish) him to go.

2. After expressions of commanding (including requesting, exhorting), forbidding, consenting:

Vous ordonnez que je m'en aille. Te demande que vous me payiez. Dis-leur qu'ils soient prêts. Le médecin défend que je sorte. Je consens que cela se fasse.

So also, dire, tell, écrire, write, entendre, mean, prétendre, intend, when denoting command.

a. The future or conditional often stands after arrêter, commander, décider, décréter, etc., especially when the subject is a word denoting final authority, such as cour, roi, etc.:

Le roi décrète qu'il sera pendu. The king decrees that he shall be hanged.

b. The subjunctive after empêcher usually has ne: Empêchez qu'il ne sorte.

Prevent his going out.

3. After expressions of judgment or opinion involving approval or disapproval:

J'approuve qu'il revienne. Il mérite qu'on le craigne. Il vaut mieux que vous restiez. Je tiens beaucoup à ce qu'il y soit.

I approve of his coming back. He deserves to be feared. It is better for you to stay. I am very anxious that he should be there.

a. When it is feared something will happen the subjunctive has ne; when it is feared something will not happen the subjunctive has ne... pas; when the expression of fearing is negative, or interrogative, or conditional, ne is usually omitted; with double negation ne...pas stands in both (see also § 419 and Appendix referring to § 419):

Je crains qu'il ne vienne. Je crains qu'il ne vienne pas. Je ne crains pas qu'il vienne. Craignez-vous qu'il vienne? I fear he will come.

I fear he will not come.

I do not fear he will come.

Ne craignez-vous pas qu'il ne vienne?

Si je craignais qu'il vint.

Je ne crains pas qu'il ne vienne pas.

b. After expressions of emotion or sentiment (except fear), which admit de after them, de ce que + indicative may be used:

1'ai honte de ce qu'il a échoué.

I am ashamed that he failed.

5. After expressions of doubt, denial, despair, ignorance, or very slight probability:

Il doute que je sois loyal.

Je nie que cela soit vrai.

Il est rare que vous ayez tort.

a. Douter si (= if, whether) requires the indicative:

Il doute si je suis loyal. He doubts if (whether) I am honest.

b. Il semble regularly has the subjunctive, since it indicates slight probability as distinguished from il paraît = it appears, is evident, and il me semble = it appears to me (personal conviction; but cf. 6, c):

Il semble que vous me craigniez. It seems that you fear me.

If me semble (il paraît) que vous

The seems to me (it appears) that you

The rear me.

c. Verbs of doubt and denial used negatively or interrogatively regularly require ne in the subjunctive clause:

Je ne nie pas que je ne le sois. I do not deny that I am such.

d. Ignorer + negative = know well, and hence takes indicative:
 Je n'ignore pas qu'il a menti.
 I know well he has lied.

Note. — Peut-être que, perhaps, and sans doute que, doubtless, require the indicative.

6. After expressions of perceiving, thinking, knowing, declaring, resulting, but only when uncertainty or doubt is implied by negation, interrogation, or condition; otherwise the indicative:

Verra-t-on que j'aie pleuré? Je ne crois pas que ce soit lui. Espérez-vous qu'il réussisse? Je ne suis pas sûr qu'il vienne. Si je prétendais qu'il eût tort. But: Je crois que c'est lui. l'espère qu'il réussira.

Will they see that I have wept? I do not think that that is he. Do you hope he will succeed? I am not sure he will come. If I claimed that he was wrong, I think it is he. I hope he will succeed.

+ évident. evident + sûr, sure + démontré, demonstrated + vraisemblable, probable + incontestable, indisput- il résulte, it follows il me semble, it seems to

a. Negative question usually implies affirmation; hence the indicative:

+ probable, probable

Don't you think he is handsome? Ne trouves-tu pas qu'il est beau?

b. When what the speaker regards as fact follows the negative or conditional clause, or when a person is questioned as to his knowledge of what is regarded as fact, the indicative stands:

Il ne croit pas que je suis ici. S'il savait que tu es ici. Savez-vous qu'il est arrivé?

He does not believe I am here. If he knew you were here. Do you know that he has come? c. Il ne me semble pas is followed by the subjunctive, but in negative interrogation by the indicative (cf. also 5, b):

Il ne me semble pas qu'il soit fou. It does not seem to me he is mad. Ne vous semble-t-il pas qu'il est fou? Does it not seem to you he is mad?

d. A preceding dependent clause with this class of verbs always has the subjunctive:

Ou'il ait échoué, je le sais. That he has f

That he has failed, I know.

Note. — For the choice between que clause and infinitive see § 283.

- 270. Subjunctive in Adjectival Clause. The subjunctive is used as follows in clauses introduced by a relative pronoun:
- 1. When purpose regarding the antecedent, or unattained result is implied:

Montrez-moi un chemin qui conduise à la science.

Je cherche un endroit où je sois en paix. Show me a way which leads to knowledge.

I seek a place where I may be in peace.

a. The indicative, however, is used to express what is regarded as fact or certain result:

Montrez-moi le chemin qui conduit à la ville.

J'irai où je serai libre.

Show me the road which leads to the town.

I shall go where I shall be free.

2. When the principal clause contains general negation, interrogation implying negative answer, or condition (all of which imply non-existence of the antecedent):

Il n'a pas de raison qui vaille. As-tu un seul ami qui soit fidèle? Si j'ai un ami qui soit fidèle c'est lui. He has no reason worth anything. Have you one friend who is true? If I have one friend who is true, it is he.

a. General negation is sometimes merely implied:

Il y a peu de gens qui le sachent. There are few people who know it.

b. When the negation is not general, or when the interrogation does not imply negative answer, the indicative stands:

Ce n'est pas vous que je crains. It is not you that I fear. N'est-ce point un songe que je vois! Is it not a dream that I see!

c. In a negative relative clause ne, not ne ... pas, is used when the principal clause is negative or implies negation:

En est-il un seul qui ne tremble? Is there one who does not tremble?

3. When the antecedent is qualified by a superlative, or by seul, unique, premier, dernier (all with superlative force);

C'est le meilleureami que i'aie. C'est le seul ami que j'aie.

He is the best friend that I have. He is the only friend I have.

a. What is stated unreservedly as fact requires the indicative:

C'est la seule chose qu'il a dite. It is the only thing he said.

4. With concessive force in compound relative and indefinite clauses (= 'whoever,' 'whatever,' etc.):

Quoi que vous fassiez.

Qui qu'on y puisse élire.

Qui que tu sois, parle! Quelles que soient vos raisons. Whatever you do.

Whosoever may be elected to it.

271. Subjunctive in Adverbial Clause. The subjunctive is used in clauses of adverbial force, as follows:

1. After conjunctions of time before which or up to which (avant que, en attendant que, jusqu'à ce que):

Dis-le-lui, avant qu'il parte.

Tell it to him before he goes. Assevez-vous, en attendant qu'il Sit down until he comes back.

revienne.

avez réussi.

Persévérez jusqu'à ce que vous Persevere till you have succeeded.

a. Jusqu'à ce que may have the indicative when referring to completed past event:

He remained till I came back. Il v resta jusqu'à ce que je revins.

2. After conjunctions of purpose or result (afin que, pour que, de crainte que, de peur que):

l'écris ceci afin que (pour que) vous sachiez la vérité.

bát.

I write this in order that you may know the truth.

Je le tins de crainte qu'il ne tom- I held him for fear he should fall.

a. So also, de sorte que, en sorte que, de telle sorte que, de façon que, de manière que, tel... que, tellement... que, when denoting purpose, but not result:

Agis de sorte que tu réussisses. Act in such a way as to succeed. But: J'ai agi de sorte que j'ai réussi. I acted so that I succeeded.

- 3. After conjunctions of condition (en cas que, au cas que, à moins que...ne, pourvu que, supposé que, en supposant que):
- Je viendrai au cas que je sois I shall come in case I am free tolibre demain, ou à moins que morrow, or unless I am detained.
- a. After $\mathbf{si} = if$, the pluperfect subjunctive stands exceptionally (§ 275, b).
- b. The present subjunctive sometimes expresses condition:
 Vienne l'ennemi, il s'enfuit.
 If the enemy comes, he flees.
- c. Â (la) condition que takes indicative, conditional, or subjunctive:

 Je lui donne l'argent à (la) condition tion qu'il partira (or parte).

 I give him the money on condition that he will go.

Note. — Dans le cas où, au cas où usually have conditional: Au cas où cela serait vrai, In case that should be true.

4. After conjunctions of concession (quoique, bien que, encore que, nonobstant que, soit que ... soit que or ou que, pour (si) peu que, si tant est que, malgré que):

Bien qu'il soit malade, il sortira. Although he is ill, he will go out.

Pour peu qu'il fût malade, il se croyait mourant.

Although he is ill, he will go out.

If he were ever so little ill, he thought himself dying.

- a. The present subjunctive with que sometimes has concessive force:
 Qu'il perde ou gagne, il partira. Though he lose or win, he will go.
- b. The use of a subjunctive after adverbial quelque (tout, si, etc.) + que = however depends on the same principle:

Quelque grand que vous soyez. However great you may be.
Si brave qu'il se croie. However brave he thinks himself.

c. Quand (même) used concessively sometimes takes the pluperfect subjunctive for the conditional anterior (cf. \S 265, 6):

Quand (même) il m'eût dit cela. Even if he had told me that.

5. After conjunctions of negative force (non que, non pas que, loin que, sans que):

Il partit sans que je le susse. He went away without my knowing it.

6. After que replacing any conjunction requiring the subjunctive, and also after que replacing si = if:

Venez que (= afin que, pour que) Come, that I may see you. je vous voie.

Si je viens et que je le voie.

If I come, and if I see him.

- 272. Subjunctive in Principal Clause. The subjunctive is sometimes used in principal clauses, as follows:
- 1. Either with or without que to denote what is desired, etc.:

Ainsi soit-il! Vive le roi!
Plût à Dieu qu'il en fût ainsi!
Qu'il parte tout de suite.
(Que) je meure, si je mens!
Le croie qui voudra!

So be it! (Long) live the king! Would to God it were so! Let him go at once. May I die if I am lying! Let him believe it who will!

a. Que followed by the third person present subjunctive regularly serves as an imperative; so also, sometimes, the first singular:

Qu'il parte. Que je vous entende. Let him go.

Let me hear you.

Note. — This construction, as also those without que, may be explained by ellipsis of some expression of desire, command, etc. (§ 269, 1, 2).

2. The present subjunctive first singular of savoir is sometimes used to denote modified assertion:

Je ne sache rien de plus beau. I know nothing finer.

3. The pluperfect subjunctive stands exceptionally for conditional anterior in a 'result' clause (cf. $\S 275, b$):

S'il eût (or avait) su cela, il ne l'eût (or avait) pas dit.

If he had known that, he would not have said it.

273. Tense Sequence. The tense of the subjunctive is usually determined by the tense of the finite verb in the governing clause, as follows:

1a. A present (including present subjunctive and imperative) or a future, in the governing clause, requires the present subjunctive in the governed clause in order to denote incomplete action:

Je doute Quoique je doute Doutez Je douterai

I doubt that (whether) he will come.
Though I doubt that he will come.
Doubt that he will come.
I shall doubt that he will come.

1b. But if we wish to denote completed action the perfect subjunctive must be used:

Je doute qu'il soit venu.

I doubt that he has come.

2a. Any other tense than the above (i.e., an imperfect, past definite, past indefinite, conditional, etc.) requires the imperfect subjunctive in order to denote incomplete action:

Je doutais Quoique je doutasse { Je doutai } { J'ai douté } Je douterais qu'il vînt.

I doubted whether he would come.

Though I doubted that he would come.

I doubted that he would come.

I should doubt that he would come.

2b. But if we wish to denote completed action, the pluperfect subjunctive must be used:

Je doutais qu'il fût J'aurais douté venu.

I doubted that he had come.

I should have doubted that he had come.

- 3. The following exceptional cases depend mainly on the sense of the context:
 - a. J'ai douté qu'il vienne. I have doubted that he will come.
- b. After verbs of saying, believing, etc., a governing present may take a past subjunctive and vice versa:

Je ne dis pas qu'il fût à blâmer. Il ne croyait pas qu'il y ait un Dieu. I do not say he was to blame. He did not believe that there is a God.

c. In a relative clause a past indefinite may stand for a pluperfect:

Il portait cet habit la seule fois He was wearing that coat the only que je l'aie vu.

time that I saw him.

d. The conditional of modified assertion (§ 265, 4), being virtually a present, is commonly followed by the present subjunctive:

Je désirerais que vous veniez. Il faudrait qu'il s'en aille. I should like you to come. He would have to go.

e. The imperfect or pluperfect subjunctive, with the force of an English conditional, may follow any tense:

Il n'y a pas de rang qu'elle ne bût tenir.

There is no rank she could not hold.

Je doute qu'il jouât (eût joué), s'il avait (avait eu) de l'argent.

I doubt that he would play (would have played) if he had (had had) money.

CONDITIONAL SENTENCES

274. Typical Form. A conditional sentence consists regularly of two parts: the condition, introduced by $\mathbf{si} = if$, and the result:

Si j'avais le temps, j'irais à B. If I had time, I should go to B.

a. The condition may, of course, either precede or follow the result:

Irez-vous à B, s'il pleut?

Will you go to B if it rains?

S'il ne fait pas beau, je n'irai pas.

If it is not fine, I shall not go.

b. The condition is often disguised or implied, or the result understood:

Hésiter serait une faiblesse. Je n'irais pas (si j'étais de lui). Ah! si j'étais à sa place. To hesitate would be weakness. I should not go (if I were he). Ah, if I were in his place!

275. Mood and Tense. A 'result' clause in the present indicative, imperative, or future, regularly requires the 'if' clause in the present indicative; a 'result' clause in the conditional regularly requires the 'if' clause in the imperfect indicative:

S'il a le temps, il y va. S'il a le temps, dites-lui de venir. If he has time, he goes there. If he has (have, will have, should have) time, tell him to come. S'il a le temps, il viendra.

S'il avait le temps, il viendrait.

If he has (have, will have, should have) time, he will come.

If he had (had he, were he to have, if he should have, should he have) time, he would come.

Obs.: The condition is regularly expressed by the indicative present or imperfect, whatever be the corresponding English form.

a. The above rules hold good for compound tenses, the auxiliary being considered as the verb:

S'il l'a dit, il le fera.

S'il est venu, faites-le-moi savoir.

S'il a eu le temps, il sera venu.

Si j'avais eu le temps, je serais parti.

S'il était brave, il aurait fait cela.

If he has said it, he will do it. If he has come, let me know.

If he has had time, he will have

If I had had time, I should have gone.

If he were brave, he would have done that.

b. Sometimes, in literary style, the pluperfect subjunctive stands in the 'if' clause, or in the 'result' clause, or in both:

S'il eût (or avait) su cela, il ne l'eût (or aurait) pas dit.

Had he known that, he would not have said so.

c. Occasionally the imperfect indicative stands in the 'if' clause instead of the pluperfect, and in the 'result' clause instead of the conditional anterior:

Si Stanislas demeurait (= était demeuré), il était (= aurait été) perdu.

If Stanislas had remained, he would have been lost.

d. Occasionally the condition is expressed by inversion, without si:

N'était-ce la crainte de cela. Eût-il été moins riche. If it were not for fear of that. If he had been poorer.

e. A virtual condition (concession) is sometimes expressed by various locutions:

Quiconque le fera. Quand même il ne l'aurait pas dit. Il le dirait que je ne le croirais pas. Whoever (if any one) does it.

Even though he had not said so.

Even if he said it, I should not believe it.

f. The past definite is rare in the 'if' clause. The expression s'il en fut, however, is noteworthy:

Riche, s'il en fut (jamais), mais Rich, if any one ever was, but corcorrompu. rupt.

g. Si = whether may take the future or conditional:

Tell me whether (if) you will Dis-moi si tu iras (irais) chez elle. (would) go to her house.

THE INFINITIVE MOOD

276. Function. The infinitive is a verbal noun. As a verb it governs, and as a noun it serves as subject, object, etc.:

Vous devriez lui parler.

You ought to speak to him.

Voir c'est croire.

Seeing is believing.

Il lit sans comprendre.

He reads without understanding.

- 277. Use of Infinitive. The chief difficulty in the use of the infinitive is to determine. (1) when it should stand without any preposition, (2) when it should be preceded by à. (3) when it should be preceded by de.
- 278. Infinitive without Preposition. The infinitive without any preposition is used:
 - 1. As subject, or in apposition:

Mentir est honteux. Trop parler nuit.

To lie (lying) is base. Too much talk does harm.

Vivre c'est souffrir.

To live is to suffer.

2. As predicate after a few verbs (see list below): Vous semblez hésiter.

You seem to hesitate.

Il est censé l'avoir fait.

He is supposed to have done it.

3. As logical subject after a few impersonals (see list below): It would be better to keep quiet. Il vaudrait mieux se taire.

Il fait cher vivre à Paris.

Living is dear in Paris.

4. As object or complement after the so-called modal auxiliaries (§ 230), after most verbs of motion and causation of motion, after verbs of desiring and preferring, after verbs of perceiving, after verbs of thinking and intending, after verbs of saving and declaring, and after certain verbs of lacking and failing (see list below):

Voulez-vous dîner chez nous? Faites-lui apprendre sa leçon. Envoyez chercher le médecin. Je désirerais lui parler. Te les vois venir. Quand comptez-vous revenir? Il prétend avoir raison. l'avais beau crier.

Will you dine with us? Make him learn his lesson. Send for the doctor. I should like to speak to him.

I see them come (coming). When do you expect to come back? He claims to be in the right. It was in vain that I shouted.

5. Sometimes, in elliptical expressions, as an imperative, as a direct or indirect interrogative, or absolutely:

Voir les affiches. Oue faire? Où me cacher? Je ne sais que faire. Penser qu'il a dit cela!

See the posters.

What (am I) to do? Where hide? I know not what to do. To think that he said that!

devoir.

15. Obliger:

Je l'ai obligé à (de) le faire.

I induced him to stay.

He had determined to rebuild it.

He says he saw it.

I told him to come.

He was eager to please her. He hastened to reply.

I am (busy) writing letters. It is your place (or turn) to speak. It is your turn to speak.

He fatigued himself playing billiards. He is tired playing.

He was never done telling me so. I have finished working.

I swear I saw it.
I swear I will do it.

I let him talk.

He did not stop talking.

He tired himself out (by) running. He is tired of running.

Don't fail to be there. I was on the point of falling. He never fails to do his duty.

I obliged him to do it.

Je suis obligé de partir. Vous m'obligerez beaucoup de le faire.

I am obliged to go.
You will greatly oblige me by doing it.

16. S'occuper:

Il s'occupe à lire. Il s'occupe de détruire les abus. He is busy reading. He is intent on destroying abuses.

17. Penser:

Que pensez-vous faire? Je pensai tomber. Je pense à répliquer à cela. What do you intend to do? I nearly fell.

I think of replying to that.

18. Prendre garde:

Prenez garde à ne pas le faire. Prenez garde de (ne pas) tomber. Take care not to do it. Take care not to fall.

19. Prétendre:

Il prétend vous connaître. Il prétend à devenir savant. He asserts that he knows you. He aspires to become learned.

20. Prier:

Il m'a prié à dîner. Je vous prie de m'aider. He invited me to dine.
I pray (ask) you to help me.

21. Refuser:

Me refusez-vous à manger? Je refuserai d'y aller.

Do you refuse to give me food? I shall refuse to go.

22. Résoudre:

23. Trembler:

Il tremble \hat{a} me voir. Il tremble de me rencontrer. He trembles when he sees me. He fears to meet me.

24. Venir:

Venez nous voir. Si vous veniez à le voir. Je viens de le voir. Come to see us.

If you should happen to see him.

I have just seen him.

282. Infinitive with other Prepositions. The infinitive stands also after par, pour, sans, après, entre, and after locutions ending in de or à, such as afin de, avant de, jusqu'à, etc.:

1. Par = by usually only after commencer and finir:

Il finit par m'insulter. He ended by insulting me (or He finally insulted me).

2. Pour usually translates in order to, for the purpose of: sometimes also for, from, because, though, etc., and to after assez, trop, etc.:

Il faut manger pour vivre.

Il est mort pour avoir trop bu.

Il fut puni pour avoir ri. Pour être pauvre, il n'est pas larron.

Il est trop franc pour se taire.

We must eat (in order) to live. He died from over-drinking. He was punished for laughing. Though poor, he is no thief.

He is too frank to keep quiet.

- a. Pour after a verb of motion (§ 278, 4) emphasizes the purpose: l'irai pour le voir. I shall go to see him.
 - 3. Sans = without:

Ne partez pas sans manger.

Do not go without eating.

- 4. Après = after requires the perfect infinitive: Après avoir dîné, je partis. After having dined, I set out.
- 283. Infinitive for Subordinate Clause, 1. An infinitive construction usually replaces a que clause of which the subject is the same with that of the subject or object (direct or indirect) of the principal clause:

Il croit vous avoir vu. Dites-leur de s'en aller. He thinks that he has seen you. Tell them to be gone.

2. Similarly afin de, à moins de, après, avant de, de crainte de, de peur de, de façon à, de manière à, pour, sans, etc. + the infinitive stand for afin que, etc. + the subjunctive, but only when the subject of both verbs is the same:

Il partit sans me voir.

He went without seeing me. But: Il partit sans que je le visse. He went without my seeing him.

284. Infinitive with Passive Force. A transitive infinitive has (seeming) passive force after verbs of perceiving (voir, etc.), after faire, laisser, and when à + an infinitive is used adjectively (cf. § 241, 3):

l'ai vu bâtir cette maison. Ie me fais faire un habit. Vous êtes à plaindre. Une faute à éviter.

I saw this house being built. I am having a coat made for myself. You are to be pitied. A mistake to be avoided.

NOTE. - This construction may be explained by supplying some such ellipsis as the following: J'ai vu bâtir une maison à or par quelqu'un, I have seen somebody building a house.

285. Infinitive for English -ing. The infinitive must be used to translate many such forms (see § 287, 2, 3, 4).

THE PRESENT PARTICIPLE

- 286. Functions. The participial form in -ant serves as a verbal adjective, as a present participle (without en), and as a gerund (with en):
- 1. As a verbal adjective, it denotes quality or state, and agrees like an adjective:

Elle paraît bien portante. Les enfants doivent être obéissants. Children must be obedient. Les vivants, et les mourants.

She seems well.

The living and the dving.

Des paroles consolantes. Comforting words.

Obs.: The verbal adjective, attributively, regularly follows the noun, as in the last example.

a. Some verbs have a special form for the verbal adjective:

PART. ADJ. PART. différent, different différant négligent, careless négligeant convaincant, convincing convainquant puissant, powerful pouvant fatigant, fatiguing fatiguant savant, learned sachant

2. As a present participle, it is used, in general, like the English present participle, to denote simultaneous action, manner, cause, motive, etc., and is invariable:

Pleurant, elle continua le récit. Je le trouvai riant comme un fou. Elle ne sortit pas, étant malade. She did not go out, being ill.

Weeping, she continued the story. I found him laughing like mad.

Avant parlé ainsi, il sortit. Il n'entrera pas, moi vivant. Having thus spoken, he went out. He shall not enter while I live.

Notes. - 1. It is often difficult to determine whether the form in -ant is participle (invariable) or adjective (variable). As a participle, the action (generally transitory) is prominent, but as an adjective, quality or else continued action (state) is denoted. It is nearly always a participle when it has a complement or a construction peculiar to the verb, such as object, negative, adverb following: Une femme mourante, A dying woman; Des gens mourant de faim, People dying of hunger; Les ennemis se retirèrent. prûlant les villes partout, The enemy retired, burning the towns everuwhere: Une femme ne craignant rien, A woman fearing nothing; Des dames parlant doucement, Ladies speaking softly; De soi-disant amis, So-called friends.

2. In the last example, soi-disant, though adjective in force, remains invariable in view of the literal meaning, calling themselves.

3. Ayant and étant are also always invariable, except in les ayantsdroit (-cause).

3. As a gerund, it denotes either simultaneous action or 'means by which,' and is invariable; en = while, in, on, when, as, by, etc., or is untranslated:

En jouant, j'ai perdu ma montre. While playing, I lost my watch. En rentrant, j'ai trouvé la lettre. Vous perdrez, en agissant ainsi. En lisant on apprend à lire.

On returning, I found the letter. You will lose if you act thus. By reading one learns to read.

a. Both participle and gerund denote simultaneous action, but the use of en, strengthened sometimes by tout, usually emphasizes the continuity of the action:

(En) disant ceci, il prit la lyre. Tout en pleurant, elle continua.

(While) saying this, he took the harp. Still weeping, she went on.

b. The gerund usually refers to the subject:

Ie l'ai vu en allant à la poste. I saw him while going to the post. But: L'appétit vient en mangeant. One's appetite comes while eating.

c. En is sometimes omitted, especially after aller:

Généralement parlant. Il s'en va (en) grondant.

Generally speaking. Off he goes grumbling.

d. The gerund denotes progressive action in a few expressions formed from aller:

Cela alla (en) diminuant.

That kept growing less and less.

287. English Forms in -ing. These are variously translated into French; idiomatic differences are:

- 1. Periphrastic tense forms are avoided in French: Il a joué toute la matinée. He has been playing all morning.
- 2. English gerunds are translated by an -ant form only when the preposition en may be used; otherwise by an infinitive, a noun, or a clause:

En lisant on apprend à lire. But: Il parle de partir. Il fut pendu pour avoir volé. Elle partit sans dire adieu. Voir c'est croire.

l'aime la chasse (or à chasser). Je suis étonné qu'il soit venu.

By reading one learns to read. He speaks of going away.

He was hanged for having stolen. She went without saying good-bye. Seeing is believing.

I like hunting.

I am surprised at his coming.

3. After verbs of perception (entendre, sentir, voir, etc.), the relative or infinitive construction is much commoner than the participle:

Je les vois venir (qui viennent or I see them coming. venant).

Les voilà qui passent! Il a vu sortir mes frères. Les avez-vous entendus frapper See them passing! He saw my brothers going out. Did you hear them knocking?

(qui frappaient)?

Je la (or lui) vis frapper l'enfant. I saw her striking the child.

4. Compound nouns with a first component in -ing are not literally translated:

Une machine à coudre.

A sewing-machine.

5. It is often more elegant to avoid a French form in -ant, even when permissible:

Pendant mon voyage.

While traveling.

THE PAST PARTICIPLE

- 288. General Use. The past participle is used, (1) without auxiliary, (2) with être, (3) with avoir (or être used as avoir).
- 289. Without Auxiliary. A past participle without any auxiliary has the force of an adjective (attributive, predicative, appositive), and agrees, like an adjective, in gender and number with the word qualified:

Des fêtes données par le roi. Les battus; les morts. Le passé n'est plus à nous. Jean et Marie semblent fatigués. Tenez les portes fermées. Ils me regardèrent étonnés. Festivities given by the king.
The beaten; the dead.
The past is no longer ours.
John and Mary look tired.
Keep the doors closed.
They looked at me astonished.

a. Certain past participles have prepositional force when preceding the substantive, and are invariable, but are variable when following:

Vu les difficultés. Excepté eux; eux exceptés. In view of the difficulties.

Except them; they excepted.

Such are: Approuvé, attendu, certifié, collationné, y compris, non compris, entendu, excepté, ouï, payé, passé, supposé, vu, etc.

b. Ci-inclus = enclosed and ci-joint = herewith, are invariable when beginning a sentence, or when followed by a noun without article:

Ci-inclus la copie, etc.
Vous recevez ci-joint copie, etc.
But: J'envoie ci-jointe une (la) copie, etc.

Herewith the copy, etc.
You receive herewith a copy, etc.
I send herewith a (the) copy, etc.

290. Past Participle with être. A past participle with être agrees with the subject; for exceptions see § 244:

Ils sont (ont été) battus.

Marie et Louise sont venues.
Ils sont sortis.
Les dames étant arrivées.
Elle parla d'avoir été blessée.

They are (have been) beaten.
Mary and Louisa have come.
They have gone out.
The ladies having come.
She spoke of having been hurt.

a. Hence the past participle of an impersonal verb with être is invariable, agreeing strictly with the grammatical subject il:
Il était venu des soldats.
Soldiers had come.

291. Past Participle with avoir. 1. A past participle with avoir agrees with a preceding direct object; otherwise it is invariable:

La pièce que j'ai écrite, l'avezvous lue?

Have you read the play I wrote?

Quels livres a-t-il apportés?

What books did he bring?

But: J'ai écrit la lettre. Elles ont lu et écrit. Je lui ai donné la lettre. I have written the letter.
They have read and written.
I have given her the letter.

2. Similarly, the past participle of a reflexive verb (conjugated with être for avoir) always agrees with the reflexive object, unless that object be indirect:

Ils se sont réjouis.
Elles s'étaient trompées.
Elle s'est blessée.
Elle s'est laissée tomber.
But: Ils se sont écrit.
Elle s'est blessé la main.
Ils se sont arrogé ce privilège.
Ils se sont plu à Paris.

They have rejoiced.

They were mistaken.

She wounded (or hurt) herself.

She has fallen (fell).

They wrote to each other.

She wounded her hand.

They assumed that privilege.

They enjoyed themselves in Paris.

a. Besides the indirect reflexive object, a direct object may be present, with which the following past participle agrees:

Les robes qu'elle s'est achetées. The dresses she bought herself.

- 292. Remarks. All cases of the agreement of the past participle depend upon the above general principles; special difficulties are:
- 1. The past participle of an impersonal verb is invariable:

 La belle journée qu'il a fait! What a fine day it was!

 La disette qu'il y a eu. The scaroity that there was.
- 2. A noun denoting distance, time, price, weight, etc., with such verbs as marcher, courir, vivre, coûter, peser, valoir, etc., is adverbial accusative (not direct object); hence no agreement:

Les dix milles que j'ai marché. Les cent francs que cet ouvrage m'a coûté.

The ten miles I walked.

The hundred frames that healt

The hundred francs that book cost me.

a. Such verbs used transitively, or figuratively with transitive force, follow the general rule:

La malle que j'ai pesée. Les dangers qu'il a courus. La peur que cela a coûtée. The trunk which I weighed. The dangers he incurred. The fear which that caused.

3. A past participle preceded by an expression of number or quantity, a collective, etc., is variable or invariable according to the sense (cf. § 231–234):

Oue de maux il a soufferts! C'est la moitié des meubles qu'on a saisie.

La moitié des meubles que j'ai vendus.

Quelle joie, quel bonheur vous lui avez procuré!

What ills he endured!

It is the half of the furniture that has been seized

The half of the furniture which I sold.

What joy, what happiness you have procured him!

a. Partitive en is never a direct object; agreement, however, takes place with combien, plus, moins, preceding en, if the sense be plural:

Plus on vous a donné de livres. plus vous en avez lus.

Combien Dieu en a-t-il exaucés! How many of them God has heard! The more books you were given. the more of them you read.

4. When an infinitive (with or without a preposition) follows, the past participle is invariable when the preceding direct object is governed by the infinitive, and variable if governed by the past participle alone:

La lettre que j'ai voulu écrire. La lettre que j'ai oublié d'écrire. Il nous a priés d'y aller. On nous a dit de sortir.

The letter I wished to write. The letter I forgot to write. He begged us to go. They told us to go out.

a. Entendu, vu, laissé, agree when the infinitive has active force, but are invariable if it has passive force (§ 284):

La dame que j'ai entendue chanter. The lady I heard sing(ing). Les enfants que j'ai vu battre.

The children I saw beaten.

b. After dû, pu, voulu, osé, with auxiliary force, a governing infinitive is either expressed or implied; hence no agreement:

pu (lire).

J'ai lu tous les livres que j'ai I read all the books that I could (read).

But: Les livres que j'ai voulus.

The books I wished.

c. Fait + infinitive is invariable:

Les médecins qu'il a fait venir.

The doctors he sent for.

d. The past participle of avoir à is variable or invariable: Les lettres que j'ai eu (eues) à lire. The letters I had to read.

5. The relative pronoun que is sometimes direct object of a verb in a following que clause, either fully expressed or implied, and hence the past participle is invariable:

Des choses que j'ai cru qu'il ferait. Things I thought he would do. l'ai lu les livres qu'il a voulu (que I read the books which he wished (me to read). je lusse).

GOVERNMENT OF VERBS

293. Transitives. 1. A transitive verb governs a direct object, as in English:

l'ai écrit la lettre (des lettres). I wrote the letter (letters).

2. A transitive verb can have only one direct object; other substantives related to it must stand as indirect object or as prepositional complement:

Pardonnez-lui ses péchés. Je donne le dé à la fille. Je lui donne le dé avec plaisir. Je conseille à mon fils de partir. Pardon him his sins. I give the girl the thimble.

I give her the thimble with pleasure. I advise my son to go.

a. By an extension of this principle, the verb faire = make, cause to, etc., + an infinitive, requires an indirect personal object when the infinitive has a direct object:

Te fais lire ce livre à mon fils.

I make (have) my son read this book.

Te lui fais lire ce livre. But: Ie fais lire mon fils. Je le fais lire.

I make him read this book. I make my son read.

b. Laisser, voir, entendre, ouir, may have, and frequently do have, the same construction:

Laissez-le (-lui) lire le livre. Je l'(lui) ai vu jouer ce rôle. But: Laissez lire l'enfant.

Let him read the book. I saw him play that part.

Let the child read.

I make him read.

294. Intransitives. An intransitive verb can have no direct object, but may, of course, have an indirect object or a prepositional complement:

Il parle à ce soldat. Il lui parle de la guerre. He is speaking to that soldier. He speaks to him of the war.

a. A very few intransitives govern a direct object anomalously:

Il a vécu sa vie en héros.

He lived his life like a hero.

He goes straight on his way.

NOTE. — Many verbs serve either as transitives or intransitives: Il est descendu (intransitive), He has gone down; Il a descendu le tableau (transitive), He has taken down the victure.

295. Predicative Complement. Nouns are used predicatively after certain verbs, as follows:

1. In nominative relation:

Ils sont Anglais. They are Englishmen.

Il est médecin. He is a doctor.

Elle est morte jeune fille. She died a young girl.

Such verbs are:

demeurer, remain devenir, become entrer, enter ette, be ette censé, be supposed mourir, die naître, be born paraître, appear paraître, appear passer, pass rester, remain sembler, seem sortir, go out, etc.

2. In accusative relation:

On le fit roi. They made him king.

Je le crois honnête homme. I think he is an honest man.

Je le connais incapable de mentir. I know he is incapable of falsehood.

Such verbs are:

appeler, call estimer, esteen se montrer, show oneself couronner, crown faire, make nommer, name croire, believe se faire, become proclamer, proclaim déclarer, declare institute, institute savoir, know, etc.

- 296. Prepositional Complement. The use of de and à presents special difficulty; other prepositions have, in general, their usual literal force:
- 1. Some verbs with de have the force of an English transitive:

Il jouit d'une parfaite santé. He enjoys perfect health. Elle s'est trompée de porte. She took the wrong door.

On se sert d'encre pour écrire. Ink is used for writing.

Such verbs are:

abuser de, misuse s'approcher de, approach avoir peur de, fear s'approcevoir de, perceive avoir besoin de, need avoir pitié de, pity convenir de, admit se défier de, mistrust se démettre de, resign disconvenir de, deny douter de, doubt se douter de, suspect se passer de, do without se servir de, use se souvenir de, recollect se tromper de, mistake user de. emplou, use etc.

Similarly, some verbs with a have the force of an English transitive:

Il obéit à son père. Elle ressemble à sa mère.

He obeys his father. She resembles her mother.

Such verbs are:

aller à, fit, suit arriver à, reach attenter à, attempt (the life) compatir à, pity convenir à, suit déplaire à, displease désobéir à, disobey se fier à, trust importer à, concern

nuire à, harm obéir à, obey obvier à, obviate ordonner à, order pardonner à, pardon parvenii à, attain permettre à, permit persuader à, persuade plaire à, please promettre à, promise remédier à, remedy renoncer à. renounce répondre à, answer résister à, resist ressembler à, resemble succéder à, succeed survivre à, survive etc.

3. In some instances, on the contrary, a French transitive has the force of an English verb + a preposition.

Pavez-lui les livres. Je regarde cet arbre-là. Pay him for the books. I am looking at that tree.

Such verbs are:

accepter, accept of admettre, admit of approuver, approve of attendre, wait for chercher, look for demander, ask for désirer, wish for écouter, listen to envoyer chercher, send for espérer, hope for payer, pay for regarder, look at rencontrer, meet with souhaiter, wish for

4. De and à frequently have, as compared with English, a special idiomatic force with certain verbs:

Cela dépend de vous. Pensez à votre devoir. That depends on you. Think of your duty.

Such verbs are:

s'affliger de, grieve at approcher(s') de, draw near to pliment on.

blâmer de, blame for consoler de, console for complimenter de, com- déjeuner de, breakfast on dépendre de, depend on se désoler de, grieve over dîner de, dine on féliciter de, congratulate on gémir de, lament over louer de, praise for se mêler de, meddle with

5. Many verbs have a double construction with varying meaning:

Ils jouent aux cartes. Elle joue du piano.

Such verbs are:

abuser qqu., deceive abuser de qqch., misuse assister qqu.. help assister à qqch., be present at, witness concourir à qqch., contribute to concourir pour ggch., compete for convenir à qqu., suit convenir de ggch., agree about croire qqu. or qqch., believe croire à, en, believe in demander ggu. or ggch., ask after demander ggch. à ggu., ask for (from, of)

- 297. Position. Objects and prepositional complements regularly follow the verb, the direct object (if any) being first; but if of unequal length, the longer is usually last. For position of personal pronouns, see the Pronoun.
- 298. Composite Complement. The various parts of a complement must be of the same grammatical value, i.e., all nouns, all verbs, etc.:

Il apprend à lire et à chanter.
Il apprend la lecture et le chant.

He learns to read and sing. He learns reading and singing.

299. Manifold Verb. Two or more verbs can govern the same complement only if alike in government:

Il aime et respecte son oncle. Il aime son oncle et lui obéit. He loves and respects his uncle. He loves and obeys his uncle.

- 306. Formation of the Feminine. Most nouns denoting living beings distinguish the masculine and feminine as follows:

NUMBER OF NOUNS

307. General Rule. The plural of a noun is regularly formed by adding -s to the singular:

Roi(s); reine(s); jardin(s). King(s); queen(s); garden(s).

- 308. Principal Exceptions. The following are the principal exceptions to the above rule:
- 1. Nouns in -s, -x, -z remain unchanged in the plural; so also invariable words when used as nouns:

Le bras; la voix; le nez. Les bras; les voix; les nez. Les oui et les non; les on dit. Plusieurs peu font un beaucoup. The arm; the voice; the nose. The arms; the voices; the noses. The ayes and noes; the rumors. Many littles make a 'muckle.'

2. Nouns in -au, -eu, and seven in -ou, take -x:

Noyau(x); château(x); jeu(x), Kernel(s); castle(s); game(s); vœu(x).

The seven nouns in -ou are:

bijou(x), jewel genou(x), knee caillou(x), pebble hibou(x), owl chou(x), cabbage

joujou(x), toy pou(x), louse

But: clou(s), nail, sou(s), half-penny, etc.

- 3. Most nouns in-al change -al to -au, and add -x as above:

 Général; cheval; journal.

 General; horse; newspaper.

 Generals; horses; newspapers.
- a. But the following, and a few rarer ones in -al, are regular:

 aval(s), endorsement cal(s), callosity chacal(s), jackal bal(s), ball (for dancing) carnaval(s), carnival régal(s), treat
- 4. The following in -ail have the plural in -aux:
 bail (-aux), lease travail (-aux), work vitrail (-aux), stained corail (-aux), coral vantail (-aux), folding-door glass window soupirail (-aux), ventail air-hole

But: détail(s), detail; éventail(s), fan, etc., are regular.

Note. — Bestiaux (pl.), cattle, is often given as the plural of bétail, cattle; it is from an obsolete form bestiail, parallel to bétail.

5. Gent = race, tribe, has the plural gens = people, etc.

309. Double Plurals. The following have two plural forms, mostly with varying meaning:

aïeul (aïeux), ancestor aïeul (aïeuls), grandfather aïl (aulx), garlic
aïl (ails), garlic
ciel (cieux), sky, heaven, climate ciel (ciels), bed-tester, sky (in painting), roof (of a quarry)

œil (yeux), eye
œil (œils-) in compounds, e.g., œils-de-bœuf, oval windows pal (paux), pale, stake pal (pals), pale, stake travail (travaux), work travail (travaux), report (of a minister, etc.), brake (for horse-shoeing)

Obs.; The -x plural regularly has the literal meaning of the word.

310. Foreign Nouns. Nouns of foreign origin-take -s, usually only when fully naturalized, but usage varies greatly (see a dictionary):

a. Partial list of variable foreign nouns:

accessit(s), honorable bill(s), bill duo(s), duo album(s), album jury(s), jury alibi(s), alibi opéra(s), opera pensum(s), task toast(s), toast tramway(s), street-railway vivat(s), hurrah etc.

b. Partial list of invariable foreign nouns:

c. A few Italian nouns retain their plural in i:

dilettante(-i), dilettante soprano(-i), soprano quintetto(-i), quintette libretto(-i), libretto lazzarone(-i), beggar etc.

- 311. Compound Nouns. The only components which take a plural sign are nouns and adjectives. The following are special rules:
- 1. Compounds without hyphen are treated as one word, and follow the general rules:

Portemanteau(x); grand'mère(s). Valise(s); grandmother(s).

a. Exceptions are:

bon(s)homme(s), goodman, etc. gentil(s)homme(s), nobleman monsieur (messieurs), Mr., sir, etc. madame (mesdames), madam, Mrs. mademoiselle (mesdemoiselles), Miss monseigneur (messeigneurs), my lord 2. When placed in juxtaposition and connected by a hyphen, nouns and adjectives are variable:

a. Demi- is invariable in compounds.

b. Further exceptions are:

terre-plein(s), platform

3. Of two nouns joined by preposition and hyphens, the first only is variable:

Arc(s)-en-ciel; chef(s)-d'œuvre. Rainbow; masterpiece.

a. The preposition de is sometimes understood:

 $\begin{array}{ll} \text{bain}(\mathbf{s})\text{-marie, } \textit{water bath, } \textit{double boiler} & \text{timbre}(\mathbf{s})\text{-poste, } \textit{postage-stamp} \\ \text{hôtel}(\mathbf{s})\text{-dieu, } \textit{hospital} & \text{etc.} \end{array}$

b. The following are invariable, since the idea conveyed by their plural does not properly belong to the first component simply:

coa-à-l'âne, cock-and-bull story

pot-au-feu, beef and soup

pied-à-terre, temporary lodging pot-au-feu, beef and soup tête-à-tête, private interview

4. A noun with preceding invariable component is usually variable:

Anglo-Saxon(s); avant-garde(s) tire-bouchon(s); vice-roi(s) bouche-trou(s)

Anglo-Saxon; vanguard corkscrew; viceroy stop-gap

a. But the final noun remains invariable when the plural idea does not properly belong to it:

abat-jour, lamp shade gagne-pain, means of living réveille-matin, alarm coupe-gorge, cut-throat place perce-neige, snowdrop clock crève-cœur, heartbreak prie-dieu, praying-stool serre-tête, headband contre-poison, antidote boute-en-train, jolly fellow etc.

b. On the other hand, a final noun of clearly plural sense retains -s in the singular:

un (des) casse-noisettes, nutcracker un (des) cure-dents, toothpick un (des) porte-clefs, turnkey etc.

5. Invariable words, such as verb, adverb, preposition, etc., are invariable in compounds:

Des on dit; des passe-partout. Rumors; master-keys.

a. Garde- is usually variable in compounds denoting persons, and invariable in those denoting things:

Des gardes-malades. But: Des garde-robes. Sick-nurses.

The Corneilles and Racines of the stage (i.e., Corneille, Racine, and others like them).

Les Duval sont arrivés.

(The) Duvals have come.

Les Bourbons

Les Gracques

Les Pharaons

Les Tudors

Les Césars

Les Guises

Les Scipions

etc.

Les Condés Les Horaces Les Stuarts

b. Names of persons used as common nouns to denote 'persons like' or 'works by' those named are often variable, but usage is not fixed:

Les Corneilles sont rares.

Corneilles are rare.

J'ai vu deux Raphaëls.

I saw two Raphaels.

But: Les Hamlet; les La Fontaine; les Goethe; les Washington, etc.

2. Names of places take -s when the idea is plural:

Les Indes; les Vosges.

The Indies; the Vosges.

Les deux Romes.

The two Romes (i.e., the ancient

CASE RELATION AND AGREEMENT OF NOUNS

- 313. Case Relations. The noun in French does not vary in form to denote case; it is used as follows:
 - 1. With verbs, as subject, object, predicate:

Le père aime son fils. Jean est devenu soldat. The father loves his son.

John has become a soldier.

2. In appositions, and with adjectival force:

Henri IV, roi de France.

Henry IV, King of France. A child king.

Un roi enfant.

3. After prepositions:

J'ai parlé à son père.

I have spoken to his father.

4. Absolutely, generally with adverbial force:

Le dîner fini, il partit.

Il était là, le chapeau à la main.

The dinner ended, he set out.

He was there, (with) his hat in his hand.

Je suis venu samedi. Il est resté trois heures. J'ai marché dix milles. Nous l'avons acheté dix francs. I came on Saturday.

He stayed three hours.

I walked ten miles.

We bought it for ten francs.

5. Vocatively:

Bonjour, mes amis.

Good morning, my friends.

314. Agreement. A predicate noun, or a noun used adjectivally, usually agrees like an adjective with the word referred to (see Agreement of the Adjective):

Ils (elles) sont Allemand(e)s. La reine mère. They are Germans.
The queen mother.

Obs.: For the forms in parenthesis, see § 19, 1.

317. Contractions. The prepositions de and $\hat{a} + le$ and les, are always contracted as follows:

$$de + le = du$$
 $a + le = au$ $de + les = des$ $a + les = aux$

Notes. — 1. No contraction takes place with la, l'. 2. Formerly en + les was contracted to ès, a form still used in academical titles, e.g., Bachelier ès lettres, Bachelor of Arts.

318. Agreement and Repetition. The article agrees in gender and number with its noun, and is regularly repeated (as also de, à) before each noun or adjective denoting a distinctive object:

Une maison et un jardin.

Le flux et le reflux.

Au bon et au mauvais côté.

Les bons et les mauvais.

Des hommes ou des femmes.

But: Le bon et pieux prêtre.

Le delta ou basse Égypte.

A house and garden.

High and low tide.

On the good and bad side.

Men or women.

The kind and pious priest.

The Delta or Lower Egypt.

a. The definite article is not repeated when a single adjective precedes nouns joined by et:

Les principales villes et provinces The principales de la France.

The principal towns and provinces of France.

b. Singular adjectives in apposition to a plural noun omit the article:

Les langues française et anglaise. The French and English languages. Or: La langue française et la langue anglaise.

La langue française et l'anglaise.

c. A few expressions of collective force, like the following, are permissible, but are either not obligatory or are confined to set expressions:

Les père et mère.

Les lundi et mardi.

Les trois et quatre avril.

Les officiers et soldats.

École des ponts et chaussées.

The parents.

(On) Mondays and Tuesdays.

The third and fourth of April.

The officers and soldiers.

School of bridges and roads.

d. For the repetition of le, la, les with the superlative, see Comparison of Adjectives.

USE OF THE ARTICLE WITH NOUNS

- 319. Use in General. French and English agree to a considerable extent in the use of the article; differences are noted below.
- 320. The Indefinite Article. 1. Its use corresponds in general with that of English a, an; its plural is the partitive des (§ 323):

Un homme; une femme; des gens. A man; a woman; people.

2. Contrary to English usage, the indefinite article also commonly stands before an abstract noun used partitively with an adjective or an adjectival adjunct:

Il montra un soin extrême.
Il a une patience à toute épreuve.
Elle jouit d'une bonne santé.
C'est une triste nouvelle.

He showed extreme care.
He has patience equal to anything.
She enjoys good health.
It is sad news.

a. The adjective or complementary clause depending on such a noun may be understood:

Voilà une patience!
J'étais d'une humeur...
Un garcon d'une raison...

There is patience for you!

I was in a temper...

A young fellow of (splendid) intellect!

Note. — For several cases in which the English indefinite article is replaced by the French definite article, or vice versa, or is omitted, see below.

321. The General Noun. A noun used in a general sense, i.e., 'in general,' 'all,' 'every,' etc., being implied with it, regularly has the definite article in French, though not usually in English:

La vie est courte.

Le fer et le cuivre sont utiles.

J'étudie la musique.

Les Français aiment la gloire.

Le cheval est l'ami de l'homme.

Le noir vous sied bien.

J'aime les pommes et les poires.

Le beau et l'utile.

Le boire et le manger.

Life is short.
Iron and copper are useful.
I am studying music.
The French love glory.
The horse is the friend of man.
Black becomes you.
I like apples and pears.
The beautiful and the useful.
Eating and drinking.

a. So also, names of languages, except after en; but not, however, after parler:

Sait-il le français?

Il parle bien (le) français. But: Dites cela en français.

Parlez-vous français?

Does he know French? He speaks French well. Say that in French. Do you speak French?

- 322. The Partitive Noun. A noun implying 'an undetermined quantity or number of' is said to be used partitively or in a partitive sense.
- 323. Partitive with Article. The partitive sense, expressed in English by the noun simply, or else the noun preceded by 'some' or 'any,' is regularly expressed in French by the noun preceded by de + the definite article:

Du pain trempé dans du vin.

A-t-il des amis?

Des enfants poussaient des cris désespérés.

Il est des gens qui le croient. C'est du Carlyle pur. (Some) bread dipped in wine. Has he (any) friends?

Some children were uttering terrible cries.

There are people who believe it. That is pure Carlyleism.

NOTE. — This use of de + the definite article, or even of de alone (see next section), is often called the 'partitive article'; it is entirely identical in form with de + the article in other senses, e.g., Je vends du blé, I sell wheat; Quel est le prix du blé? What is the price of the wheat?

- 324. Omission of Article. The partitive sense is expressed by de alone + the noun as follows:
- 1. When an adjective precedes the noun; so also, when a noun is understood after an adjective:

Avez-vous de bon papier?

Donnez-moi de ces plumes-là.

J'ai de vos livres.

De bon vin et de mauvais (sc. vin).

De gros livres et de petits (sc. livres).

But: Des soldats français. J'ai du pain blanc. Have you any good paper? Give me some of those pens. I have some of your books. Good wine and bad.
Big books and little ones.

French soldiers.

I have white bread.

a. The article is not omitted when the noun has a distinctive adjunct:
 bu bon papier qu'il a acheté.
 Some of the good paper he bought.

b. The article is not omitted when adjective and noun are indivisible in sense, i.e., when forming a real or a virtual compound:

Des grands-pères; des petits-fils.
Des petits pois; du bon sens.
Des jeunes gens; de la bonne foi.
Grandfathers; grandsons.
Green peas; common sense.
Young men; honesty.

- c. Familiarly, the article is often used contrary to the rule:

 Du bon vin; du vrai bonheur. Good wine; true happiness.
- 2. After a general negation, implying non-existence of the object in question:

Il n'a pas de montre.
Je n'ai point de livres.
Sans avoir d'argent.
Il ne fit pas de remarques.
Pas d'argent et pas d'amis.

He has no (not any) watch, I have no (not any) books. Without having (any) money. He made no remarks. No money and no friends.

- 3. But the article is not omitted, the negation being no longer general:
 - a. When the noun has a distinctive adjunct:

Je n'ai plus du vin de cette année. Je n'ai pas de l'argent pour le gaspiller.

I have no more of this year's wine. I have no money to waste (= I have money, but not to waste).

b. In contrasts:

Pas du lait, mais du thé.

Not milk, but tea.

c. In negative interrogation implying affirmative answer:

N'avez-vous pas des amis, de la santé, de l'influence?

Have you not friends, health, influence?

- 325. Omission of the Partitive Sign. The partitive sense is expressed by the noun simply, when the preposition de forms an essential part of the governing expression, thus:
 - 1. In expressions of quantity or number:

Une livre de thé (noix). Un morceau de papier. Une foule de gens. A pound of tea (nuts).
A piece of paper.
A crowd of people.

Peu de temps; beaucoup d'amis.

Little time; many friends. Enough books (or books enough).

Assez de livres.

, 10

Trop de peine. Que de gens assemblés! Too much trouble.

What a number of people assembled!

a. Analogous to the above are expressions like the following:

Trois jours de marche. Cent soldats de tués. Quelque chose (rien) de bon.

Three days' march.

A hundred soldiers killed.

Something (nothing) good.

b. Bien = beaucoup regularly has de + the definite article:

Bien de l'argent; bien du monde. Bien des gens le croient. But: Bien d'autres. Much money; many people.

Many people think so.

Many others.

Note. — Bien in other senses does not take de: J'ai bien faim, I am very hungry.

c. La plupart = most, the greater part, etc., has de + the def. art.:

La plupart des hommes.

Most men.

La plupart du temps.

Most of the time.

d. Expressions of quantity or number with a distinctive adjunct have de + the definite article; so also, beaucoup, peu, etc., absolutely:

Une livre du thé de ce marchand. Beaucoup des gens de ce pays. A pound of this tradesman's tea. Many of the men of that country.

2. After a verb requiring de before its complement, and in phrases, adjectival or adverbial, formed from de + a noun:

Il vit de pain (not de du pain). Il manquait d'argent. J'ai besoin d'argent. Il se passe de vin. Un vase rempli d'eau. Il était couvert de plaies. Une robe de soie. Un homme de génie. Une bourse pleine d'or.

He lives on bread.
He lacked money.
I need money.
He does without wine.
A vessel filled with water.

He was covered with wounds (sores).

A silk dress.

A man of genius.

A purse full of gold.

326. General and Partitive Sense. The general sense of a noun (§ 321) is to be carefully distinguished from the partitive sense (§ 322):

Les oiseaux ont des ailes.
Les hommes sont des animaux.

Birds have wings.

Men are animals.

327. Article with Titles. A title of dignity or profession, preceding a proper name, regularly takes the definite article, except in direct address:

La reine Victoria fut aimée. Le docteur Ribot est arrivé. Qu'est-ce que le père Daru dit? But: Bonjour, docteur Ribot. Queen Victoria was beloved. Doctor Ribot has come. What does Father Daru say? Good morning, Doctor Ribot.

a. So also, when such title is preceded by a title of courtesy (monsieur, madame, etc.), whether in speaking to or in speaking of the person:

Bonjour, monsieur le docteur. Monsieur le président l'a dit. Good morning, doctor. The president said so.

- b. A preceding attributive adjective may have the force of a title:
 La petite Claire; le gros Robert. Little Clara; big Robert.
- 328. Article for Possessive. The definite article is commonly used with the force of a possessive adjective, when no ambiguity arises from its use:

Donnez-moi la main. Il a perdu la vie. Give me your hand. He has lost his life.

Il avait le chapeau sur la tête.

He had his hat on his head.

a. The use of an indirect pronoun object + the definite article often avoids ambiguity:

Le courage lui manqua. Elle lui a arraché les yeux. Il s'est fait mal à la tête. His courage failed (him). She tore out his eyes. He hurt his head.

b. Possessive force appears also in avoir mal (froid, chaud, etc.) $\hat{\mathbf{a}}$ + the definite article followed by a noun denoting part of the person; similarly, in phrases of personal description made up of avoir + the definite article + a noun + an adjective:

J'ai mal à la tête.

Il a mal aux yeux. Il a froid aux pieds.

Il a la tête grosse (or une grosse tête).

Il a les bras longs (or de longs bras).

Le chêne a l'écorce rude.

I have a headache (my head aches). He has sore eyes (his eyes, etc.).

He has cold feet (his feet, etc.).

He has a large head.

He has long arms.

The oak has (a) rough bark.

329. Article Distributively. 1. The definite article with distributive force replaces English a of weight, measure, number, when indicating price:

Deux francs la livre (le mètre). Two francs a pound (a meter). Des œufs (à) dix sous la douzaine. Eggs at ten cents a dozen. Des poires (à) un sou la pièce. Pears at a cent apiece.

a. Otherwise par is generally used with price:

Cinq francs par jour. Cent francs par tête. Trois francs par leçon. Five francs a (per) day.
A hundred francs a (per) head.
Three francs a (per) lesson.

2. The definite article is also used distributively with names of days:

Il vient le dimanche. Le bateau part tous les lundis. He comes (on) Sundays.

The boat goes every Monday.

- 330. Omission of the Article. The article, whether definite, indefinite, or partitive, is frequently omitted. This takes place:
- 1. In a large number of expressions made up of a verb + a noun:

J'ai sommeil; il a honte. Je vous demande pardon. I am sleepy; he is ashamed. I beg your pardon.

Further examples are:

donner avis, notify faire place, make room avoir besoin, need avoir faim, be hungry donner ordre, give orders prendre congé, take leave avoir bonne mine, look well faire attention, pay at- prendre garde, take care avoir peur, be afraid tention . rendre visite, pay a visit avoir tort, be (in the) wrong faire cadeau, make a trouver moven, find courir risque, run the risk present means demander conseil, ask ad- faire faillite, fail (in etc., etc. business)

2. In many adjectival and adverbial phrases made up of a preposition + a noun:

D'après nature; devant témoins. After nature; before witnesses. Sans cause; à travers champs. Without cause; across the fields.

Further examples are:

à bord, on board à cheval, on horseback à dessein. intentionally à genoux, on one's knees à pied, on foot not à fleurs, flower pot moulin à vent, windmill après dîner, after dinner avec intérêt, with interest avec plaisir, with pleasure chien de berger, par chemin de fer, by railshepherd's dog way homme de cœur, par exemple, for example man of feeling par expérience, by experience homme de génie, par terre, by land man of genius sans crainte, without fear en bateau, in a boat sans raison, without reason en été, in summer sous condition, on condition en voiture, in a car- sous presse, in the press riage sur papier, on paper sortir de table, leave the table par an, by the year etc., etc.

3. Before a predicate noun which qualifies in a general way the personal subject, or object, of certain verbs (cf. § 295):

Ils sont Russes. Elle est modiste. Nous sommes médecins. Il paraît honnête homme. Son frère se fit soldat. On l'a ordonné prêtre. Soyons amis.

They are Russians. She is a milliner. We are doctors. He seems an honest man. His brother became a soldier. He was ordained a priest. Let us be friends.

Note. — Nouns so used are commonly those of nationality, profession, title, etc., and their function is adjectival. Whenever a predicate noun denotes an individual or a species, it must have the article: La rose est une fleur, The rose is a flower; Les rois sont des hommes, Kings are men.

a. The article is not omitted when the predicate noun has a distinctive adjunct:

Son frère est un artiste de mérite. Ils sont devenus des généraux distingués.

His brother is an artist of merit. They became distinguished generals.

b. Observe the predicative force of a noun after traiter + de, qualifier + de:

Il m'a traité de sot. Je qualifie cela de fraude. He called me a fool. I call that fraud.

c. After c'est, ce sont, the noun is logical subject, not predicate, and hence the article or some other determinative word must be used with it:

C'est une Allemande. Ce sont les (mes) gants. She is (a) German. Those are the (my) gloves. 4. Before such an appositive noun as serves merely the purpose of a parenthetical explanation:

L'Avare, comédie de Molière. Pâris, fils de Priam, ravit Hélène, femme de Ménélas. L'Avare, a comedy by Molière. Paris, the son of Priam, carried off Helen, (the) wife of Menelaus.

- a. Thus is explained the omission of the article in numerical titles:
 Jacques premier (deux).
 James the First (the Second).
- b. An apposition which distinguishes, contrasts, compares, regularly has the article, as in English:

Pierre le Grand.

Racine le fils et non Racine le père.

Montréal, la plus grande ville du Canada.

M. Cook, un ami de mon père.

Peter the Great.

Racine the son and not Racine the father.

Montreal, the largest city in Canada.

Mr. Cook, a friend of my father.

c. Colloquially, the article is often omitted in contrasts:

Dumas père et Dumas fils. Dumas the elder and Dumas the younger.

Note. — Pseudo-apposition (really ellipsis of de or of a de clause) is found in many cases like L'église (sc. de) Saint-Pierre, St. Peter's Church, des meubles (sc. du temps de) Louis XV, Louis XV furniture; La rue (sc de) Mirabeau, Mirabeau Street.

5. In condensed sentences, such as titles of books, enumerations, addresses, advertisements, proverbs, antithetical expressions, etc., and usually after ni...ni, sans...ni, soit...soit, tant...que, jamais:

Causes de la perte de Rome.

Portrait de Napoléon III.

Soldats, officiers, citoyens, tous accourarent.

Beauté, talent, esprit, tout s'use à la longue.

Il loge rue Richelieu.

Maison à vendre.

Chapeaux pour hommes.

Corps et âme; nuit et jour.

Soit peur, soit prudence, il évita le combat.

He lives in Richelieu street.

(A) house for sale.

Men's hats.

Body and soul; night and day.

Whether from fear or prudence, he avoided the combat.

Il n'a ni père ni mère. Sans amis ni argent. Tant hommes que femmes. Tamais père n'a tant aimé.

He has neither father nor mother. Without friends or money. As well men as women. Never did a father love so much

331. Unclassified Examples. The following examples show idiomatic distinctions in the use of the article which, from the point of view of English, cannot conveniently be brought under general rules:

Vous êtes le bienvenu. Demander (faire) l'aumône. Avoir le temps. Aller à l'école (l'église). Commander le respect. Le feu s'est déclaré. Faire la guerre. Jeter (lever) l'ancre. Garder le silence. THE ARTICLE WITH PROPER NOUNS

332. Names of Persons. 1. As in English, names of persons usually take no article:

Corneille; George Fox.

Corneille; George Fox.

a. The definite article is a constituent part of some surnames: Les romans de Lesage. Les fables de La Fontaine.

The novels of Lesage. The fables of La Fontaine.

2. The definite article is used according to Italian analogy in the French form of a few famous Italian surnames; so also sometimes in a very few names which are not Italian: Le Corrège; le poème du Tasse. Correggio; the poem of Tasso.

Le Poussin; le Camoëns.

Poussin: Camoens.

3. The article is used when the name has a distinctive adjunct, when it is plural, or when used as a common noun: Le Christ. Christ (= the 'Anointed').

Le Satan de Milton; le grand Condé.

Les Corneille et les Racine.

C'est un Alexandre. C'est du Cicéron tout pur. J'ai lu le Télémaque.

Milton's Satan; the Great Condé.

A Corneille, a Racine (= Corneille, Racine and others like them). He is an Alexander. It is pure Ciceronian. I have read Télémague.

4. Familiarly, often in a depreciatory sense, the definite article is not uncommon, especially with names of females: Sans attendre la Barbette. Without waiting for Barbara. Le Duval me l'a dit. Duval told me so.

333. Names of Countries. 1. Names of continents, countries, provinces, large European islands, take the definite article, especially when standing as subject or object of a verb:

L'Asie est un grand continent. Nous aimons la France.

La Normandie produit des céréales. Normandy produces cereals. La Corse est une île française.

But non-European islands often do not take the article:

Madagascar est une grande île. Cabot découvrit Terre-Neuve.

Asia is a large continent.

We love France.

Corsica is a French island.

Madagascar is a large island. Cabot discovered Newfoundland.

Note also such forms as: L'île de Cuba, les îles Bahama.

2. Before names of continents, European countries and islands singular, and feminine countries singular outside of Europe, en without the article denotes 'where,' 'where to'; so also, after de denoting 'point of departure from' and after de in most adjectival phrases:

Il est en (va en) Europe. Il voyage en France (Portugal). Il vient d'Espagne (Danemark). Le roi de Portugal (Espagne). Le fer de Suède. Il va en Corse.

He is in (is going to) Europe. He travels in France (Portugal). He comes from Spain (Denmark). The King of Portugal (Spain). Swedish iron. He is going to Corsica.

a. Exceptions are rare, e.g., au Maine, Le duc du Maine, etc.

Note. - In an adjectival phrase, de denoting titular distinction, origin, description, or mere apposition usually omits the article, e.g., le pays de France, Le Royaume Uni de Grande-Bretagne et d'Irlande.

3. But the definite article is not omitted, in answer to 'where?' 'where to?' or after de as above, when the name is plural, or has a distinctive adjunct, or denotes a masculine name of a country outside of Europe:

Il est aux Indes. Il va aux États-Unis. Aux Pavs-Bas. L'impératrice des Indes. Venir des Indes (de l'Inde). Dans la France méridionale. Dans le Midi de la France.

He is in India. He goes to the United States. In (to) the Netherlands. The Empress of India. To come from India.

In North America. The Queen of Great Britain. He returns from South Africa. In (to) Mexico (Japan).

The Dominion of Canada

Expelled from China. The consul of Peru. Canadian iron.

But note such as: Son père est à Madagascar.

a. In a few names like Asie Mineure, basse Bretagne, the adjective is no longer felt to be distinctive:

En Asie mineure.

In Asia Minor.

4. Omission of the article in the predicate, in enumerations, titles, etc., sometimes occurs (cf. § 330, 5):

La Gaule est devenue France. Espagne, Italie, Belgique, tout eût pris feu.

Gaul became France. Spain, Italy, Belgium, all would have caught fire.

334. Names of Cities. Names of cities and towns usually have no article, unless used with a distinctive adjunct:

Londres, Paris, Québec. A Boston (Montréal). But: La Rome de ce siècle. La Nouvelle-Orléans.

London, Paris, Quebec. To or in Boston (Montreal). (The) Rome of this century. New Orleans.

a. The definite article is an essential part of several names of cities: Le Caire; le Havre; la Havane. Cairo; Havre; Havana.

335. Names of Mountains and Rivers. Names of mountains always, and names of rivers regularly, have the definite article:

Les Alpes; le Nil; le mont Blanc. The Alps; the Nile; Mt. Blanc.

a. For rivers, the usage after en, de, is parallel with that described in § 333, 2:

De l'eau de Seine.

Seine water.

Un abordage a eu lieu en Seine.

A collision occurred on the Seine.

THE ADJECTIVE

THE FEMININE OF ADJECTIVES

336. General Rule. The feminine of an adjective is regularly formed by adding -e to the masculine singular, but adjectives ending in -e remain unchanged:

Masc.	FEM.	Masc.	FEM.
grand,	grande, tall	facile,	facile, easy
joli,	jolie, pretty	jeun e ,	jeune, young rusé,	rusée, cunning	sincère,	sincère, sincere

ami, friend,	ami e	camarade, comrade,	camarade cousin, cousin,	cousine	concierge, porter,	concierge
lapin, rabbit,	lapine	malade, patient,	malade

- b. Adjectives in -gu are regular, but require the diæresis to indicate that u is sounded, e.g., aigu, sharp, aiguë.
- c. The circumflex in dû (f. due) distinguishes it from du = of the, and disappears in the fem. (§ 214); observe also mû (f. mue, § 219).
- d. Besides adjectives in -e, a very few others are invariable for the feminine, e.g., capot, in être capot = have come to grief, grognon, grumbling, rococo, rococo, sterling, sterling, and rarer ones.

Note. — Here also properly belongs grand in grand'mère, etc. In O. F. grand was masculine or feminine, but grammarians at a later date gave it the apostrophe to denote the supposed elision of e.

- 337. Special Rules. 1. Irregularities consist chiefly of changes in the stem on adding the feminine sign -e; thus, when -e is added:
- (1) Final f = v, x = s, c = ch in some, and qu in others, g = gu:

Гем.	Masc.	FEM.
active	* blanc, white,	blan ch e
brè v e	† public, public,	publique
heureuse	long, long,	longue
	acti v e brè v e	active * blanc, white, brève † public, public,

- b. The adjectives doux, douce, sweet, faux, fauxse, false, roux, rousse, red (of hair, etc.), retain the [s] sound in the feminine, denoted by c and ss respectively; grec, Greek, has feminine grecque; préfix, prefixed, is regular.
- (2) Final -el, -eil, -ien, -on, and usually -s, -t, double the final consonant:

Masc.	FEM.	Masc.	Г ЕМ.
cruel, cruel,	cruelle	gros, big,	grosse
pareil, like,	pareille	épai s, thick,	épaisse
ancien, old,	ancie nn e	exprès, express,	expresse

mortel, mortal,		lion, lion,		poulet, chicken,
chien, dog,	chie nn e	chat, cat,	chatte	linot, linnet,	linotte

b. A very few adjectives and nouns of other endings follow this analogy:

Masc.	F EM.	Masc.	FEM.
paysan, peasant,	paysa nn e	gentil, nice,	gentille
rouan, roan,	rouanne	nul, null,	nulle

(3) The following have two masculine forms, one of which doubles 1 for the feminine, like the above:

Masc.	F EM.	Masc.	F ем.
beau or bel, fine,	belle	mou or mol, soft,	molle
fou or fol, mad,	folle	nouveau or nouvel, new,	nouvelle jumeau or (O. F.		vieux or vieil, old,	vieille
jumel), twin,	jumelle

Obs.: The -I form is regularly used only before a vowel or h mute; vieux before a vowel is permissible, e.g., un vieux ami (better: un vieil ami).

a. Analogous are a few nouns:

MASC. FEM. MASC. FEM. chameau, camel, chamelle jouvenceau, young fellow, jouvencelle, etc.

(4) Before final -r and -et of a few adjectives e becomes è (cf. § 12, 1); so also in bref, brève, sec, sèche:

MASC. FEM. MASC. FEM. cher, dear, chère complet, complete, complète léger, light, légère etc.

a. Similarly, nouns in -er.

Masc. Fem. Masc. Fem. berger, shepherd, bergère étranger, stranger, étrangère, etc.

b. The complete list of adjectives in -et with fem. in -ète is:

(in)complet, (in)complete meilleur, better, meilleure supérieur, superior, supérieure

a. Similarly, nouns of like termination:

MASC. FEM. MASC. FEM. MASC. FEM. mineur, minor, mineure; prieur, prior, prieure; inférieur, inferieure

(2) Those in -eur with a cognate present participle in -ant change -r to -s and add -e:

MASC. FEM. MASC. FEM.

causeur, talkative, causeuse rêveur, dreamy, rêveuse flatteur, flattering, flatteuse trompeur, deceitful, trompeuse menteur, lying, menteuse etc.

a. Similarly, nouns of like termination, but see also § 306, 1, a, 2, a:

THE PLURAL OF A	DJECTIVES
338. General Rule. Most mas	culine adjectives	and all feminines form their plural by a (cf. § 307):
	une(s) has	hacca(e)
$\frac{\operatorname{grand}(s)}{\operatorname{joli}(s)}$, $\frac{\operatorname{grande}(s)}{\operatorname{grande}(s)}$ $\operatorname{jeune}(s)$, $\operatorname{grande}(s)$, $\operatorname{aigu}(s)$,	guë(s) doux	basse(s) douce(s)
rusé(s), rusée(s) complet(s), co	mplète(s) etc.	etc.
		71. 7
339. Special Rules. The following with those for the irregular plural	of nouns (cf. § ?	308):
1. Masculine adjectives in -s,	-v (none in -7	remain unchanged:	22 (11011C 111 2	/ ICIIICIII
Sing. Pl. Sing. Pl.	Sing.	D-
bas bas gris gris	faux fa
épais épais soumis soumis		eux frais frais, etc. doux doux, etc.
		,
2. Masculine adjectives in -eau,		таке х:
Sing. PL.	Sing.	PL.
beau beaux	jumeau ju
nouveau nouveaux	hébreu hé	breux

But: bleu, bleus; feu, feus

3. Masculine adjectives in -al regularly have the plural in -aux:

Sing.	PL.	SING.	PL.	SING.	PL.
amical	amicaux	général	généraux	moral	moraux
brutal	brutaux	légal	légaux	principal	principaux
capital	capitaux	libéral	libéraux	rural	ruraux
cardinal	cardinaux	local	locaux	spéci al	spéciaux
égal	égaux	loyal	loyaux	trivial	triviaux

- a. Fatal makes fatals: Littré gives also final(s).
- b. According to the Dictionnaire de l'Académie, the following have no masculine plural:
- * automnal frugal * jovial naval † pascal * colossal glacial natal * partial
 - * Littré gives a plural in -aux.
 - † Littré admits a plural in -aux, and quotes authority for a plural in -s.

Notes.—1. There are upwards of a hundred and fifty adjectives in -al. The Dictionnaire de l'Académie is silent regarding the masculine plural of some sixty of these, to nearly fifty of which, however, Littré gives a plural in -aux. The following have not been pronounced upon by either authority: Brumal, déloyal, diagonal, instrumental, labial, médicinal, mental, monacal, paradoxal, quadragésimal, total, virginal.

2. Regular plurals in -als were formerly much commoner, and usage is still unsettled for some words. When the plural is wanting or doubtful it is often avoided, e.g., Un repas frugal; des repas simples. Plurals commonly so avoided are: Final, frugal, glacial, initial, matinal, natal, naval, théâtral.

AGREEMENT OF ADJECTIVES

340. General Rule. An adjective, whether attributive or predicative, regularly agrees in gender and number with its substantive:

Les saisons froides sont saines.

Elles sont contentes.

Ils se disaient malades.

Je les crois sincères.

Cold seasons are healthful.

They are pleased.

They said they were ill.

I believe them sincere.

- a. When the substantive has a de clause, the agreement is parallel with that explained for subject and verb (cf. § 232, 2).
- b. The agreement with vous is according to the sense: Madame, vous êtes bien bonne. Madam, you are very kind.

341. Manifold Substantive. 1. One adjective qualifying two or more substantives is made plural, and agrees in gender with both, if of the same gender; if of different gender, the adjective is masculine.

De la viande et des pommes de Cold meat and potatoes.

Sa sœur et lui sont contents.

His sister and he are pleased.

- a. When substantives are joined by ou, ni...ni, or are synonymous, or form a climax, etc., the principles stated for agreement of subject and verb apply (cf. § 233).
- b. When nouns differ in gender, the masculine one is usually placed nearest the adjective, especially when the feminine form is distinct from the masculine.

La mer et le ciel bleus.

The blue sea and sky.

2. When the noun is followed by a preposition + a noun, the agreement is, of course, according to the meaning:

Une table de bois dur. Une table de bois carrée. A table of hard wood.
A square wooden table.

342. Manifold Adjective. When two or more adjectives, denoting different objects singular, refer to one noun, the noun is made plural, and the adjectives follow it in the singular, or the noun is made singular, and the article repeated with each adjective.

Les nations grecque et romaine. The Greek and Roman nations.

La nation grecque et la romaine. The Greek nation and the Roman.

Or: La nation grecque et la nation romaine.

a. The agreement for a preceding ordinal is parallel to this:

Les sixième et septième rangs. Le sixième rang et le septième. Le sixième et le septième rang. The sixth and seventh ranks.
The sixth rank and the seventh.
The sixth and the seventh rank.

343. Special Cases. 1. Adjectives used as adverbs are regularly invariable:

Cette rose sent bon. Les livres coûtent cher ici. That rose smells sweet. Books cost dear here.

a. Possible, replacing a clause, and fort, in se faire fort = to pledge oneself, are considered as adverbs:

l'ai fait le moins de fautes possible.

I have made as few mistakes as possible.

Elle se fait fort de le payer.

She pledges herself to pay it.

- 2. Compound adjectives, with or without hyphen, are treated as follows:
- (1) Both components are variable when coördinate, except first components in -o:

Des sourd(e)s-muet(te)s. Des oranges aigres-douces. Deaf-mutes. Sourish oranges.

But: Les lettres gréco-romaines. Graco-Roman literature.

(2) A subordinate component is usually invariable, being regarded as adverbial, but the principle is not fully carried out:

Des mots grecs-moderne. Des enfants court-vêtus. Une dame haut placée. Des enfants nouveau-nés. Modern Greek words. Short-coated children. A lady of high rank.

New-born infants.

NOTE. — These constructions are explained by supplying the ellipsis: Des robes (couleur de) lilas; Des cheveux (couleur de) blond ardent.

- 4. A few adjectives are variable or invariable according to position or context:
- a. Demi = half, nu = naked, plein = full of, are invariable before and variable after the noun; so also, excepté and others (\S 289, a, b), franc de port = postpaid (also franco, adverb) is invariable before, and usually variable after:

COMPARISON OF ADJECTIVES

345. The Comparative. It is regularly denoted by placing plus = more, moins = less, for inequality, and aussi = as, for equality, before each adjective compared; than or as = que:

Il est plus diligent et plus attentif que Jean.

Il est plus faible que malade.

He is taller than John.

He is less tall than (not so tall as)

À bon marché, à meilleur marché. Cheap, cheaper.

Cela sent bon (meilleur). That smells good (better).

But: Ce n'est ni plus bon ni plus mauvais.

NOTES. - 1. In expressions like Ce vin est plus ou moins bon, bon is not really comparative. 2. Some grammarians admit plus bon = more good-natured.

b. Pire is, in general, stronger than plus mauvais, and may serve also as a comparative to méchant = bad, evil, wicked:

Cet homme est méchant (pire). That man is bad (worse).

The richer he became the less generous was he.

Que vous êtes aimable de venir! How kind you are to come!

When used literally, to define, distinguish, specify, emphasize, etc., they usually follow; but when used figuratively, or as a merely ornamental epithet, or denoting a quality viewed as essential to the object, or when forming, as it were, one idea with the noun, they usually precede:

- 355. Adjective + \hat{a} . The preposition $\hat{a} = to$, at, for, etc., is required after most adjectives denoting tendency, fitness, and their opposites, comparison, etc.

[N. = nominative; D. = dative; A. = accusative; P. \Rightarrow object of a preposition.]

Note. — A more scientific terminology would be 'unstressed' and 'stressed' instead of 'conjunctive' and 'disjunctive,' as indicating the real distinction between the two sets of forms, e.g., Je (unstressed) parle; Qui parle? — Moi (stressed). As a matter of fact, the unstressed forms usually stand in immediate connection with the verb (as subject or object), hence the term 'conjunctive,' while the stressed forms are usually employed otherwise, hence the term 'disjunctive.'

360. Pronominal Adverbs

y = to (at, on, in, into, etc.) it or them; there, thither.
en = of (from, etc.) it or them; some, any, some of it, some of them; thence, from there.

Note. — Y and en were originally adverbs (y from L. ibi = there, and en from L. inde = thence), but they are now usually pronominal in function, and are used precisely like the conjunctive forms.

361. Agreement. The personal pronoun regularly agrees with its antecedent in gender, number, and person:

Nous les avons frappé(e)s. We have struck them.

Elle lit la lettre; elle la lit. She reads the letter; she reads it.

a. The first person plural for the first person singular is used by sovereigns and authorities, and by writers, as in English:

Nous (le roi) avons ordonné et We (the king) have ordained and ordonnons ce qui suit. We ordain as follows.

Comme nous avons dit déjà. As we have said already.

b. Vous = you (singular or plural) has a plural verb; its other agreements, as also those of nous above, are according to the sense:

Nous (la reine) sommes contente. We (the queen) are satisfied.

Madame, vous êtes bien bonne. Madam, you are very kind.

- c. For imperative first plural instead of first singular, see § 267, a.
- d. Il and le are used as invariable neutral forms, when the antecedent is one to which gender cannot be ascribed:

Y en a-t-il? — Je le crois.

Is there any (of it)? I think so.

362. Case Relations of Conjunctives. 1. The nominative forms stand as subject and the accusative forms as direct object to a verb; their use is obvious:

Il nous a vusa

He saw us.

a. The conjunctive is optional when there are two accusatives: Te (les) blâme lui et elle. I blame him and her.

2. The dative forms denote the person or thing for whose 'advantage' or 'disadvantage' the action is done, denoted by $\mathbf{a} = to$, for, from, with nouns:

Je leur prêterai les livres. On lui a volé son argent.

I shall lend them the books. His money has been stolen from him.

But à + a disjunctive form is used in the following cases:

(1) When two datives are joined by a conjunction, or when in emphasis a second dative is implied:

J'en ai parlé à lui et à elle.

I spoke of it to him and to her. Je donne le livre à elle (pas à lui). I give the book to her (not to him).

(2) When the conjunctive direct object is any other pronoun than le, la, les:

Je vous présente à elle. Il se présenta à moi.

I introduce you to her. He introduced himself to me.

But: Je le (la, les) leur présente, etc.

(3) After verbs of motion and some others, to denote the 'object towards which the action tends,' the relation. though expressed by à, not being really dative:

Te courus à lui.

Cette maison est à moi.

Il pense (songe, rêve) à eux.

I ran to him.

That house belongs to me.

He thinks (muses, dreams) of them,

Such verbs are:

accoutumer, accustom aller, go appeler, call en appeler, appeal aspirer, aspire attirer, attract avoir affaire, have to do avoir recours, have recourse comparer, compare courir, run être (à), belong (to) faire attention, pay attention habituer, accustom marcher, march penser, think prendre garde, take heed

prendre intérêt, take interest prétendre, aspire recourir, have recourse renoncer, renounce revenir, come back rêver, dream songer, muse venir, come

a. Certain verbs of this class, when not literal, take the conjunctive dative:

Il lui vint une idée. Vous nous reviendrez. There occurred to him an idea. You will come to see us again.

Note. — The ethical dative, denoting the person 'interested in' or 'affected by' an action, rare in English, is common in French: Goûtez-moi ce vin-là, Just taste that wine.

- 363. Impersonal il. For invariable il as the subject of an impersonal verb, see §§ 248–253.
- 364. Predicative le, la, les. As predicate the third person is either variable or invariable:
- 1. Le agrees when referring to a determinate noun or to an adjective used as such:

Êtes-vous sa mère? — Je la suis. Are you his mother? — I am. Êtes-vous la mariée? — Je la suis. Are you the bride? — I am.

2. Le, invariable, is used when referring to an adjective, or to a noun as adjective:

Êtes-vous fatiguée? — Je le suis. Êtes-vous mère? — Je le suis.

Are you tired? — I am.
Are you a mother? — I am.

365. Pleonastic le. The neutral form le (§ 361, d) is often pleonastic, as compared with English usage:

Êtes-vous mère? — Je le suis. Qu'ils soient venus, je le sais. Fais du bien, quand tu le peux. Ce qu'il voulait, il le veut encore. Are you a mother? — I am.
That they have come, I know.
Do good when you can.
What he wished, he still wishes.

I am ready if need be. Je suis prête, s'il le faut. I shall go if you wish (it). le m'en irai, si vous le désirez. Ils sont comme je (le) désirerais. They are as I should like. He is older than I am. Il est plus âgé que je ne (le) suis.

Obs.: This le is optional in comparative clauses.

a. Le is also used in a number of fixed expressions:

He yields to nobody. Il ne le cède à personne. Nous l'avons emporté. We have carried the day. He had a narrow escape. Il l'a échappé belle.

b. Le may sometimes be translated by one or so:

Il est soldat; je le suis aussi. He is a soldier: I am one too. Sois brave, et je le serai aussi. Be brave and I shall be so too.

366. Reflexives. 1. A special conjunctive reflexive form, se for dative or accusative of either gender or number, is required in the third person only; for the first and second person the ordinary forms are used (cf. § 242):

Il (elle) se loue. He (she) praises him (her) -self. Ils (elles) se le sont dit. They said so to each other.

But: Je me loue; tu te loues; nous nous louons; vous vous louez.

2. The disjunctive soi is hardly used beyond the third singular in an indefinite or general sense:

Chacun travaille pour soi. Every one works for himself. On doit parler rarement de soi. De soi le vice est odieux.

One should rarely speak of oneself. In itself vice is hateful.

But: Elle est contente d'elle-même; ils ne songent qu'à eux-mêmes.

a. The use of soi is rarer for the feminine than for the masculine:

Un bienfait porte sa récompense A good deed brings its reward avec soi (lui). · with it.

La guerre entraîne après elle (soi) War brings after it countless evils. des maux sans nombre.

Note. — Soi is no longer used of persons denoted by a general noun, e.g., L'avare ne vit que pour lui-même (not pour soi), nor is it used, as formerly, of persons to avoid ambiguity, e.g., Quoique son frère soit dans la misère, il ne pense qu'à lui-même (not à soi).

367. Uses of en. 1. En is in function an equivalent of de + a pronoun of the third person of either gender or number; it is used of things, and less commonly of persons:

Je parle des plumes; j'en parle. Donnez-les-moi; j'en ai besoin. Il est mon ami; j'en réponds. Il aime ses fils, et il en est aimé.

Vous voilà; j'en suis content. Vient-il de Chicago? — Il en vient. I speak of the pens; I speak of them. Give me them; I need them.

He is my friend; I answer for him. He loves his sons, and is loved by them.

There you are; I am glad of it. Does he come from C.? He does.

a. The antecedent is often understood or indefinite:

Voyons! où en étions-nous?
Ils en sont venus aux mains.
Il m'en veut.
Tant s'en faut.
C'en est fait de lui.
À vous en croire.
Quoi qu'il en soit.
Je n'en peux plus.
Il y en a qui le croient.

Let me see, how far on were we?
They came to blows.
He has a grudge against me.
Far from it.
It is all up with him.
If one is to believe you.
However it (that) may be.
I am worn out.
There are some who think so.

- 2. Through a somewhat special application of the general principle, it is further used:
 - (1) In a partitive sense:

Voici du papier; en voulez-vous?

— Merci, j'en ai.

Avez-vous une plume? — J'en ai une (j'en ai plusieurs). Il me faut en acheter d'autres. Here is some paper; do you wish any? — Thank you, I have some. Have you a pen? — I have one (I have several).

I must buy others.

(2) En = thereof + the definite article replaces a possessive adjective referring to a possessor in the preceding clause, but only when the thing possessed is a direct object, a subject of être, or a predicate noun:

J'aime ce pays; j'en admire les institutions.

Blâmez les péchés de ces gens, mais n'en blâmez pas les malheurs.

Cette affaire est délicate; le succès en est douteux.

Ceci est la gloire du pays; cela en est la honte. I like this country; I admire its institutions.

Blame the sins of those people, but do not blame their misfortunes.

That affair is delicate; its success is doubtful.

This is the country's glory; that is its disgrace.

But: Cette maison a ses défauts (the possessor not being in the previous sentence); J'aime ces vers; leur harmonie me ravit (the thing possessed being subject of another verb than être); J'admire ce pays; il est fameux par ses bonnes lois (the thing possessed being governed by a preposition).

368. Use of y. Y is in function equivalent to à (en, dans, etc.) + a pronoun of the third person of either gender or number: it is used of things, and rarely of persons:

le pense à mes péchés; j'y pense. Il est en Europe; il y est, et moi j'y vais aussi.

Il se connaît en ces choses, mais moi je ne m'y connais pas.

Il aspire à cela; il y aspire.

Vous fiez-vous à lui? - Je m'y fie.

I think of my sins; I think of them. He is in Europe; he is there, and I am going there too.

He is an expert in those things, but I am not.

He aspires to that; he aspires to it. Do you trust him? - I trust him.

a. The antecedent is often understood or indefinite:

Il u va de votre vie. I'y suis! Qu'y a-t-il? Il s'u prend adroitement. Est-ce que Monsieur B. u est? Y pensez-vous?

Your life is at stake. I have it! What is the matter? He goes about it cleverly. Is Mr. B. at home? You don't mean it?

369. Position of Conjunctive Objects. 1. They stand immediately before their governing verb, except the imperative affirmative:

Je leur en parlerai. Je l'y ai envoyé pour le leur dire. Il lui faut parler; il faut lui parler.

I shall speak to them of it. I sent him there to tell them it. He must speak; one must speak to him.

a. With negative infinitive, the object may stand between ne and pas (point, rien, etc.); similarly adverb + infinitive:

(or ne le point voir).

Pour les bien considérer.

Je suis étonné de ne point le voir I am astonished not to see him.

To consider them well

b. The objects of an infinitive governed by faire, laisser (cf. § 230, 6, 7) or a verb of perceiving (entendre, etc.), accompany the finite verb:

Te le lui ferai dire. Il se le voit refuser. Faites-vous-la raconter.

I shall make him say it. He sees himself being refused it. Have it related to you.

c. A similar arrangement is permissible with aller, venir, envoyer, etc. + an infinitive:

Je vais le chercher.

J'enverrai le chercher or

Je l'enverrai chercher.

I'll fetch it (or him).

I shall send for him.

Note. — In the older language, objects of an infinitive often stood before the so-called modal auxiliaries, e.g., Je vous dois dire, but usage hardly permits this now, except for en, y, e.g., Ce qu'on en doit attendre.

2. Conjunctive objects stand immediately after an imperative affirmative:

Regardez-les; écoutez-nous. Donnez-le-lui; allons-nous-en. Look at them; listen to us.

Give it to him; let us go away.

But: Ne les regardez pas. Ne les écoutez point. Ne le lui donnez pas.

Do not look at them.

Do not listen to them.

Do not give it to him.

a. The rule does not apply to the subjunctive as impve. (§ 272, 1, a):
 Ou'il les écoute.

Let him listen to them.

Notes. — 1. Formerly, but rarely now, an imperative affirmative when joined to another by et (ou, mais) might have an object before it: Achetezles et les payez, etc.

- 2. Voici and voilà, which are imperatives by derivation, are always preceded by their conjunctive object: Les voici, en voilà, etc.
- 370. Relative Position of Objects. Personal pronoun objects and pronominal adverbs are arranged with reference to each other, as follows:
 - 1. When coming before the verb:

Il me les donne. Il les lui donne. He gives them to me. He gives them to him.

Il nous en donne. Je leur en parlerai.

He gives us some of it.

I shall speak to them of it.

Ne leur en parlez pas.

Do not speak of it to them.

Je l'y ai envoyé pour le leur dire.

I sent him there to tell them it.

a. When there are two direct or two indirect objects, they become disjunctive and follow the verb:

l'ai vu lui et elle.

I have seen him and her.

l'en ai parlé à lui et à elle.

I spoke of it to him and to her.

2. When coming after the verb:

le (la les) me (te, lui, nous, vous, leur) before moi (toi, lui, nous, vous, leur) before y (en)

before en

Donnez-les-moi.

Donnez-leur-en.

Donnez-m'en: va-t'en.

Conduisez-nous-y. Allez-vous-en.

Give them to me. Give them some of it. Give me some; begone.

Take us there. Go away.

a. After an imperative, the indirect objects nous, vous, may precede the direct le, la, les in familiar language:

Conservez-vous-le. Tenez-vous-le pour dit. Keep it for yourselves. Consider it as final.

3. Reference table showing possible combinations of two pronouns:

	(Before th	e Verb)		(Afte	r the Verb)

	J	/8.0	~		y-C11

Obs.: 1. The disjunctive forms moi, toi are used instead of me, te after the verb, except before en.

- After the verb, the forms are joined to it and to each other by hyphens, apostrophe instead of hyphen being used according to § 19.
- 3. Combinations of three forms are rare, e.g., Il nous y en a donné; they are usually avoided, e.g., Donnes-y-en à moi for Donne-m'y-en.
- 4. The forms in [] are almost always avoided, either by transposition or by some other form of expression, e.g., Mènes-y-moi or Mène-moi là for Mène-m'y, etc. See § 159, 4.
- 371. Omission of Object. The object of the second of two verbs in a compound tense joined by et or ou may be omitted along with the auxiliary and the subject:

Il l'a pris et tué.

Or: Il l'a pris et l'a tué.

Il l'a pris et il l'a tué.

But: Il l'a pris, l'a tué.

Il le prend, et le tue.

He caught and killed it.

He caught it and killed it.

He has caught it and has killed it.

He has caught it, has killed it.

He catches it. and kills it.

Note. — The verbs must be alike in government, must have the same auxiliary, must both be affirmative or negative, otherwise no omission is allowed.

- 372. Disjunctives. When, for any reason, the pronoun is stressed (§ 7), the disjunctive form is usually employed (see § 359, note); thus, the disjunctives are used:
 - 1. Absolutely, a verb being implied, but not expressed:

Qui est là? — Moi (eux, elle). Qui as-tu vu? — Lui (eux). Toi absent, que ferai-je? Who is there? — I (they, she).
Whom did you see? — Him (them).
You absent, what shall I do?

a. So also, in comparisons, and analogously, after ne...que:

Je suis plus grand que toi. Faites comme eux.

Je n'ai vu que lui.

I am taller than you. Do as they do.

I have seen him only.

2. In appositions, often emphatic:

Moi, je l'ai vu (moi-même). Toi qui l'as vu, tu me crois. Lui aussi (il) le sait.

Cela vous est facile à vous.

(Why) I saw it myself.

You who saw it (you) believe me

He too knows it.

That is easy for you.

a. With lui so used, and sometimes also with eux, the conjunctive subject may be omitted:

Lui seul (il) ne le voulait pas.

He alone did not wish it.

Lui travaillait; eux jouaient. He worked; they played.

Note. — Je soussigné = I the undersigned is a relic of the earlier language.

3. As logical subject after ce + être:

C'est moi (toi, vous); ce sont eux. It is I (thou, you); it is they.

4. With an infinitive:

Moi t'oublier! jamais. Et eux de s'enfuir. I forget thee! Never. And they made off.

5. When the subject or object is composite, see also § 362, 1, a and 2, (1):

Son frère et lui sont venus.

His brother and he have come.

a. A composite subject or object is usually summed up by a pleonastic appositive conjunctive, especially when the components are unlike in person:

Vous et lui (vous) l'avez vu. Je vous envoie, toi et ton frère. You and he saw it.

I send you and your brother.

6. After a preposition:

Je parle de toi et d'eux. Ils sont chez eux. Il se moque de nous. I speak of you and of them.

They are at home. He makes sport of us.

a. Observe the peculiar use of a preposition + a disjunctive pronoun as a sort of emphatic appositive of possession.

J'ai une maison à moi. Mon idée à moi, c'est, etc. I have a house of my own. My (own) idea is, etc.

Note. — A disjunctive for things after a preposition is usually avoided, either by means of en, y, or else by an adverb, such as dedans, dehors, dessus, devant, derrière, etc.: Je ne vois rien là dedans (in it): Voyez sur la table, cherchez dessus (on it) et dessous (under it).

- 7. For moi and toi after imperative, see § 370, 3, obs. 1.
- 373. Pronouns in Address. In addressing one person vous is, in general, the pronoun of formality and respect, whilst tu denotes familiarity, affection, solemnity, etc., as follows:

1. Tu = you, of one person, is generally used between members of the same family (husband and wife, parents and children, brothers and sisters), between very intimate friends, between children, by grown persons to children and sometimes to servants, by everybody to animals and inanimate objects:

Où es-tu, mon cher père? Est-ce toi, mon enfant? Pauvre chien, tu as faim. Where are you, my dear father? Is that you, my child? Poor dog, you are hungry.

2. Tu = thou is used in poetry and elevated prose, and by Protestants in addressing God, Roman Catholics using vous:

Nous te (vous) louons, ô Dieu! We praise thee, O God!

3. Vous, with the above limitations, is used, both in the singular and plural, as 'you' is in English.

THE POSSESSIVE PRONOUN

374.

Possessives

1. Adjectival Forms:

2. Pronominal Forms:

Obs.: 1. The forms in parenthesis, mon, ton, son, are used instead leur, is formed as for adjectives of of ma, ta, sa, before a vowel or h mute: Mon amie, my friend (f.); ton histoire (f.), your story; son aimable tante, his amiable aunt. 2. Since son (sa, ses) = his, her, its, one's, the context determines which sense is intended.

like ending. 2. De, a + le, les, contract as usual; thus, du mien (= de + le mien), aux miennes $(= \hat{a} + les miennes)$, etc. 3. Note the accent mark in nôtre, vôtre, absent in notre, votre. 4. Since le sien (la sienne, etc.) = his, hers, its, one's, the context determines which sense is intended.

Note. - The regular feminine forms, ma, ta, sa, were at one time used before a yowel sound: a trace of this usage survives in ma mie (for m'amie).

375. Agreement. The possessives agree in gender and number with the noun denoting the object possessed, and in person with the possessor:

Elle a son crayon et les miens. Il a sa plume et les vôtres.

She has her pencil and mine. He has his pen and yours.

a. The possessive adjective must be repeated precisely like the definite article (cf. § 318):

Mes parents et mes amis.

My relatives and friends.

b. When the possessor is indefinite, son (sa, etc.) and le sien (la sienne, etc.), are used:

On doit tenir sa parole.

Se charger des affaires d'autrui et négliger les siennes.

One must keep one's word.

To undertake the business of others and neglect one's own.

376. Use of Adjectival Forms. They are used, in general, like the corresponding English forms; idiomatic distinctions and special rules are:

1. The possessive adjective is commonly replaced by the definite article (cf. § 328) when no ambiguity arises from its use:

Il s'est cassé la jambe.

Donnez-moi la main.

Il m'a déchiré le visage.

But: Il a déchiré son habit.

He broke his leg. Give me your hand.

He has scratched my face.

He has torn his coat.

a. If the sense is specific, emphatic, or distinctive, the possessive is used:

Mon bras me fait mal.

My arm pains me.

Voilà ma migraine encore! There is my sick-headache again! Je l'ai vu de mes propres yeux. Elle lui a donné sa main. I saw it with my own eyes. She has given him her hand (sc. in marriage).

- 2. En + the definite article serves in certain cases as a substitute for son, leur, see § 367, 2, (2):
- a. This construction is more usual for things than for persons; for things personified, for names of places, or to avoid ambiguity, son, leur are not uncommon:

La nécessité parle; il faut suivre sa loi.

Vous rappelez-vous cette ville? Ses promenades sont très belles.

La source de toutes les passions est la sensibilité, l'imagination détermine leur pente. Necessity speaks; we must follow her law.

Do you remember that city? Its promenades are very fine.

Sensation is the source of all the passions, imagination determines their tendency.

3. The emphatic own is denoted by propre or by an apposition with $\hat{\mathbf{a}}$:

Je l'ai écrit de ma propre main. C'est mon opinion à moi. Cf. also: J'ai un cheval à moi. I wrote it with my own hand. That is my own opinion.
I have a horse of my own.

a. Along with son the à construction often avoids ambiguity:

Son père à lui. Sa mère à elle. His (i.e., not her) father. Her mother.

4. Mon (ma) is commonly used, in direct address, before the name of a relative (not before papa, maman) or the title of a superior officer:

Bonjour mon père (mon colonel). Good morning, father (colonel). But: Est-ce toi papa *(maman)? Is that you, papa (mamma)?

 N_{OTE} . — This usage explains the origin of monsieur (= mon + sieur), madame (= ma + dame), etc.

5. In speaking to a person of his or her relatives, votre (vos) is often preceded by monsieur, etc., for politeness:

Madame votre mère y est-elle? Is your mother in?

6. When there is plurality of possessor, the object possessed usually remains singular, if it is singular as regards the individual possessor:

Les hommes songent moins à leur Men think less of their souls than âme qu'à leur corps. Ils ont perdu la vie.

of their bodies.

They lost their lives.

a. Sometimes the sense demands a plural:

Leurs têtes se ressemblent.

Their heads are alike.

- 377. Use of Pronominal Forms. They are used, in general, like the corresponding English forms; idiomatic distinctions and special rules are the following:
- 1. Mine, etc., after être is regularly expressed by $\hat{\mathbf{a}}$ + moi. etc., when denoting ownership simply, while le mien, etc. denotes a distinction of ownership:

Cette montre est à moi. Cette montre est la mienne. That watch is mine.

That watch is mine (not yours).

2. The pronominal form sometimes stands without article in the predicate after certain verbs:

Ces opinions sont vôtres. Elle deviendra mienne. Te les ai fait miens.

Those opinions are yours. She shall become mine. I made them mine.

Such verbs are:

être devenir

faire dire regarder comme, etc.

3. The idiom a friend of mine, etc., is not literally translated:

Un de mes amis.

A friend of mine.

Un médecin de mes amis.

One of my friends, (who is) a doctor. A doctor, a friend of mine.

Un ami à moi. Mon ami que voici.

A friend of mine. This friend of mine.

Cf.: Un tour de sa façon.

One of his tricks.

a. The use of mien (tien, sien) attributively in this sense is familiar:

Un mien parent.

A relative of mine.

Une sienne cousine.

A cousin of his.

4. Emphatic own is rendered by propre, or is, more usually, untranslated:

Son avis et le mien (propre). His opinion and my own.

5. When used absolutely, i.e., without antecedent, the singular denotes property, what is mine, etc., and the plural relatives, friends, allies, etc.:

Je ne demande que le mien. Les nôtres se sont bien battus.

I ask only for what is mine. Our soldiers (etc.) fought well.

a. Familiarly, the feminine means pranks, etc.:

Il fait encore des siennes. He is at his pranks again.

Note. — Other absolute uses are not permissible, e.g., Votre lettre (not la vôtre) de la semaine dernière.

THE DEMONSTRATIVE PRONOUN

378.

Demonstratives

1. Adjectival forms:

2. Pronominal forms:

SING. PL. SING. PL.

m. ce (cet) this, that ces m. celui that (one), etc. ceux celles m. ce (cet) ...-ci f. celle-ci f. celle-ci f. celle-ci f. celle-ci f. celle-ci that ces ...-là that ces ...-là f. celle-là that (one), etc. ceux-ci celles-ci f. celle-là that (one), etc. ceux-là f. celle-là that (one), etc. ceux-là f. celle-là that (one), etc. celles-là celles-là celles-là that (one), etc. celles-là celles-là that (one), etc. celles-là celle
```

Obs.: The form cet is used before a vowel or h mute: Cet arbre; cet homme; cet autre dé; but: ce chêne; ce hêtre.

ce, this (these), that (those), he (she, it, they) ceci, this cela, that

Obs.: The e of ce is elided before a vowel or h mute (§ 19); c' becomes ç' before a (§ 5, 4): ç'a été.

379. Agreement. The adjectival form agrees in gender and number with the noun before which it stands; the pronominal form agrees in gender and number with the noun instead of which it stands:

Cette plume et celle de Jean.
J'aime ces livres-ci, mais je n'aime pas ceux-là.

This pen and that of John.

I like these books, but I do not like those.

a. The demonstrative adjective must be repeated like the definite article (cf. § 318).

380. Use of Adjectival ce. Ce (cette, etc.) = this or that; to distinguish this from that -ci and -là are respectively added to the noun:

Lis ce livre-ci; lis ce livre-là. J'aime ces tableaux-là.

Read this book; read that book. I like those pictures.

a. Ce (cette, etc.), referring to what has already been mentioned, sometimes has the force of that:

Le télégraphe, cette grande découverte de notre siècle. The telegraph, that great discovery of our century.

b. The definite article replaces the demonstrative adjective in a few idioms:

Ne parlez pas de la sorte. Je reviens à l'instant. Do not speak in that way. I shall be back in a moment.

381. Celui. The pronoun celui (celle, etc.) = that, that one, the one, he, is regularly used only along with a relative clause or a de clause:

Ceux qui rient pleureront.
Celle dont je parle est venue.
Le devoir d'aimer Dieu et celui d'aimer son prochain.
Cette robe et celle que j'ai vue.
Mes plumes et celles de mon frère.

Those who laugh will weep.
She of whom I speak has come.
The duty of loving God and that of loving one's neighbor.
This dress and the one I saw.

My pens and my brother's.

Obs.: Note the use of celui = English possessive noun.

a. The relative sentence is sometimes elliptically expressed by the past participle:

Les découvertes énumérées sont The discoveries enumerated are celles faites par Edison. The discoveries enumerated are

b. Celui-là replaces celui when the predicate comes before the relative:

Celui-là est riche qui est toujours He (that man) is rich who is always content. He happy.

382. Celui-ci, celui-là. The pronouns celui-ci (celle-ci, etc.) = this, this one, he, the latter and celui-là (celle-là, etc.) = that, that one, the former, are used to contrast the nearer with the more remote:

Voici les deux chaînes; gardez celle-ci, et renvoyez celle-là.

Veut-il ceux-ci ou ceux-là? Cicéron et Virgile étaient Romains; celui-ci était poète, et celui-là orateur.

Here are the two chains; keep this (one), and send back that (one).

Does he wish these or those? Cicero and Virgil were Romans; the former was an orator, and the latter a poet.

Obs.: The idiom in the last example is literally the latter . . ., the former.

a. This or that for emphasis, not contrast, is celui-là:

C'est une bonne loi (que) celle-là. This (that) is a good law.

- 383. Ce as Representative Subject. Ce = this, that, these, those, he, she, it, they, according to the context, is used with être, or with devoir, pouvoir, savoir + être, as representative subject, when the logical subject is:
- 1. A proper noun, or a determinate noun, including adjectives as such:

C'est Marie et sa mère.
Ce sera un beau spectacle.
Ce sont nos plumes.
Était-ce le meilleur?
Ce sont des Allemands.
C'est mon ami(e).
Ce peut être Jean.

It is Mary and her mother.
That (it) will be a fine sight.
These (those) are our pens.
Was it the best?
They (those) are Germans.
He (she) is my friend.
That may be John.

a. Before être + an indeterminate noun il (ils, elles) is the regular construction:

Il est temps de s'en aller. Ils sont amis (Français). Elle est couturière.

It is time to go.
They are friends (French).
She is a seamstress.

Note. — For a few expressions like c'est dommage, etc., in which c'est stands with an indeterminate noun, see 384, 1, note 3.

b. Il est is always used to indicate hours of the day:

Il est midi (trois heures).

It is noon (three o'clock).

But: Quelle heure est-ce qui vient de sonner? — C'est cinq heures.

What hour has just struck? — It is five.

c. Observe the use of ce in the following date idioms:

C'est aujourd'hui lundi. Ce sera demain le quatre. To-day is Monday.

To-morrow will be the fourth.

2. A pronoun:

Qui est-ce? — Ce sont eux. Ce sont les leurs. C'est ceci; c'est cela. C'étaient les mêmes. Ce doivent être les miens. Who is it? — It is they.
Those are theirs.
It is this; it is that.
They (those) were the same.
Those must be mine.

3. An infinitive, or an infinitive with de:

Ce serait tout perdre.
Voir c'est croire.
Ce que je crains c'est de l'offenser.

That would be losing everything. Seeing is believing. What I fear is to offend him.

4. A noun sentence:

Est-ce que vous ne le ferez pas? Où est-ce qu'il est? Ce n'est pas qu'il ait peur. Will you not do it?
Where is it that he is?
It is not that he is afraid.

a. The noun sentence may be understood:
Yous partirez, n'est-ce pas? (= You will go

Vous partirez, n'est-ce pas? (= You will go, will you not? n'est-ce pas que vous partirez?)

5. An adverb of quantity:

Combien est-ce? C'a été trop. How much is it? It was too much.

Note. - For agreement of the verb, see § 232, 3.

384. Ce as Real Subject. Ce stands as real subject of être, or of devoir, pouvoir, savoir + être, when the complement of être is:

1. A masculine adjective, an adjective $+\hat{\mathbf{a}} + \mathbf{a}$ infinitive, an infinitive preceded by $\hat{\mathbf{a}}$, an adverb (in all these cases without further syntactical connection; see a, below):

C'est beau (vrai, bien).
Ce doit être (ne saurait être) vrai.
Il est parti, c'est clair.
C'est clair, il est parti.
C'est à désirer.

That (it) is fine (true, well).
That must be (cannot be) true.
He is gone, that is clear.
It is clear, he is gone.
That (it) is to be desired.

La vue est belle! - Oui, c'est beau! The view is fine! - Yes, it is fine!

Où sera-ce?

C'était bien mal à vous.

Where will it (that) be? That was very wrong of you.

a. When followed by de + an infinitive or by a que clause, the regular construction for the above is impersonal il (not ce); so also the parenthetical il est vrai and n'est-il pas vrai? (= n'est-ce pas?), though without syntactical connection:

Il est facile de dire cela.

Il est triste de vous voir ainsi.

Il est clair que j'ai raison.

Il est à désirer que la guerre finisse bientôt. On rit. il est vrai, mais attendez. Il est bien mal à vous de parler ainsi.

It is easy to say that. It is sad to see you thus. It is clear that I am right.

It is to be desired that the war will soon end

They laugh, to be sure, but wait. It is very wrong of you to speak so.

Note. — 1. Colloquially, c'est is pretty freely used instead of il est before de + infinitive or a que clause: C'est facile de faire cela; C'est clair que j'ai raison, etc.

- 2. This use of ce is permissible in the literary style only in expressions of emotion, e.g., C'est heureux (malheureux, beau, triste, étonnant, etc.), c'est à présumer (craindre, regretter, etc.): C'est triste de vous voir; C'est à craindre qu'il ne soit nové.
- 3. The ce construction is obligatory after a few noun phrases of like value. e.g., C'est dommage (pitié, plaisir, justice), etc., C'est pitié de l'entendre.
 - 2. A prepositional phrase, or a conjunction:

C'est pour vous.

C'est pourquoi je suis venu.

C'est comme vous (le) dites.

It (that) is for you.

That is why I came. It is as you say.

385. Ce + a Relative. As antecedent ce + a relative denotes that which, what, which, etc.:

Ce qui m'amuse.

Ce que je dis est vrai.

Ce dont nous parlions.

Ce à quoi je pense.

What (that which) amuses me.

What I sav is true.

What we were speaking of.

What I am thinking of.

He is old, which is a pity.

a. Ce, so used, either immediately precedes the relative, or is, for emphasis, divided from it by être + a predicate substantive:

Ce qu'il veut c'est la gloire.

Il est âgé, ce qui est dommage.

What he desires is glory.

C'est la gloire qu'il veut.

It is glory that he desires.

Note. — This type of construction is widely used to render a predicate substantive emphatic, e.g., C'est ton frère qui le dit; C'est à vous que (= à qui) je parle; C'est mourir que de vivre ainsi; C'est une belle ville que Paris (cf. 397, 2, note 1).

386. Other uses of ce. Apart from its use with être or with a relative, ce is found in a few phrases only, mostly archaic, familiar or jocular:

Ce devint un usage. Tu crains, ce lui dit-il. Sur ce, ie vous quitte. De ce non content.

This (that) became a custom. "You fear," said he to him. And now, I leave you. Not satisfied with this.

a. The parenthetical ce semble may be used only when unconnected (cf. § 384, 1, a), otherwise il semble:

C'est lui, ce me semble, au moins. It's he, it seems to me, at least. But: Il me semble que c'est lui.

- 387. Pleonastic ce. As compared with English, ce is often pleonastic; thus, it is used with être + a logical subject:
 - 1. Regularly, after celui qui and ce qui:

Celle qui l'a dit c'est vous. tendus amis.

The one who said so is you. Ce que je crains ce sont mes pré- What I fear is my would-be friends.

Ce à quoi je pense c'est sa santé. What I think of is his health.

2. Regularly, between infinitives when not negative: Penser, c'est vivre. To think is to live.

But: Végéter (ce) n'est pas vivre.

To vegetate is not to live.

3. Regularly, in inversion with que:

Paris is a beautiful city.
It is a fine city, (is) Paris. C'est une belle ville que Paris.

4. Optionally, in other inversions for emphasis: La guerre (ce) serait la ruine. War would be ruin.

Note. — When the complement of être is an adjective or participle. pleonastic ce may not be used: Ce qui est utile n'est pas toujours juste.

388. Ceci and cela. Ceci = this, the nearer, and cela = that, the more remote, are used to denote something indicated, but not yet named:

Gardez ceci et donnez-moi cela. Keep this and give me that.

Obs.: If the object has been already named, or if the name is fully implied by the context, celui-ci (-l2), etc. must be used.

a. Ceci also refers to what is about to be said, and cela to what has been said:

Réfléchissez bien à ceci. Think well on this

Te ne dis pas davantage, cela suffit. I say no more, that is enough.

b. Ceci (not cela) may have a predicate noun:

Ceci est un secret.

Or: C'est ici un secret (rarer).

This is a secret.

But: C'est là un secret. Cela c'est un secret.

That is a secret.

Note. - Cela is not so divided before même, seul, and its division in negations is optional: Cela seul (même) en est la cause; Cela n'est pas (or ce n'est pas là) une faute.

c. Cela (not ceci) = this before a de clause:

Paris has this advantage. Paris a cela d'avantageux.

d. Cela may be replaced by là after de and par:

De là vient que, etc.

Il faut commencer par là.

From that it comes that, etc.

We must begin with that.

e. Cela is often contracted to ca colloquially:

Ca ne fait rien.

That doesn't matter.

f. Ca is sometimes used familiarly or contemptuously of persons instead of a personal pronoun:

Regardez comme ça mange.

Look how they (etc.) eat.

You (etc.) wish to do as you please.

Note. - Distinguish ca from cà (adverb) and cà! (interjection).

THE INTERROGATIVE PRONOUN

389.

Interrogatives

1. Adjectival forms:

2. Pronominal forms.

SING. SING. PL. quels? | which? m. lequel? lesquels? | which? which f. quelle? quelles? what? etc. f. laquelle? lesquelles? or what one(s)? qui? who? whom? que? what? quoi? what?

Obs.: 1. For the feminine and plural of quel, cf. §§ 337, 1 (2), and 338. 2. Lequel = le + quel, both parts being indected (§§ 316, 389, 1); de, à contract with le, les (duquel, auquel, etc., ef. § 317).

3. Que = qu' before a vowel or h mute (§ 19).

390. Agreement. The adjectival forms agree like ordinary adjectives; the variable pronominal forms agree in gender, but not necessarily in number, with the nouns for which they stand; the invariable qui? assumes the number of the noun or pronoun referred to:

Quels livres avez-vous? Quelle plume avez-vous prise? Quelles sont vos raisons? Laquelle des dames est venue? Qui sonne? Qui sont-elles? Which (what) books have you? Which pen did you take? What are your reasons? Which of the ladies has come? Who rings? Who are they?

391. Quel? Lequel? The adjective quel? = which? what? and the pronoun lequel? = which (one)? what (one)? refer either to persons or things, and stand both in direct and indirect questions:

Quels livres avez-vous?
Dites-moi quel livre il a.
Desquels avez-vous besoin?
Dites-moi lesquels vous avez.
Quelle dame est arrivée?
Je ne sais pas laquelle.
Quelles sont vos raisons?
Quel homme est-ce là?
Auquel des hommes parle-t-il?

Which (what) books have you?
Tell me which (what) book he has.
Which (ones) do you need?
Tell me which (ones) you have.
Which (what) lady has come?
I do not know which (one).
What are your reasons?
What (what kind of) man is that?
To which of the men does he speak?

a. Quel! in exclamations sometimes = what a! what!:

Quel héros! Quels héros!

Quelle belle scène!— Oui, c'est beau!

What a hero! What heroes! What a beautiful scene! — Yes, it is fine.

b. Quel? as predicative adjective often replaces qui? = who?

Quels sont ces gens-là?

Who are those people? (or what kind of people are those?)

Sais-tu quelle est cette dame?

Do you know who that lady is?

Note. — A pleonastic de is commonly used before alternatives after quel? lequel? and other interrogatives, probably caused by case attraction with des deux, often present in such expressions: Lequel (des deux) est le plus habile, de cet homme-ci ou de celui-là; Laquelle est la plus illustre, d'Athènes ou de Rome?

392. Qui? 1. The pronoun qui? = who? whom? is regularly used of persons only, and stands in both direct and indirect questions:

Qui frappe? Qui est là? De qui (à qui) parle-t-il? Qui avez-vous vu? Qui êtes-vous? Dites-moi qui est venu. Who is knocking? Who is there? Of whom (to whom) is he speaking? Whom did you see? Who are you? Tell me who has come.

a. Qui? is sometimes used, though rarely and not necessarily, as subject of a transitive verb in the sense of what?

Qui vous amène de si bonne heure? What brings you so early?

b. Qui? predicatively, is often replaced, especially when feminine or plural, by quel?

Quelle est cette dame? Quels sont-ils? Who is that lady? (What I. is that?) Who are they?

2. Whose? denoting simply ownership = à qui? otherwise generally de qui? sometimes quel? but never dont:

À qui est cette maison-là? De qui êtes-vous fils? Quelle maison a été brûlée?

Whose house is that?
Whose son are you?
Whose (what) house was burnt?

NOTE. — Compare with this the idiom c'est à qui: C'était à qui finirait le premier, It was a strife as to who would finish first.

- 393. Que? Quoi? The form que? = what? is conjunctive, while quoi? = what? is disjunctive; their uses in detail are:
- 1. Que? stands regularly as direct object or as predicate, and in direct question only:

Que vous a-t-il dit? Que cherchez-vous? Que sont-ils devenus? What did he say to you? What are you looking for? What has become of them?

a. Que? alternatively with quoi? may stand with an infinitive in indirect question:

Je ne sais que (quoi) dire.

I know not what to say.

b. Que? and que! sometimes have adverbial force:

Que ne m'avez-vous dit cela? Que vous êtes heureux! Que d'argent perdu! Why did you not tell me that? How happy you are! What a quantity of money lost!

2. What? as subject of a verb is regularly qu'est-ce qui?

Qu'est-ce qui fait ce bruit?

What is making that noise?

a. The form que? may stand as subject of a few intransitive verbs, mostly such as may also be impersonal, but never as subject of a transitive verb:

Que sert de pleurer? Que vous en semble? Ou'est-ce? What is the use of crying? What do you think of it? What is it?

3. Quoi? is used absolutely, i.e., with ellipsis of the verb, and after a preposition:

Il y a du nouveau. — Quoi? Quoi de plus beau que cela? Quoi! vous l'admirez! À quoi pensez-vous? En quoi puis-je vous servir? There is news. — What? What finer than that? What! You admire him! What are you thinking of? In what can I help you?

a. In cases of special emphasis quoi? may be direct object:

Je reçois quoi? — Des lettres.

I receive what? — Letters.

b. With an infinitive, que? or more emphatically, quoi? is used:

Que (quoi) faire? Je ne sais que (quoi) répondre.

What is one to do?

I know not what to answer.

394. Interrogative Locutions. The use of interrogative phrases formed with est-ce, etc., instead of the simple forms is very frequent (cf. §§ 392-3):

Qui est-ce qui chante?
Qui est-ce que vous demandez?
À qui est-ce que vous parliez?
Qu'est-ce que cela prouve?
Qu'est-ce que c'est?
Qu'est-ce que c'est que cela?
De quoi est-ce qu'il parle?

for Qui chante?

" Qui demandez-vous?

" À qui parliez-vous?

" Que prouve cela?

" Qu'est-ce?

" Qu'est-ce que cela?

" De quoi parle-t-il?

THE RELATIVE PRONOUN

395.

Relative Pronouns

qui, who, which, that; whom (after a preposition) que, whom, which, that dont, whose, of whom, of which, etc. où, in which, into which, at which, to which, etc. lequel, m. s. lesquels, m. pl. laquelle, f. s. lesquelles, f. pl. who, whom, which, that quoi, what, which

Obs.: For qu', see § 19.

396. Agreement. A relative pronoun, whether variable or invariable in form, is of the gender, number, and person of its antecedent:

Moi qui étais (vous qui étiez) là. Les lettres que j'ai apportées. Moi qui suis son ami(e). Dieux (vous) qui m'exaucez! C'est nous qui l'avons dit. Je suis celui qui l'ai dit.

I who was (you who were) there. The letters which I have brought. I who am his friend (m. or f.). (Ye) gods who hear me! It is we who have said it. I am the one who has said it.

a. When the antecedent is a predicate noun, or an adjective as such, the relative may agree in person either with this noun or with the subject of the sentence:

voyageons (voyagent). Te suis le seul qui l'aie (ait) dit.

Nous sommes deux moines qui We are two monks who are traveling.

I am the only one who has said it.

b. The relative after un + a plural is either singular or plural, usually according to the sense:

m'a (m'ont) ruiné.

C'est un de mes (des) procès qui It is one of my (of the) lawsuits which has (have) ruined me.

397. Qui, Que. Both qui and que refer to antecedents, of either gender or number, denoting persons or things; their uses in detail are:

1. Qui = who, which, that, serves as subject; qui = whom, of persons only, or things personified, may also be used after a preposition:

La dame qui a chanté.
Les amis qui sont arrivés.
La vache qui beugle.
Les livrés qui ont été perdus.
Les oiseaux qui volent.
Ce qui m'amuse.
Rien qui soit beau.
La tante chez qui je demeure.
Les amis à (de) qui je parlais.
Rochers à qui je me plains.

The lady who (that) has sung.
The friends who (that) have come.
The cow which (that) lows.
The books which have been lost.
The birds which (that) fly.
What (that which) amuses me.
Nothing that is beautiful.
The aunt with whom I live.
The friends to (of) whom I spoke.
Rocks to whom I complain.

a. Qui, without antecedent, sometimes = celui qui (ceux qui, etc.), or, when repeated, = les uns...les autres:

Aimez qui vous aime.
Jouera qui voudra.
Pour qui connaît.
Qui d'un côté, qui de l'autre.

Love him (the one) who loves you. Let those who will play. For any one who knows. Some on one side, some on the other.

b. Similarly, in a few phrases, mostly exclamatory or parenthetical, qui = ce qui:

Voilà qui est étrange! Qui pis est (or ce qui est pis). That is strange! What is worse.

2. Que = whom, which, that, serves regularly as direct object:

Les ami(e)s que j'aime. Le livre (cheval) que j'ai. Les plumes que j'ai achetées. Ce que vous dites. Rien de ce que vous dites. The friends whom (that) I love. The book (horse) which I have. The pens which I have bought. That which you say.

Nothing that you say.

a. Que stands also as predicate nominative (cf. § 295, 1), and as logical subject of an impersonal verb:

Malheureuse que je suis!
Qu'est-ce qu'elle est devenue?
À l'heure qu'il est.
L'homme qu'il vous faut.
Prenez ce qu'il vous faut.

Unhappy woman that I am! What has become of her? At the present hour. The man that you need. Take what you need.

Notes. — 1. The que of emphatic inversions (§ 385, a, n.) is best explained as predicative que: C'est une belle ville que Paris = C'est une belle ville que Paris (est) or C'est une belle ville (ce) que (c'est) Paris; Erreur que tout cela = (C'est) erreur que tout cela (est) or (C'est) erreur (ce) que (c'est) tout cela.

2. The form que is often a relative adverb, not to be confounded in function with the relative proper: Dans le temps que cela arrivait; C'est à vous que je parle (or C'est vous à qui je parle).

398. Dont. The form dont = whose, of whom, of which, etc., has the value of de + a relative; it refers to antecedents, of either gender or number, denoting persons or things (dont is never interrogative):

L'homme dont le fils est mort. Les gens dont je parle. Les plumes dont je me sers. La gloire dont il est avide. Ce dont je me plains. The man whose son is dead.
The people of whom I speak.
The pens which I make use of.
The fame for which he is eager.
That of which I complain.

a. A noun after dont = whose does not omit the article as in English, and must follow its governing verb (cf. § 400, 2):

Le monsieur dont j'ai trouvé la l'abourse.

The gentleman whose purse I found.

b. As compared with d'où (cf. § 399, a), dont has figurative force in expressions referring to extraction, lineage, etc.:

La maison dont il sort.

The family from which he comes.

c. Don't was originally an adverb (L. de + unde), and is often best construed as such:

Le pays dont il est venu.

The country whence he came.

399. Où. The adverb où = where is also used as a relative with the value of dans (à, sur, vers, etc.) + a relative; if preceded by a preposition, où = which, where:

La maison où je loge.
Le siècle où nous vivons.
Le but où il tend.
Les villes par où je suis venu.
L'endroit d'où il vient.

The house in which I lodge.
The age in which we live.
The end towards which he tends.
The cities through which I came.
The place from which he comes.

a. D'où = from which, whence, is usually literal in force:

La maison d'où il sort.

The house out of which he comes.

- 400. Lequel. The form lequel = who, whom, which, that, refers to persons or things, and varies in form to agree with its antecedent; it is chiefly used where qui, que, etc., may not be employed:
- 1. Lequel, being inflected, stands where qui, que, from want of inflection, would be ambiguous, or it serves, owing to its stress, to denote the more remote of two possible antecedents:

La sœur de mon ami laquelle vient d'arriver.

Le fils du rédacteur lequel je viens de voir.

The sister of my friend who has just come.

The son of the editor whom (i.e., the son) I have just seen.

a. Lequel may not be used of persons after en, and it must be used of persons after parmi, entre:

Un homme en qui je crois. Les amis parmi (entre) lesquels. The friends among whom.

A man in whom I believe.

2. When depending on a noun governed by a preposition, whose must be turned by duquel, etc., which must follow the noun (cf. § 398, a):

La dame au fils de laquelle (or The lady to whose son I give de qui) je donne des lecons. Jessons.

Note. - Lequel is used exceptionally as an adjective: J'espère partir demain, auquel cas, etc.: Je viens de toucher mille francs, de laquelle somme je payerai mes dettes.

401. Quoi. 1. The form quoi = what, which, is used without definite antecedent, and stands after a preposition, rarely otherwise:

Voilà de quoi je parlais. Sur quoi il est parti. C'est à quoi je pensais.

Il m'a payé, ce à quoi je ne m'attendais guère.

That is what I was speaking of. Whereupon he went away. That is what I was thinking of. He paid me, which I hardly expected.

a. De quoi + an infinitive, expressed or implied, denotes the means or cause of the action of the infinitive;

Il a de quoi vivre.

Il a de quoi (sc. vivre, etc.).

Donnez-moi de quoi écrire. ,. Il n'y a pas de quoi.

He has enough to live on.

He has means (is well off). Give me something to write with. There is no occasion (don't mention it, etc.).

b. Quoi stands without a preposition in a few expressions:

Quoi faisant.

Un je ne sais quoi de cruel.

(By) doing which.

A certain indefinable cruelty.

2. What = that which is expressed by ce + a relative (cf. § 385):

Je vois ce qui se passe.

Je sais ce que je sais.

Ce dont je me plains.

Ce à quoi je me fiais.

Il est sourd, ce qui est bien dommage. I see what is going on.

I know what I know.

That of which I complain.

What I was trusting to.

He is deaf, which is a great pity.

402. Remarks. 1. The relative pronoun, often omitted in English, is never omitted in French:

Le tableau que j'ai vu là.

Le livre dont je parle est à moi.

The picture (which) I saw there.
The book (which) I speak of is mine.

2. Relative and antecedent should stand as near together as possible:

Il y a de ce livre une édition qui There is an edition of that book se vend, etc.

There is an edition of that book which is sold, etc.

Not: Une édition de ce livre qui, etc.

3. A preposition never ends the relative sentence, as sometimes in English:

Ce à quoi je me fiais.

What I was trusting to.

4. For English forms in -ing = relative clause, see § 287, 3.

Obs.: 1. On often becomes l'on after a vowel sound to avoid hiatus, especially after et, ou, où, que, lorsque, etc., qui, quoi, pourquoi, si, ainsi, aussi, but not usually when a closely following word has initial 1; qu'on almost always becomes que l'on when a closely following word has initial [k] sound.

- 2. For quelqu'un(e), see § 19.
- 3. Note the hyphen of the plural of quelqu'un.
- 3. Forms serving either as adjective or as pronoun:

Obs.: The feminine and plural are like those of adjectives of like ending, except the feminine of nul and the plural of tout.

404. Use of Adjectival Forms. 1. Certain = (a) certain, pl. certain, some, precedes its noun; the use of un in the singular, and of partitive de in the plural, is optional:

- (Un) certain roi de France.
- (De) certaines gens.

- A certain French king.
- Certain (some) people.

a. Certains is exceptionally used as a pronoun:

Certains prétendent, etc.

Some assert, etc.

Note. — Certain, placed after the noun, is an ordinary adjective = sure, trustworthy, positive, etc. (cf. § 352, 4).

- 2. Chaque = each, every, is distributive and singular only: Chaque homme (femme). Each or every man (woman).
- a. Distinguish chaque = every, each, which individualizes, from tout = every, all, which generalizes:

Chaque homme a des passions.

Tout homme a une passion dominante.

Chaque année; tous les ans.

Every (each) man has passions. Every man has (all men have) a ruling passion.

Each year; every year.

3. Différents, Divers = various, several, sundry, divers, are indefinite adjectives only when plural and standing before nouns:

Différentes choses m'ont retenu. Various things detained me.
On a essayé divers moyens. Several methods have been tried.

Note. — With the sense of different, diverse, they are used as ordinary adjectives.

4. Maint, whether singular or plural, $= many \ a$; it is often repeated:

Maint(s) danger(s).

Mainte(s) fois.

En mainte et mainte occasion.

Many a danger.

Many a time.

On many an occasion.

5. Quelque = some; when used of quantity or number, quelque = some, but not much or many, a little, a few, and is of more limited force than the partitive some (§ 322):

Quelques amis sont pires que des ennemis.

J'ai eu quelque difficulté.

Il a quelques amis ici.
Voici les quelques francs qui nous restent.

Some friends are worse than enemies.

I have had some (a little) difficulty. He has some (a few) friends here.

Here are the few francs we have left.

a. Quelque has adverbial force, and is invariable, before numerals (not nouns of number) = about, some:

À quelque dix milles d'ici.

About (some) ten miles from here. But: Ouelques centaines de pas. A few hundred paces.

À cent et quelques pas.

At a little more than 100 paces.

b. Similarly before adjectives or adverbs = however (cf. § 271, 4, b):

Ouelque riches qu'ils soient. Ouelque bien que vous parliez.

However rich they may be. However well you may speak.

Note. — However + adjective is also expressed by tout ... que (usually with the indicative), si...(que) (with the subjunctive), pour ... que (with the subjunctive), e.g., Toutes bonnes qu'elles sont, However good they are: Si bonnes qu'elles soient, However good they are; Si bonnes vos raisons soient-elles, However good your reasons are; Pour bonnes qu'elles soient, However good they are.

c. For the use of $quelque(s) \dots que = whatever$, see § 407.

405. Use of Pronominal Forms. 1. Autrui = others, other people, our neighbor (in general), is rarely used except after a preposition:

Il ne faut pas convoiter les biens We must not covet the goods of d'autrui.

others.

La rigueur envers autrui.

Severity towards others.

Note. — Others is more usually les autres, d'autres (§406, 2, b); regularly so, as subject or direct object.

2. Chacun = each, each one, every one is the pronoun corresponding to the adjective chaque (§ 404, 2):

Chacun d'eux a refusé. Donnez à chacun(e) sa part.

Each (every) one of them refused. Give to each his (her) share.

Des poires à deux sous chacune Pears at two cents each.

(chaque).

a. The possessive form to chacun is regularly son:

Mettez-les chacun(e) à sa place. Put them each in his (her, its) place.

b. Chacun, in apposition to nous, vous, takes, as its possessive, notre. votre:

Parlez chacun(e) à votre tour.

Speak each in your turn.

c. Chacun, in apposition to ils, elles, takes the possessive leur before the direct object: otherwise son or leur:

Elles récitent chacune leur verset (chacune à son or leur tour).

They each recite their verse (each in turn).

d. The reflexive to chacun = every one is se (soi):

Chacun pour soi.

Every one for himself.

3. On = one, some one, we, you, they, people, etc., is used as subject of a verb in the third singular, without specifying any person in particular:

On dit que la reine est malade. A-t-on allumé mon feu? On ne peut pas mêler l'huile avec 1ºean.

They (people) say the queen is ill. Has any one lighted my fire? One (we, you) cannot mix oil with water

a. The on construction often corresponds to an English passive, especially when the agent is not specified:

On a attrapé le larron. On croit que la guerre est finie. On your demande.

The thief has been caught. It is thought the war is over. You are wanted.

b. On may not be replaced by a personal pronoun subject:

On est triste quand on est sans argent.

A man is sad when he is without money.

c. Since on is subject only, the corresponding direct and indirect objects, when required, are borrowed from vous:

Lorsqu'on presse trop un poisson il vous échappe.

When you squeeze a fish too much it escapes you.

d. The reflexive to on is se (soi), and the corresponding possessive is son, whatever be the English equivalent:

On se demande. On perdrait son temps. People ask themselves (wonder). You would lose your time.

e. Although on is invariable, a feminine or plural noun or adjective may relate to it, when the sense is clearly feminine or plural:

On est plus jolie à présent.

She is prettier now.

On est si proches voisins. We are such near neighbors.

f. On may replace a personal pronoun, often with depreciatory force: On y pensera.

I (we) shall see about it.

On se croit bien fin.

You (he, etc.) think yourself very cunning.

4. Personne and rien along with ne + a verb, or when alone, a verb being understood, = nobody, no one, not anybody, etc., and nothing, not anything, respectively:

Personne n'est venu. Je n'ai parlé à personne.

Ne dites rien. Personne ici! — Personne. Ou'a-t-il dit? — Rien. Nobody (no one) has come.

I have spoken to nobody (not spoken to anybody).

Say nothing (do not say anything).

No one here! — No one.

What did he say? — Nothing.

a. If the context contains or implies negation, personne, rien, assume affirmative force (= quelqu'un, quelque chose):

Il n'a rien dit à personne.
Personne n'a jamais rien dit.
Je vous défends de rien dire.
Je crains de parler à personne.
Impossible de rien faire!
Il cessa de rien donner.
Où trouverai-je rien de pareil?
Sans parler à personne.

He said nothing to any one.

Nobody has ever said anything.

I forbid you to say anything.

I fear to speak to anybody.

Impossible to do anything!

He ceased giving anything.

Where shall I find anything like it?

Without speaking to anybody.

b. The above rule does not apply to pleonastic ne, nor to double negations:

Je crains qu'il ne fasse mal à I fear he will hurt somebody. quelqu'un.

Ne revenez pas sans voir quelont come back without seeing somebody.

qu'un. somebody.

Note. — The pronoun personne is masculine (sometimes sylleptically feminine like on, 3, e, above); the noun personne is always feminine (cf. § 303, 1, c).

5. Quelqu'un(e) = somebody, some one, any one, etc., with its plural quelques-un(e)s = some, some people, any, a few, etc., is the pronoun corresponding to the adjective quelque (§ 404, 5):

II y a quelqu'un là. Y a-t-il quelqu'un là? A-t-il quelques-unes des fleurs? Il en reste quelques-unes. Quelqu'une des dames viendra. Quelques-uns le croient. There is somebody there.
Is there any one there?
Has he some (any) of the flowers?
A few of them remain.
Some one of the ladies will come.
Some (people) believe it.

6. Quelque chose = something, anything, and is masculine, though formed from the feminine noun chose:

Quelque chose est promis.

A-t-il dit quelque chose?

A-t-il quelque chose de bon?

Something is promised. Did he say anything? Has he anything good?

406. Adjectival or Pronominal Forms. 1. Aucun, nul, pas un, along with ne + a verb, or when alone, a verb being understood, = no, not any, not one, as adjective, and none, nobody, no one, not one, as pronoun:

Aucun)

Nul > écrivain ne le dit.

No writer says so.

Pas un

Aucun ne le croit.

Je n'en ai vu aucun(e).

Pas un de ses amis ne reste. A-t-il de l'espoir? — Aucun. No one believes it. I saw none of them.

Not one of his friends remains Has he any hope? — None.

a. Aucun, but not nul or pas un, becomes affirmative (= quelque or quelqu'un) when the context is negative (cf. $\S 405, 4, a$):

Sans aucune cause.
Rien pour aucun de nous.

Without any cause. Nothing for any of us.

Gardez-vous de faire aucune faute. Take care not to make any mistake.

b. The plural adjective aucun(e)s may be used, especially before nouns with no singular, or before such as are preferably plural; (d')aucuns = quelques-uns is sometimes found:

Il ne me rend aucuns soins. (D')aucuns le croiraient.

He gives me no care. Some would believe it.

2. Autre = other, is usually preceded in the singular by up or 1':

Another time; other books. Have you another?
Another says the contrary.
The others will help me.

Among other things.

a. Distinguish un autre = another (a different) from encore un = another (an additional):

Donnez-moi une autre plume.

Donnez-moi encore une plume.

Give me another pen.

b. Others, other people, = les autres or d'autres, sometimes autrui (cf. § 405, 1):

Il se méfie toujours des autres. D'autres pensent autrement. He always suspects others. Others think otherwise.

Many others.

Obs.: The d' of d'autres is a partitive sign (cf. § 325, 1, b).

c. Autres is often added familiarly to nous, vous:

Any one but him. From time to time.

Tell that to the marines (familiar).

- e. For l'un... l'autre, les uns... les autres, see § 406, 7, (2).
- 3. Même varies in meaning and form according to its position and function:
- (1) Preceding its noun or as a pronoun, même = same, and nearly always has the article:

La (les) même(s) chose(s). Les miens sont les mêmes.

Donnez-moi des mêmes.

Une même affaire.

Des plantes de la même espèce.

The same thing(s). Mine are the same.

Give me some of the same. One and the same business. Plants of the same species.

Quand même il le dirait. Even if he should say so.

b. Même forms a number of highly idiomatic locutions:

Cela revient au même. Êtes-vous à même de faire cela? Il en est de même de . . . That amounts to the same thing. Are you in a position to do that? It is the same with...

4. Plusieurs = several; it is sometimes used in the sense of beaucoup = many:

Plusieurs hommes (femmes). Apporte plusieurs des plumes. J'en ai plusieurs. Plusieurs l'ont cru. Several men (women).
Bring several of the pens.
I have several of them.
Many (people) believed it.

5. Tel, as adjective, = such, like; un tel = such a; tel, as pronoun, = many a one, he, some, etc.:

De la musique telle quelle.
Votre argent tel quel.

Like father, like son.

Your money intact.

Note. — Such, as adverb, is si or tellement (not tel): Une si belle étoile; Un homme tellement cruel.

6. Tout (singular) = all, every, any, whole, etc.; tous (plural) = all:

Toute ma vie; tous les hommes.

All my (my whole) life; all (the) men.

Tout homme; toute créature. Tous (toutes) sont venu(e)s. Every (any) man; every creature. All have come. C'est tout: de tous côtés. Tout m'effraie.

That is all; on all sides. Everything frightens me.

a. Tout is often adverb = quite, wholly, very, very much, etc., and agrees like an adjective, when immediately preceding a feminine adjective with initial consonant or h aspirate, but is elsewhere invariable:

Elles étaient toutes pâles et tout They were quite pale and very much excited. agitées.

But: Ils étaient tout pâles et tout agités, etc.

Note. - So also, in the compound tout-puissant, e.g., Elle est toutepuissante.

Tout beau: tout doux.

(Pour) tout de bon.

Every month; not at all.

Every other (alternate) day. Both.

Presently (or a little while ago)

Gently (slowly); softly.

- c. For the distinction between tout and chaque see § 404, 2, a; for tout...que = however, see § 404, 5, b, note.
 - 7. Un is used either alone or as correlative to autre:
- (1) Un, as adjective, = a, an (cf. § 320), one, a certain; un, as pronoun, = one:

La maison est d'un côté. Un monsieur A. l'a dit. Une des dames l'a dit. Voici un cravon. — I'en ai un. Les uns sont de cet avis, les autres n'en sont pas.

The house is on one side. A (certain) Mr. A. said so. One of the ladies said so. Here is a pencil. — I have one. Some are of this opinion, (the) others are not.

- a. Un as a pronoun is often preceded by l', especially with a de clause: L'un des consuls est arrivé. One of the consuls has come.
- (2) L'un l'autre, so also the feminine and plural, are combined into various correlative phrases, as follows:

l'un l'autre = each other, one another; pl. ditto l'un et l'autre = both; pl., both, all I'un ou l'autre = either; pl., ditto tive), whatever

2. Pronominal:

Quiconque, whoever

you.

Oui que ... (+ subjunctive of être), whoever que...(+ subjunctive), Ouoi whatever

a. Quelconque takes -s for the plural, and always follows its noun: quiconque is invariable; the other forms are made up from quel, quelque, qui, quoi, + que:

Un (deux) point(s) quelconque(s),

Une raison quelconque.

Ouiconque parle sera puni(e).

Quels que soient (puissent être) vos desseins.

Quelle que fût la loi.

409. Adverbs from Adjectives. Most adjectives become adverbs by the addition of -ment to the feminine singular:

Adj.	ADV.	ADJ.	ADV.
pur,	purement, purely	doux,	doucement, sweetly
strict,	strictement, strictly	fou,	follement, madly
actif,	activement, actively	facile,	facilement, easily
sec,	sèchement, dryly	autre,	autrement, otherwise

a. Adjectives ending in a vowel, other than -e, drop the -e of the feminine on adding -ment:

ADJ. ADV. ADJ. ADV.

poli(e), poliment, politely décidé(e), décidément, decidedly absolu(e), absolument, absolutely etc. etc.

Note.—The omitted e is denoted by a circumflex accent in assidûment, continûment, crûment, (in)dûment, gaîment (better, gaiement), nûment.

b. The following adjectives in -e change e to é on adding -ment:

Adj.	Adv.	Adj.	ADV.

diffus(e),	diffusément	précis(e),	précisément
expresse(e),	expressément	profond(e),	profondément
importun(e),	importunément	profus(e),	profus é ment

d. Adjectives in -ant, -ent (except lent, présent, véhément) assimilate -nt to m and add -ment to the masculine form:

ADJ. ADV. ADJ. ADV.

constant, constamment, constantly prudent, prudemment, prudently élégant, élégamment, elegantly etc. etc.

But: Lentement, slowly; présentement, presently; véhémentement, vehemently.

- e. Gentil gives gentiment, nicely; the adverb to bref is brièvement (from a parallel form), briefly; the adverb to impuni is impunément (probably from L. impune, cf. b, above), with impunity.
- f. The adverbs corresponding to bon, good, and mauvais, bad, are bien, well, and mal, badly. From bon comes regularly bonnement = simply.

- 410. Adjectives as Adverbs. Adjectival forms are not uncommonly used as adverbs, and, as such, are regularly invariable:
- 1. A number of adjectives serve as adverbs in certain fixed expressions:

Cette sottise lui coûte cher. Elles parlent bas (haut).

That folly is costing him dear. They speak low (loud).

Such expressions are:

coûter bon, cost dear tenir bon, stand firm coûter cher, cost dear vendre cher, sell dear voir clair, see clearly arrêter court, stop short sentir bon, smell good filer doux, 'sing small' aller droit, go straight acheter cher, buy dear viser droit, aim straight chanter faux, sing out of coûter gros, cost dear viser haut, aim high chanter juste, sing in tune frapper juste, strike straight sentir mauvais, smell bad écrire serré, write small frapper ferme, strike hard (à) vrai dire, speak truly prouver clair, prove parler ferme, speak firmly etc. etc.

2. An adjective sometimes modifies another adjective:

Des dames haut placées. Un véritable grand homme.

Ladies of high rank. A truly great man.

3. Besides the above, a few adjectival forms serve also as adverbs:

Je l'ai dit exprès. Soudain nous vîmes l'ennemi. I said it purposely. Suddenly we saw the enemy.

Such forms are:

bref, in short exprès, purposely fort, very, hard, loud, etc. juste, exactly, etc.

même, even proche, near (by) soudain, suddenly * tout, quite, very, etc.

tout beau, not so fast tout doux. gently † vite, quickly

- * For the inflection of tout as adverb, see § 406, 6, a.
- † The adverb vitement = quickly, is familiar.
- a. For certain adverbs used adjectivally, see § 358, b.

411. Adverbial Locutions. Phrases with adverbial function are numerous:

Te viendrai tout à l'heure. Venez de bonne heure.

I shall come presently. Come early.

Further examples are:

à bon marché, cheap à côté, near, near by à droite, to the right à jamais, forever à la fois, at once à l'avenir, in future à peine, hardly à peu près, nearly au juste, exactly au moins, at least autre part, elsewhere d'abord, at first d'ailleurs, besides dès lors, since d'ordinaire, usually d'où, whence d'où? whence? du moins, at least en avant, forward en bas, below, down stairs en effet, in fact en haut, above, up stairs là-bas, yonder là-dessus. thereuron nulle part, nowhere plus tôt, sooner quelque part, somewhere tant mieux, so much the tôt ou tard, sooner or later tour à tour, in turn tout à coup, suddenly tout de suite, at once tout d'un coup, all at once

412. Comparison of Adverbs. 1. Adverbs are regularly compared like adjectives (cf. § 345) by the use of plus. moins, aussi; que = than, as:

Plus, moins facilement que Jean. More, less easily than John. Aussi facilement que Jean.

As easily as John.

a. Further examples, illustrating § 345, a, b, c, d, as applied to adverbs:

Il ne marche pas aussi (si) vite. Vite comme un éclair.

Il marche plus vite que je ne pensais.

De plus en plus vite. Plus je le connais (et) moins je l'estime.

He does not walk as (so) fast. As quick as lightning.

He walks faster than I thought.

Faster and faster.

The more I know him the less I esteem him.

b. More than, less than, as adverbs of quantity = plus de, moins de, respectively; they must be carefully distinguished from plus (moins) que = more (less) than in an elliptical sentence:

l'ai plus (moins) de dix francs. En moins d'une demi-heure.

But: Un éléphant mange plus que six chevaux (ne mangent).

I have more (less) than ten francs. In less than half an hour.

An elephant eats more than six horses (eat).

2. The following are irregularly compared:

beaucoup, much plus, more bien, well mieux, better f pis, worse peu, little plus mal, worse moins, less mal, badly, ill

- a. Beaucoup = much (many) or very much (many), and is never modified by another adverb, except pas.
- 3. The superlative is formed by placing le, which is invariable, before the comparative of inequality:

Le plus souvent (moins souvent). (The) most frequently (least f.). She speaks (the) most (best, least). Elle parle le plus (mieux, moins).

413. Position. 1. An adverb regularly stands immediately after its verb, rarely between the subject and the verb:

Charles porte souvent ma canne. On devrait lire lentement. Se levant tard, se couchant tôt. Ils l'ont bien recu.

Charles often carries my cane. One should read slowly. Rising late, going to bed early. They have received him well.

Obs.: Hence the adverb regularly comes between the auxiliary and the participle in compound tenses, except when it is in a stressed position:

Je l'avais rencontré déjà = I had met him already.

a. The adverbs aujourd'hui, hier, demain, autrefois, tôt, tard, ici, là, ailleurs, partout, never come between the auxiliary and the participle:

Il est parti hier. Je l'ai cherché partout. He went away yesterday. I looked for it everywhere.

b. Long adverbs in -ment not uncommonly stand after the past participle:

Il a parlé éloquemment.

He has spoken eloquently.

c. Most adverbs of quantity, such as peu, beaucoup, trop, etc., and a few short adverbs like bien, mal, mieux, etc., as also adverbs of negation, regularly precede the infinitive:

Tu ne devrais pas trop lire.

You should not read too much.

Il ne saurait mieux faire.

He cannot do better.

Il parle de ne pas y aller.

He speaks of not going (there).

d. Interrogative adverbs head the phrase, as in English; other adverbs are not uncommonly placed first for emphasis (cf. § 237, 3):

Quand allez-vous revenir? Aujourd'hui je vais me reposer. Malheureusement tout est perdu.

When are you going to come back? To-day I am going to rest.

Unfortunately all is lest.

2. Adverbs usually precede the nouns, adjectives, adverbs, and phrases modified by them:

Assez de livres, et assez chers. Bien mal à propos.

Books enough, and dear enough. Very unseasonably.

- a. For combien! comme! que! tant! and plus...plus, moins... moins, with adjectives or adverbs, cf. § 350, a.
- 3. Adverbial phrases follow the same rules as adverbs, except that only the shorter ones may usually come between the auxiliary and the verb:

Nous étions à peine partis.

Hardly had we gone.

NEGATION

414. Negation without Verb. Non = no, not, apart from a verb; it is often emphasized by pas, point:

L'avez-vous dit? - Non. Non, non, je n'irai pas. Non content de dire cela. Riche ou non, il ne l'aura pas. A-t-il, oui ou non, du talent? Des idées non moins vastes. Une maison non meublée. Non seulement . . . mais encore.

Did you say it? - No. Vous viendrez? - Non pas (point). You will come? - Certainly not. No, no, I shall not go. Not satisfied with saying that. Rich or not, he shall not have it. Has he talent, yes or no? Ideas not less vast. A house not furnished. Not only ... but also.

- a. For the use of que non, see § 420, 1, a.
- 415. Negation with Verb. 1. Along with a verb. a negation consists regularly of two parts, ne (n', see § 19) together with some other word or words; the principal correlative expressions of this kind are:

```
ne...pas, not ne...aucunement not at ne...rien, nothing ne...point, not ne...nullement \[ all \] ne...ni(...ni) neither ne . . . guère, hardly ne . . . aucun
                                                          ... nor ne . . . jamais, never ne . . . nul
                              no, none
ne . . . plus, no more ne . . . pas un ne...que, only ne...personne, nobody
```

Notes. - 1. Point is usually more emphatic than pas, and is less common in ordinary language.

2. Negation is often denoted by pas, without no, in familiar language: Ai-je pas dit cela? (= Nai-je pas dit cela?)

2. Other forms of less frequent use are:

a. Ne...quelconque = no...whatsoever (at all), ne...qui que ce soit = nobody whatsoever (at all), ne...quoi que ce soit = nothing whatsoever (at all).

Je n'ai dit quoi que ce soit.

I said nothing at all.

b. Ne...brin (lit. blade), or mie (lit. crumb), or goutte (lit. drop), or mot (lit. word) = ne...rien, in certain phrases:

Il n'y en a brin.

There is none of it.

Je n'y entends goutte.

I understand nothing of it.

c. Ne... âme vivante, or homme qui vive, or âme qui vive, etc. = ne... personne:

Il n'y avait âme vivante dans la There was not a living soul in the maison.

d. Ne...de + an expression of time, c.g., la (ma) vie, de huit jours, etc.

Ie ne l'oublierai de ma vie.

I shall not forget it while I live.

416. Position. Ne always precedes the verb, and its conjunctive objects, if any; pas, point and other adverbs immediately follow the verb, and its conjunctive pronouns, if any; indefinites have their usual place.

Je ne le leur ai pas (point) dit.
Je n'en ai guère.
Ne les a-t-il jamais vus?
Je n'y resterai plus.
Il ne le veut nullement.
Il ne prend aucun soin.
Personne ne peut le dire.
Il n'a pas mal du tout.
Je ne l'ai dit à qui que ce soit.

I did not tell them it.
I have hardly any of it.
Did he never see them?
I shall stay there no longer.
He does not wish it at all.
He takes no care.
Nobody can say (it).
He has no pain at all.
I have told it to nobody at all.

a. Pas, point, usually, and plus, often, precede the simple infinitive, and its conjunctive objects; they may precede or follow avoir, être, either when alone or in a compound infinitive:

Il parle de ne pas vous voir. Être ou ne pas être, J'étais fâché de ne vous avoir pas vu (or de ne pas vous avoir vu, or de ne vous pas avoir vu). He speaks of not seeing you.

To be or not to be.

I was sorry not to have seen you.

b. Rien as object is treated as an adverb; it may also precede an infinitive like an adverb:

Il promet de ne rien dire.

He promises to say nothing.

c. The que of ne...que immediately precedes the word it modifies.

Te n'en ai vu que trois.

I saw only three of them. Il n'v a pas qu'eux qui en aient. It is not they only who have some.

d. To denote neither ... nor, ni is placed before each coördinate word, and, when verbs are expressed, ne stands before the auxiliary or other leading verb. When principal verbs are coordinated, ne stands before each of them, while ni also must stand with the last, but may not stand with the first, and is optional with others:

Oui le sait? - Ni lui ni moi. Il n'a ni parents ni amis. Ie ne l'ai ni vu ni entendu. Il ne sait ni lire ni écrire. Je ne veux ni qu'il lise ni qu'il écrive.

Il ne le blâme ni ne le loue. Je ne pouvais, (ni) ne devais, ni ne voulais céder.

Who knows it? - Neither he nor I. He has neither relatives nor friends. I neither saw nor heard it. He can neither read nor write.

I neither wish him to read nor to

He neither blames nor praises it. I neither could, nor should, nor would vield.

417. Ellipsis of the Verb. If the verb be omitted, but understood, ne is also omitted, and the correlative itself denotes negation:

Est-il venu? - Pas encore (= Il n'est pas encore venu). Oui est là? - Personne. Plus de larmes; plus de soucis.

Has he come? — Not yet (= He has not vet come). Who is there? — Nobody. No more tears: no more cares.

a. Pas, when so used, may not stand alone:

Non (pas); pas encore; pas lui; No; not yet; not he (him); not at all; not this evening, etc. pas du tout; pas ce soir, etc.

- 418. Ne alone as Negative. Negation with verbs is expressed by ne alone in certain cases, as follows:
- 1. After que = pourquoi? and usually after que, qui in rhetorical question or exclamation:

Que ne le disiez-vous plus tôt? Que ne ferais-je pour lui? Oui ne voit cela? Why did you not say so sooner? What would I not do for him? Who does not see that?

2. After condition expressed by inversion:

N'eût été la pluie.

Had it not been for the rain.

a. Sometimes also in conditions regularly expressed with si:

Si je ne me trompe (m'abuse). Qui, si ce n'est vous? If I am not mistaken. Who, if not you?

3. In dependent sentences after negation, either fully expressed or implied:

Je n'ai pas (j'ai peu) d'amis qui ne soient les vôtres. Il n'y a rien qu'il ne sache. Non que je ne le craigne. Impossible qu'il ne vienne! Ai-je un ami qui ne soit fidèle? — Non. I have no (I have few) friends who are not yours.

There is nothing he does not know.

Not that I do not fear him.

Impossible that he will not come!

-je un ami qui ne soit fidèle? — Have I one friend who is not faith-Non. ful? — No.

a. More obscure cases of implied negation are prendre garde que used interrogatively:

Prenez garde qu'il ne tombe.

Gardez qu'il ne sorte.

À quoi tient-il qu'on ne fasse cela?

Take care he does not fall.

Take care he does not go out.

What is the cause of that not being done?

4. Sometimes with savoir, bouger, and with pouvoir, oser, cesser + an infinitive, expressed or implied:

take care that not, etc., and such expressions as il tient = it depends on,

Je ne sais (pas).
Ne bougez (pas) de là.
Je ne puis (pas) répondre.
Il n'oserait (pas) le dire.
Elle ne cesse (pas) de pleurer.

I do not know.

Do not stir from there.

I cannot answer.

He would not dare to say so.

She does not cease weeping.

a. Always ne alone in je ne saurais and je ne sais quoi:

Je ne saurais vous le dire. Ne sauriez-vous m'aider? Un je ne sais quoi de terrible. I cannot tell you.

Can you not help me?

Something indefinably terrible.

5. In a few set expressions, such as:

N'importe; n'avoir garde.

Ne vous en déplaise.

N'avoir que faire de.

Il n'est pire eau que l'eau qui dort (proverb).

It does not matter: not to care.

By your leave.

To have no use (whatever) for.

Still waters run deep.

419. Pleonastic ne. In a que clause ne is often pleonastic, as compared with English; thus, ne stands:

1. After empêcher = prevent, éviter = avoid, à moins que = unless, or que so used:

Empêchez qu'il ne sorte.

J'évite qu'on ne me voie.

À moins que je ne sois retenu.

Prevent him from going out.

I avoid being seen. Unless I be detained.

a. This ne is often omitted after empêcher and éviter, after empêcher mostly when negative or interrogative.

b. Ne may also stand after avant que:

Avant qu'il (ne) parte.

Before he goes away.

2. After expressions of fearing, such as craindre, redouter, etc., avoir peur, etc., when not negative, or when negation is not implied by interrogation expecting negative answer, or by condition:

Te crains qu'il ne vienne.

I fear he will come.

Craignez-vous qu'il ne vienne? Do you fear he will come?

But: Je ne crains pas qu'il vienne. Sans craindre qu'il vienne. Craignez-vous qu'il vienne? - Non. Si je craignais qu'il vînt.

a. What it is, or is not, feared will not happen, has the full negation ne ... pas in the que clause:

Je crains qu'il ne vienne pas.

I fear he will not come.

Te ne crains pas qu'il ne vienne pas. I do not fear he will not come.

b. Negation and interrogation or condition neutralize each other, and ne stands:

vienne?

Quand même je ne craindrais pas qu'il ne vînt.

Ne craignez-vous pas qu'il ne Do you not fear he will come?

Si je ne craignais (pas) qu'il ne vînt. If I did not fear he would come. Even though I did not fear he would come.

3. With a finite verb in the second member of a comparison of inequality, when the first member is not negative, or does not imply negation as above:

Il est plus riche qu'il ne l'était. Est-il plus riche qu'il ne l'était? Il gagne moins qu'il n'espérait.

He is richer than he was. Is he richer than he was? He earns less than he hoped.

But: Il n'est pas plus riche qu'il l'était; est-il plus riche qu'il l'était? — Non.

a. A negative interrogation implies affirmation, and ne stands: N'est-il pas plus riche qu'il ne Is he not richer than he was? l'était?

Note. - Autre, autrement, plutôt, plus tôt, similarly take ne: Il est tout autre que je ne pensais.

4. Usually after expressions of doubt, denial, such as douter, nier, disconvenir, etc., often désespérer, when negative, or when negation is implied as above:

USE OF CERTAIN ADVERBS

- 420. Distinctions. The following are especially liable to be confounded in use:
- 1. Oui, Si. Yes in affirmation or assent is oui; yes is usually si in contradiction, in correction, in dissent:

Venez. — Oui, oui, i'v vais.

Il ne s'en va pas. — Si, monsieur, il s'en va. Il ne s'en va pas? - Mais si. Je n'irai pas. — Si, si, venez.

L'avez-vous dit? — Oui, monsieur. Did vou say it? — Yes, sir. Come. — Yes, yes, I shall go.

> He is not going. — Yes, (sir), he is (going).

> He is not going? — Yes, certainly. I shall not go. — Yes, ves, come.

Note. - The use of si, as also of the intensive si fait, etc., though very common, is classed as familiar by the Académie; it is often avoided by pardon, etc., or other expressions: Il ne va pas. — Pardon, monsieur (il va).

a. Oui, si, and non are often preceded by que, really with ellipsis of a whole que clause, and are then variously translated by ues. so. no, not, etc., or by a clause:

Te dis que oui (non). Te crois que oui (non). Vous ne l'avez pas? - Oh! que si. Le fera-t-il? - Je crois que oui.

Te dis que non. Peut-être que non.

que vous.

I sav ves (no). I think so (not).

You haven't it? - Oh ves! Will he do it? - I think he will.

I say it is not so.

Perhaps not.

2. Autant, Tant. As much (many) = autant; so much (many) =tant:

Te gagne autant que vous.

Il but tant qu'il en mourut.

l'ai tant d'amis; j'en ai autant

I earn as much as you.

He drank so much that he died from it.

I have so many friends; I have as many as you.

3. Plus, Davantage. Plus is used in all senses of more, most (see below): davantage (strengthened sometimes by bien = much, encore = still) = more, is regularly used only absolutely, and usually stands at the end of its clause:

N'en parle pas davantage. N'en parle plus.

Say no more about it.

Ne restez pas davantage.

Do not remain any longer. Ne restez plus.

Cela me plaît encore davantage

That pleases me still more.

(plus).

Je suis riche; il l'est bien davan- I am rich; he is much more so. tage (plus).

But only: J'en ai plus que lui; il est plus habile; plus de dix francs; c'est ce qui le flatte le plus, etc.

4. Ne...que, Seulement. Seulement must be used, (1) when no verb is present, (2) when only refers to the subject, (3) or to the verb, (4) or to a que clause, and (5) it may be used to strengthen a ne... que; otherwise only = ne... que or seulement:

Seulement les braves.

Only the brave.

Seulement mon frère le sait.

Only my brother knows it.

Écoutez seulement.

Only listen.

Il dit seulement qu'il viendrait.

He only said he should come.

He has only to come.

But: Nous ne serons que trois (or trois seulement); je ne veux que voir son père (or je veux seulement voir son père), etc.

a. Only, referring to the subject, may be turned also by il n'y a que, il n'y a pas que:

viennent pas.

Il n'y a que les morts qui ne re- The dead only do not come back.

Il n'y a pas qu'elles qui le sachent. It is not only they who know.

50	cinquante	[sɛ̃kɑ̃:t]	1001	mille un	[mil@]
60	soixante	[swasa:t]	2000	deux mille	[dømil]

Nouns of Number: $1,000,000 = un \ million \ [\tilde{\alpha} \ milj\tilde{a}]; \ 2,000,000 = deux \ millions \ [dø \ milj\tilde{a}]; \ 1,000,000,000 = un \ milliard \ [\tilde{\alpha} \ miljar].$

Observe: 1. The hyphen unites together compound numerals under 100, except where et occurs. 2. Et stands regularly in 21, 31, 41, 51, 61, 71, omitted in 81, and elsewhere.

Notes on Pronunciation: 1. The final consonant of 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 17, 18, 19, is silent before initial consonant or h aspirate of a word multiplied by them, not elsewhere: Cinq livres [sē livr], but le cinq mai [lə sēːk mɛ]. 2. No elision or liaison occurs before huit, onze: Le huit [lə qit]; les huit livres [le qi livr]; le onze [lə ɔ̄ːz]; les onze francs [le ɔ̄:z frã]. 3. The t is sounded in vingt, in 21, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, is sounded with the d in 22, is silent from 81 to 99, is silent in cent un, deux cent un, etc.

a. Un (f. une) is the only cardinal which varies for gender:

Une (deux, trois, etc.) plume(s). Vingt et une vaches.

One (two, three, etc.) pen(s). Twenty-one cows.

b. Cardinals are invariable for number, except that -s is added to quatre-vingt and the multiples of cent, but only when immediately preceding a noun, or an adjective + a noun, or when they themselves serve as nouns of number:

Quatre-vingts francs.
Trois cents (bonnes) plumes.
Deux cents millions de francs.
Trois cents hommes.
Les cing cents.

Eighty francs.
Three hundred (good) pens.
Two hundred million francs.
Three hundred men.
The five hundreds.

But: Trois cent un francs; les cent hommes engagés; quatre-vingtune plumes; deux cent mille; trois mille milles (miles), etc.

N.B. — They are not nouns of number in dates (c. below) or when used as ordinals (§ 427): L'an quatre cent; page deux cent; page quatre-vingt.

c. The form mil (not mille) is used in dates of the Christian era from 1001 to 1999:

En mil huit cent quatre-vingt- In eighteen hundred and ninety-onze. one.

(En) l'an mil six. (In) the year 1006.

But: L'an mille (sometimes mil); l'an deux mille trois cent; l'an mille cent du monde, etc.

d. From 1100 onward dates are often expressed by hundreds, as so frequently in English:

Onze cent(s); treize cent(s). Eleven hundred; thirteen hundred.

Ouinze cent cinquante. Fifteen hundred and fifty.

e. A (or one) hundred = cent; a (or one) thousand = mille:

Mille soldats.

A (one) thousand soldiers.

Note. — Septante = 70, octante = 80, nonante = 90, six-vingt(s) = 120, and quinze-vingt(s) = 300, are now obsolete in the literary language, although sometimes heard in certain French-speaking regions.

422. Ordinal Numerals. The ordinal numerals denote order or place in a series relatively to the first; they are formed, from 'third' up, by adding -ième to the last consonant of the corresponding cardinal, cinq adding u, and f of neuf becoming v before -ième:

1st	premier	[prəmje]	7th	septième	[setjem]
2nd {	second	[səgɔ̃]	8th	huitième	[qitjem]
ZHU	deuxième	[døzjem]	9th	neu v ième	[nœvjem]
3rd	troisième	[trwazjem]	10th	dixième	[dizjem]
4th	quatrième	[katriem]	11th	onzième	[5zjem]
5th	cinquième	[sēkjem]	21st	vingt et unième	[vēteynjem]
6th	sixième	[sizjem]	22nd	vingt-deuxième	[větdøzjem]

Notes. — 1. Besides the ordinary forms, tiers (f. tierce) = third, quart(e) = fourth, are used in a few expressions and in fractions: Le tiers état, The commoners; En maison tierce, In the house of a third party; Une fièvre quarte, A quartan ague.

2. Quint = fifth is used only in Charles-Quint, Charles V (the Emperor); Sixte-Quint, Sixtus V (the Pope).

a. Ordinals are like ordinary adjectives in inflection and agreement, and regularly precede the noun:

La (les) première(s) maison(s). The Nous sommes arrivés les premiers.

The first house(s).
We arrived first

b. Deuxième instead of second is more usually employed in a series of more than two, and always in compounds:

Le second volume.

The second volume (of two).

The second volume (of three, etc.).

La cent deuxième fois.

The hundred and second time.

423. Collectives. The following nouns are used with collective force:

un(e) couple, a couple (two) une paire, a pair une huitaine, about eight une dixaine, about ten une douzaine, a dozen une quinzaine, about fifteen, a fortnight une vingtaine, about twenty, a score une trentaine, about thirty une quarantaine, about forty, quarantine une cinquantaine, about fifty une soixantaine, about sixty une centaine, about a hundred un cent, a hundred un millier, (about) a thousand un million, a million un milliard, a billion, etc.

a. They take -s in the plural, and have the construction of ordinary nouns:

Il y a une centaine d'élèves. Il y en a deux cents. Des milliers de gens.

Deux millions de francs.

There are about 100 pupils.

There are two hundred of them.

Thousands of people.

Thousands of people.

Two million(s of) francs.

424. Fractions. The numerator is regularly denoted by a cardinal and the denominator by an ordinal; $half = moiti\hat{e}$, f., as a noun, and demi as an adjective or a noun:

un demi une moitié deux demis un quart trois quarts un cinquième

 $\frac{8}{16}$ trois seizièmes $\frac{7}{100}$ sept centièmes $\frac{1}{101}$ dix cent unièmes

un tiers deux tiers

‡ un septième ‡ un onzième 11 onze millièmes etc.

a. Demi, before its noun, is invariable and joined by a hyphen, but agrees elsewhere; as a noun, demi is hardly used, except in arithmetical calculations; see also § 429:

Une demi-heure; une heure et demie.

Trois quarts d'heure. Quatre demis = deux.

La moitié de la somme.

Half an hour; an hour and a half or half past one.

Three quarters of an hour.

Four halves = two. Half the sum.

b. The definite article is required before fractions followed by de + a noun when the noun is determined by the definite article, a possessive, or a demonstrative, and similarly for pronominal substitutes for such constructions:

La moitié du temps.

Half the time.

Les trois quarts de ces (ses) biens. I'en prends les cinq sixièmes.

Three-fourths of those (his) goods. I take five-sixths of them.

As nouns, le double, the double, etc.:

He sees double.

2. Once, twice, three times, etc. = une fois, deux fois, trois fois, etc.:

Dix fois dix font cent.

Ten times ten make a hundred.

Deux fois autant (plus). Twice as much.

426. Numeral Adverbs. They are formed from the ordinals by -ment, according to rule (cf. § 409): troisièmement, thirdly premièrement, first, firstly secondement

etc. etc.

secondly deuxièmement

a. Substitutes for them, of very frequent use, are: d'abord = at first. puis = then, after that, ensuite = then, next, en premier lieu = in the first place, en second lieu, etc. = in the second place, etc.; or the Latin adverb forms primo, secundo, tertio, etc., abbreviated to 1°, 2°, 3°. are used.

REMARKS ON THE USE OF NUMERALS

427. Cardinals and Ordinals. 1. Premier = first is the only ordinal used to denote the day of the month or the numerical title of a ruler; otherwise, cardinals are employed:

2. Que often replaces another conjunction; when so used, it takes the same construction as the conjunction for which it stands, except that que instead of $\mathbf{si} = if$ always requires the subjunctive:

Quand vous aurez fini, et que vous aurez le temps.

When you have finished, and (when you) have time.

Come that I may see you.

Venez que (= afin que, pour que) je vous voie.

If you come to-morrow, and (if you) have time.

Si vous venez demain, et que vous ayez le temps.

Quand (or lorsque) je l'ai vu.
Nous partirons lorsque (or quand)
la lettre arrivera.

When did he come? Tell me when he came. When I saw him.

Whilst you are here.

The father works, while the son does nothing.

3. Depuis que, Puisque. Depuis que denotes time; puisque denotes cause assigned:

Napoleon, the greatest general of modern times, was born at Ajaccio on the 15th of August, 1769. At the age of ten he was sent to the military school at Brienne, where he remained more than five years. At the feasts, in those days, everybody used to sing 6 in turn to 7 amuse the company, but Cædmon used to leave 6 the table before the harp was given 8 to him. One evening, when he had done thus, he went to the stable and lay down, after having 9 cared for the cattle, because, you must know, he was only a farm servant in the monastery at Whitby. As he slept, 10 some one appeared to him, and said, "Cædmon, sing a song to me." "I cannot "sing," he replied, "and that is why I left the feast." "Nevertheless," was the answer. "vou must sing to me." "Well, then," asked Cædmon, "what shall I sing?" The other replied, "Sing the beginning of created things."12 Thereupon he made some verses, which he still remembered when he awoke. "No, it belongs to me," exclaimed the other, "for it was 1 I 2 who picked it up." Thereupon there 3 arose between them a violent quarrel. "I am going to make peace 4 between you," said to them a third boy, who was passing at that moment. The latter placed himself between the two claimants, opened the walnut, and pronounced this sentence: "One of the shells belongs to him 5 who was the first to see the walnut; the other to him 6 who picked it up; as to the kernel, I keep it for the costs of the court. That's how lawsuits 4 generally end," added he, laughing.

Many years ago 1 a celebrated 2 physician who was very fond of animals lived in the city of Paris. One day a friend of his 3 brought to his house a favorite 2 dog, whose leg had been broken, and asked him if he could do anything for the poor creature. The kind doctor examined the wounded 4 animal. and, prescribing a treatment for him, soon cured him, and received the warm thanks of his friend, who set a very high value upon his dog. Not very long afterwards, the doctor was in his room busy studying.5 He thought 6 he heard a noise at the door, as if some animal was scratching in order to be let 7 in. For some time he paid no attention to the noise, but continued studying.8 At last, however, he rose and opened the door. To his great astonishment he saw enter the dog which he had cured, and with him another dog. The latter also had a broken 4 leg, and was able to move only with much difficulty. The dog which the surgeon had cured had brought his friend to his benefactor, in order that he, too, might be 9 healed; and he made the doctor 10 understand that this was what he wanted.

There was once a cat who was a ¹ great enemy of the rats. He had eaten a great many,² and they were much afraid of him. So the chiefs of the rats called a meeting to ³ discuss what they should do to ³ rid themselves of him. A great many plans were proposed, but after a little discussion they were all abandoned. At last a young rat, who thought himself very clever, rose and said: "Do not despair, my friends, I have not yet proposed a plan. A splendid idea occurs to me; I know what we can do. We can, if we are economical, soon save enough money to ³ buy a little bell. This we can attach to the neck of our old enemy, and, if he approaches, we can ⁴ flee to (dans) a place of safety."

The young rats all applauded the idea, but one of the old [ones], who up to this time had said nothing, gravely ⁵ asked the one who had made the speech if he would promise to put the bell on the cat. The young rat blushed, and said he would think of it.⁶

The meeting broke up shortly after, and the rats dispersed without doing anything.⁷

Long ago ¹ the frogs, tired of having ² a republic, resolved to ³ ask Jupiter to send them a king. Jupiter did not receive their petition with much favor but, as they seemed really to ⁴ desire one, he thought (that) it would be better to please ⁵ them. So, one fine day, when they were all expecting ⁶ their king, a great log fell from the sky into the pond where they were. ⁶ They were very much afraid of the noise ⁷ it made, and they took refuge in holes and in the mud at the bottom of the pond. Little by little, however, they approached ⁸ their king to ⁹ get a good look at him, and, seeing that he was so quiet, they became more bold, and finally leaped on him, and treated him with great familiarity (= very familiarly). Then they complained again to Jupiter saying that the king he had sent was not worthy of their respect, and that they desired another, who would show 10 more vigor. In order to please them, Jupiter sent them this time a stork, who immediately began to devour them with much avidity. They complained again, but Jupiter told them that, since 11 they had desired a king, they would be forced to submit quietly to the one 12 he had sent.

The two youngest of my children were already in bed and asleep, the third had 1 gone out, but at my return I found him sitting beside my gate, weeping 2 very sore. I asked him the reason. "Father," 3 said he, "I took this morning from 4 my mother, without her knowing 5 it, one of those three apples you brought her, and I kept 6 it a long while; but, as I was playing some time ago 7 with my little brother in the street, a slave that went 8 by snatched it out of my hands, and carried it off; I ran after him asking for it, and, besides, told him that it belonged to my mother, who was ill, and that you had taken a fortnight's journey to fetch it; but all in vain, he would 9 not give it back. And because I still followed him, crying out, he stopped and beat me, and then ran away as fast as he could, from one street to another, till at length I lost sight of him. I have since then been walking outside the town, expecting your return, to pray you, dear father, not to tell my mother [of] it, lest it (cela) should make her worse." And when he had 10 said these words, he began weeping again more bitterly than ever.

A celebrated Italian 1 painter had told his pupils to 2 ask the name of any (tout) person who might come 3 to his house during his absence in the city. One day three gentlemen came to 4 see the painter, and the latter was not at home. One of the pupils, whose name was John, opened the door for them, 5 said that his master was not in, and let them depart without asking their names. When the master returned and 6 heard of the three gentlemen, he asked 7 John who they were. John could say nothing but, "I do not know, sir." The painter got angry, but John, with a few strokes of his pencil, drew (faire) the portrait of the three, and gave it to his master, who immediately 8 recognized them. The artist admired the skill of the young man so much that he took the drawing, and kept it afterwards among his most precious possessions. It is needless to 9 add that he pardoned the pupil. A man (celui) who would ¹ have friends must show himself friendly. A man (homme) was passing the night at (dans) an inn. He had just left a town where he had spent several years. The landlord asked ² him why he had left the (cet) place. He replied, "Because my neighbors were so disagreeable and disobliging that one could not live with them." The landlord replied, "You will find exactly the same sort of neighbors where you are going." The following day, another traveler came from the same place. He told the landlord that he was obliged to leave the place where he had been living, and that it caused him great pain to part with his neighbors, who had been so kind and obliging. The landlord encouraged him by telling ³ him that he would find exactly the same sort of neighbors where he was going.

When I was ¹ at school, I was ¹ often very idle. Even in [the] class I used to play ¹ with boys as idle as myself. We used to try 1 to hide this from 2 our master, but one day he caught 3 us cleverly.

"You must not be idle," said he. "You must not raise your 4 eyes from your books. You do not know what you lose by idleness. Study while you are young; you will not be able to study when you are 6 old. If any one sees another boy who is not studying, let him tell me." 7

"Now," said I to myself, "there is Fred Smith; I do not like him. If I see that he is not studying, I shall tell." 7

Soon after, I saw Fred Smith looking 8 out of the window, and I told the master what I had seen. "Indeed!" said he, "how do you know he was idle?" "If you please, sir," said I, "I saw 9 him." "O you saw 9 him, and where were your eves when you saw 9 him?"

I saw the other boys laugh, and I was ashamed, for the master smiled, and said it was a good lesson for me.

The princes of Europe 1 have found out a manner of rewarding 2 their subjects who have behaved well, by presenting 3 them [with] about two yards of blue 4 ribbon, which is worn 5 on the shoulder. Those who are honored with this mark of distinction are called knights, and the king himself is always at the head of the order. This is a cheap method of recompensing 2 the most important services; and it is very fortunate for kings 6 that their subjects are 7 satisfied with such 8 trifling rewards. Should 9 a nobleman lose his leg in a battle, the king presents him with two yards of ribbon, and he is recompensed for the loss of his leg. Should 9 an ambassador spend all his fortune in 10 supporting the honor of his country abroad, the king presents him with two yards of ribbon, which is considered 5 the equivalent of his estate. In short, as long as a European king has a yard or two of blue or green ribbon, he will not lack statesmen, generals, and soldiers.

At a time when ancient art was attracting so much attention in Italy that modern art 1 was being neglected,2 Michael Angelo had resort to a stratagem in order to teach the critics the folly of judging such things according to fashion 1 or reputation.1 He made a statue which represented 3 a beautiful girl (jeune fille) asleep,4 and, breaking off an arm, buried the statue in a place where excavations were being made.2 It was soon found, and was lauded by critics 1 and by the public as a valuable relic of antiquity.1 When Michael Angelo thought the time opportune, he produced the broken arm, and, to the great mortification of the critics, revealed himself as the sculptor.
